An Autumn Fashion Exposition THAT'S AN ACTUAL REVELATION!

"We point with pride" to the new stocks—My, how they hold up their heads for inspection! Monday'll be a day of unusual interest in every one of the Store's Busy Specialty Shops

Olds, Wortman and King The "Different Store" Fifth, Sixth & Washington Sts.

A WORD WITH MEN: How many men of you who read this know by the demonstration of personal investigation that the largest stock of men's furnishing goods in Portland is here in the annex haberdashery? How many of you men have learned what your mothers, and your sisters, your wives and your sweethearts learned long ago—that goods you wear are sold for less here than you pay elsewhere for 'em? Isn't it about time you come and see—and be convinced, and suited? A man can't help but ask himself: "Is it worth while to pay more for things at some other store when the same or better can be bought at Olds, Wortman & King's for less?"

Biggest UMBRELLA Bargains in Town

There is no good arguing with the inevitable. The only argument available with an east wind is to put on your overcoat.—JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

We'll apply Lowell's soliloquy to the present climatic season, when Oregon is taking her long annual bath and all nature feels refreshed. There's no use arguing against the gently falling rain—and we're glad of it, as in every sturdy, healthy Oregonian. The country is all the better for having its face washed. Don't argue; buy an umbrella. Prices are little enough here at Portland's best umbrella store. Read: Ladies Piece-dyed Taffeta Umbrellas, with tape edge borders, steel rod and paragon frame; natural wood handles of box wood in the popular Princess and Opera crook styles. Included in the lot are umbrellas with fancy handles, trimmed with gold, silver, horn, gun metal, etc. Special value, at . . . . . $1.50

Portland's Largest and Leading Clothing Store

For Women Presents This Morning a Chat on Coats for Smart Dressers—With a Side Relish of Special Values for Monday on Raincoats, Coats, Suits Grand Salons, Second Floor. There's complete winter readiness in the Garment salons: "No stone is left unturned" to have the showing complete and fine. It is sensibly helpful. The garments are ultra-fashionable and "snappy" in their distinguished elegance and positive smartness. Every garment was carefully selected with an eye and a thought for service, and—to cap all—the prices in every instance are absolutely FAIR. Whether it be a trim and jaunty TAILORED SUIT at $12.50 or the aristocrats at $225.00 or any of the scores of in-between grades: A STUNNING COAT at $6.50 to $125.00, AN EXQUISITE EVENING GOWN at anywhere along the price avenue from $50 to $450, or A SWELL FUR PIECE in neckscarf, boa, muff or set, the price in every instance will be the lowest possible for the quality shown. Last week's talk being devoted mainly to tailored dresses and gowns, and as "Old Prob" has reminded us somewhat sharply that cooler days are next on the program, we believe the "Coat Chat" of today will prove both timely and interesting.

Coats of Today of Plaids, Checks and "Mingles"

The demand is for coats of "effects" rather than plain colors. Plaids, checks or mingled colorings—black and white as basic tones with introduction often of some brilliant color. You may count on the permanency of the fashion when you see the preparation along these lines in the salons of dress of this great "style store." Careful dressers depend on the dictates of our garment salons as being absolute. Well, there's the happiest command that correctly garbed and groomed women have had to heed ready for inspection tomorrow. The coats are strikingly becoming, and in spite of the blend in colorines there's no garishness or hint of same. Coats are three-quarter length or more. A glance through gives the looker her impression of "swagger" effects without departure from good taste. New coats as low in price as $6.50. OTHER COATS UP TO $125.00, all on a par with the lowest quotations of any reputable house in this union of states. Have a look through the lines tomorrow. Courteous guides will accompany you—and you'll not be asked to buy against your desire.

TWO BIG BARGAINS IN COATS—$12.50 Raincoats $9.65—A Lot of Tailored STREET COATS, to Close; HALF PRICE!

