

WAS NEARLY LOST ON WAY OUT

French Bark La Tour d'Auvergne Reports Narrow Escape Off Cape Horn.

FRENCH WINDJAMMERS REACH PORT EN MASSE

Bark Europe Arrives as Usual Closely Followed by a Quintette of Sailing Vessels—Le Perouse Among the Latest Arrivals.

The French bark La Tour d'Auvergne arrived up this morning and dropped anchor in the lower harbor, thereby completing one of the roughest voyages ever recorded from Europe to this part of the world.

Many times the sea reared up so terrifically that those on board the Frenchman thought she would crush under their ponderous weight, but she managed to shake them off and emerged without being strained or damaged.

The bark will probably remain in the stream until Monday, when she will be shifted to Columbia dock No. 1, where the cargo will be discharged.

TO LOAD WHEAT HERE

French Bark Bayard Taken by Northwestern Warehouse Company.

The Northwestern Warehouse company today chartered the French bark Bayard to load wheat at this port for Europe.

The Bayard should arrive here during the latter part of this month so as to be in time for the winter loading.

It was reported this morning that the British ship Waverley left Talcahuano for this port October 5 in ballast.

HAS DREAMS OF GOLD

Amiable Frenchman Makes Long Trip to Get Rich Quick.

R. B. Debackee, a Frenchman, came to Portland yesterday to go to the Klondike to dig gold with both hands.

the yellow metal out of a hole where the ground costs nothing and where everybody is his own boss.

Debackee arrived here Thursday night on the French bark Jacobson, which arrived from Dunkirk, France, after a tedious and sensational voyage of 185 days.

Mr. Debackee is as polite as the average Parisian and soon gained the friendship of the number of waterfront men who had occasion to visit the ship.

WITH VALUABLE CARGO

Portland-Astoria liner Aragonia sails tomorrow afternoon for Orient.

The Portland-Astoria liner Aragonia, Captain Ewald, will sail tomorrow at 2 o'clock from the flour mills with one of the largest and most valuable cargoes ever set afloat on one of the regular lines between this port and the Orient.

The Aragonia will carry 54,225 barrels of flour, valued at $216,900. This in addition to the other cargo will bring the total value of the freight to $257,000, a little more than a quarter of a million dollars.

The miscellaneous cargo of the liner consists of 44,238 feet of lumber, news paper and a lot of canned goods, the total value of which, according to the manifest filed at the custom house this afternoon, is $19,128.

WILL INVESTIGATE FIRST

Colonel Rosenthal Says Harbor Will Be Preserved for Commerce.

Colonel E. W. Rosenthal, United States engineer, stated this morning that no action has yet been taken in reference to the request for the extension of the harbor lines between the Burnside and steel bridges, but it will be given immediate attention when laid before him.

JAPANESE ARMY TO BE GREATLY INCREASED

(Special Service.) Tokyo, Oct. 12.—It is asserted in well-informed circles that the military and other authorities concerned have decided to increase the army to a total of 20 divisions exclusive of the Imperial guard.

It is planned to effect the increase without adding to the total expenditure of various expedients in the line of greater economy. The army as at present constituted contains, besides the Imperial guard and gendarmes, 13 divisions, each containing 10,745 men and officers. The addition of eight new divisions means that the Japanese army will be increased by about 85,000 men.

AT THE THEATRES.

Jane Corcoran at the Hellig. Tonight and tomorrow night at the Hellig Theatre the brilliant young actress, Jane Corcoran, will present the delightful comedy, "The Freedom of Swains." Miss Corcoran is supported by James M. Brophy and a most capable company of players.

Seat Sale Tomorrow for H. Henry. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the advance sale of seats will open for H. Henry's minstrel, which comes to the Hellig Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, October 16 and 17, with a bargain-price matinee Wednesday. Every seat is entirely new and the scenery and electrical effects alone occupy an entire car in transportation.

Early Curtain for "Parsifal." The advance seat sale for the grand spectacular scenic production of Wagner's "Parsifal" will open next Tuesday morning, October 16, at the box office of the Hellig Theatre. This wonderful mystic drama, will be the attraction of the season, will be presented, Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, October 19, 20, 21. The entire performance is given in one sitting, but so as to obviate the necessity of the play lasting till too late an hour the first act, begins promptly at 7:45 p. m. The practice of giving the warning of commencement with the trumpeters is, however, adhered to. Late comers will be obliged to remain standing till the end of the first act, as the orchestra and chorus make it impossible for the others to show them to their seats.

Next Week at the Baker. Beginning tomorrow matinee the bill at the Baker will be "Lady Huntworth's Experiment." This happy comedy won universal praise in New York and London and in the hands of the Baker company will receive a brilliant production. William Hills will interpret a role peculiarly adapted to his ability. All the favorites will be in the cast.

"The Gay Lord Quex." Tonight is the last chance to see the Baker great company's elaborate production of "The Gay Lord Quex," in which Lillian Lawrence, Richard Thornton and Donald Douglas are meeting with the greatest favor this week. "The Gay Lord Quex" is said to be the best thing the Baker company has done this season, and the scenic part of the production is almost ideal.

"The Deserter." "The Deserter," which has been playing to capacity three times each day at the Lyric this week, will be given tonight and tomorrow for the final times. It is a military drama with patriotism rampant in every act—a patriotism which finds echo in the hearts of an admiring audience.

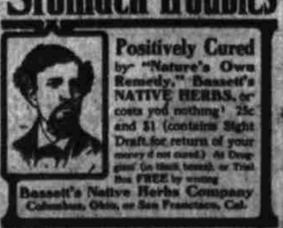

At the Star. "That Girl from Texas" will be repeated today and tomorrow for the last time at the Star. It is a comedy-drama and one of the best offerings the Allen company has given. It contains exceptional opportunities for Miss Vera.

Pantages' Strong Bill. There is not a weak act on the Pantages program this week. It would be difficult, indeed, to get more strong acts on one bill. Here is the list: Variety quartet, comedy singers, direct from Chicago, Roy Hildred, Samsonet was in-cost, comedienne; Miss Fawcett and Miss Curran, topical girls, in a singing set; Le Temple, Australian magician and wonder-worker; the Pinner sisters, Leo White and the latest comedy moving pictures.

HENKLE FAMILY IS FIGHTING FOR CHILD. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Moscow, Idaho, Oct. 12.—The trophies of Dr. and Mrs. Henkle, former residents of Moscow and Troy, have broken out afresh, and reports from Conner d'Alone, Idaho, are to the effect that their latest battle has been so in who should have possession of their boy. Dr. and Mrs. Henkle separated some time ago, and since have been quarrelling as to who should rear the boy. Monday night the father finally secured the child and left with him for Spokane. Mrs. Henkle says she will fight without his having custody of their offspring.
