BARBER COMPANY GETS TWO PAVING CONTRACTS

To the Barber Asphalt Paving company has been awarded the contracts for the paving of Sixth street, from Morrison to Yamhill, and of Oak street, from Second to Third.

This was done by the street committee of the executive board because it was believed a lower bid on both jobs was fictitious. The Barber company bid $1,515 on Oak street, while a mysterious individual who signed "P. O. Solon" to his bid offered to do the work for $1,232.20. At the meeting of the various city creamery butter manufacturers of this city today it was decided not to advance the price of butter beyond $5 cents a pound at retail and $6 cents a pound wholesale for at least two weeks. It is the claim of the creamery men that the advance of 5 cents a roll quoted by another creamery was not justified at this time owing to the heavier supplies of cream. The butter men say that if any change should occur prices should be lower. The meeting today was attended by all creameries except the one which made the advance.

Chicago. Oct. 12.—Under brighter akies with the air less chilly and with appetites whetted for a greater struggle than the previous games Chicago fandom and its many followers from outside of the city gathered again this afternoon for the battle between the White Sox and Cubs. On their form ahowing or yesterday the White Sox ruled as favorites, but the supporters of the Nationals were as firm as ever and the betting ruled even.

The ovations tendered the players as they went upon the field today was as enthusiastic as that given on the opening day of the series. Robe and Walsh were the favorites today and when they appeared on the diamond they were cheered again and again. For a general utility man, who has been put in the games as a substitute. Robe has made good and then some more and that Chicago fandom appreciates his work there can be no question.

If was Robe who won the first game for the White Sox and then again yesterday he turned the trick by combing one of Preister's twisters when three were on bases. It is all Robe in this town and if that young man wants any-ming he can have it from the followers of the White Sox. "Pop" Anson pever had the popularity piled up around him like young Robe has today and yet "Pop" is still, a favorite. Walsh's great pitching of yesterday has also put him on the pinnacle of fams, and, while the was out in a uniform and went through a warming up at the same time receiving the plaudit of the crowd.

The teams went on the field at 1:30 o'clock for practice.

George Davis, who has been out of the game en account of sickness, warmed up with the White Sox. While he was welcomed the crowd made it plain that they desired to have Rohe continue in the game. The management, however, wanted the services of both, therefore Davis was put at short. Bobs to his place at third, Tannehill, who played short yesterday, took the bench. Hahn, who had his noce broken yesterday with a pitched ball, was on hand with his nose covered with plasters. Prom the start it was a pitcher's battie and in the beginning promised to be even a greater struggle than the game yesterday. For six innings the teams battled without being able to force a the Cubs scored their first and only

Steinfield ascrificed Altrock to Domahue and Tinker laid down a sacrifice by the same route, which placed Chance on third. It was then up to Evers and he combed a nice single, tallying Chance. Evers tried to stretch his hit into a double and got flagged at second, Sullivan to Davis.

Neither side scored in the sighth and the Cubs went out in one, two, three order in the alphth.

With one run against them the White Sox cutered the ninth liming. The crowd rooted, maddened by conflicting hopes. White Sox fook the bat quits settled down until one could hear a pin drop as the first ball was sent toward the plate. Score nothing.