Get the Raincoat Monday—Extra Special! For one day only, pay us $9.65 for the $12.50 Raincoats. An indispensable garment to every woman's wardrobe. Absolutely necessary under the climatic conditions of Oregon's healthful zone; and here's your chance madam—or ma'mselle—to select your raincoat at a saying. Handsomely tailored garments, "built" from neat and dressy cravenetted materials of light and dark tan and olives. Backs plaited, belt at waist; some with back and front yoke effects, collar trimmed in six rows of braid, others in fancy collars of velvet inserted and prettily set off with braid. Leg o' mutton sleeves gathered at cuff in plaited effect and turned over. Best regular $12.50 values in America—Special, Monday only, at $9.65.

A Rack of Coats at Half Price

Here's a veritable "snap" for the woman with an eye to positive, genuine worth-while bargains. We've gathered the ends of several lots of handsome coats, some are last season's make—but you wouldn't know it if we weren't frank and told it—a number of beauties—patricians—among 'em. For instance, a charming gray, exquisitely tailored and trimmed in leather to match material, splendidly adapted for auto or driving wear, or shopping, a coat that was cheap at $95, goes Monday to some fortunate buyer for $12.50. And "there are others," numerous others in similar values. The convention is too varied to admit of detail in description. Plain and mixed goods in three-quarter length, loose or fitted backs and a few empire models, beautifully tailored and trimmed in broadcloths of contrasting colorings, rich velvets, pretty braids and buttons. Some are lined throughout, others only at the yoke. Best regular values ranging up from $12.50 to $48.50, all Monday at HALF PRICE.

A Rousing Suit Sale A lot of Stunning $28.50 "Prince Chap" $22.75 Tailored Suits, Monday only, at . . . . .

200 of the smartest tailored creations ever sold in Portland—outside this store—at $35. A line we bought to sell at $28.50. Built on "swagger" "Prince Chap" models, coats 38 inches long and trimmed throughout with rich taffeta silk (most stores think a cheap satin good enough for this grade suit). Mannish mixed, plaided, checked and "mingled" effects in black and white and gray basic colors, with indeterminate plaids predominating. Skirts are eleven gored and with effective plaited trimming effects. As above stated—the best regular $28.50 value in a suit offered by any Portland store—Special here, Monday only, at $22.75.

The Head of the Family Should Look Well These Days to The FEET OF THE FAMILY

How about the family Footwear? If you're the head of the house—father or mother—you owe it to your family, to those dependent upon you for their needs, to attend to the very important matter of Shoes. Don't wait for the rain that falls on the walks to find those thin soles. An ounce of good shoe prevention is worth a pound on your door by the doctor; it's outfitting season in "Shoedom." Last week we talked incessantly to men—and they heeded. Will you women take a "tip"? A shoe tip? Here are several—Read: Women's Fine Smooth Kid Lace Shoes, Tuxedo Blucher cut, welt soles, neat toe and straight last, has patent tip and dull kid top. The best fitting Blucher cut shoe you can find. Portland's LEADING CORSET STORE

Annex—Second Floor. "Busier than ever" was the word passed to the store reporter by the manager of the "Royal Worcester" Corset salons as he passed there in search of items for Corset chat. "Yes, not too busy to talk corsets," continued he. "Well, what's new?" we asked. "Everything new," came the reply. So we chatted on—and here's the gist of what we talked about: "Royal Worcester's"—best American made corset, best for American women. Complete lines of new models are in. The new "lengthening waist" with high bust effect is a favorite. A new model for stout figures is No. 861—very strong material, hips adjustable; "Tricot" bust gores add to the wearer's comfort above the waist line. For wearers of the Princess gons we recommend the front lacing models, which assure the smart dresser the correct and stylish effect desired. "Bon Tons" in all new and wanted models and every size; also the "Sapphire," which combines in its lines style, health and comfort. We offer this week these worth-while CORSET SPECIALS:

- $6.50 "Bon Ton" Corsets . . . . . $4.47
$4.50 "Bon Ton" Corsets . . . . . $3.29
