One of the reasons for our success is that every suit we make bears the unmistakable appearance so much desired by well-dressed men. This is the result of our superior workmanship, the know-how and careful attention. We make any suit in our store, in order for $25; no more, no less. Just think of having 1,000 different styles to select from and only $25 for your outfit. No other clothing firm in the city will do this. Ask to see our black unadorned worsted, get a sample and compare it with other tailors' prices, just to see what you can save. Unique Tailoring Co., 309 Stark, near Sixth.

In the circuit court today Judge Cleland is hearing testimony in the suit of W. G. Gossett and H. L. Hamblett to restrain John Denny from selling a 600-acre piece of property to another party and to compel Denny to deed it to a purchaser named by the legal estate firm. It is alleged by Gossett and Hamblett that they agreed to sell the land for $12,000, of which $500 was paid in hand, the balance to be paid when the deed was executed. The remaining $11,500 was tendered, say the plaintiffs, but Denny refused to make the deed.

FIND GIRL IN AN OPIUM DEN. Young Woman Discovered by Police Smoking Drug in Company of Two Chinese.

When Detectives Jones, Tichenor and Kay raided a Chinese opium den at Third and Flinders streets at an early hour this morning they found May Smith, a comely 22-year-old girl, in the resort smoking opium in the company with two Chinamen. At the moment the policeman broke in the door Miss Smith, already half stupefied, was in the act of preparing another pill over a miniature lamp, directed for smoking the drug. Lee Ong and Dan Brown, the latter a half breed Chinaman, lying in bunks alongside the girl, were also busily drawing at the pipes.

The trio were promptly taken to police headquarters. Lee Ong was booked on a charge of conducting an opium resort. Brown and the girl were charged with being visitors to the place. The unfortunate girl maintained that the Chinamen had not enticed her into the place and that she went there voluntarily. From her pinched, wax face it was evident that she had already become a slave of the insidious drug and upon being questioned she admitted that this was true.

The woman was taken before Judge Cameron this morning and given a sentence of 90 days in the county jail. It is the hope of the authorities that by being under restraint for that length of time she may overcome the terrible habit. Lee Ong was given a like sentence, but Brown escaped with imprisonment for 30 days. The girl was extremely reticent as to her family connections, but informed Matron Simmons that her home was in Vancouver. It is thought, however, that her parents reside in the city and an effort will be made to locate them.

Hank Johnson, who was arrested yesterday upon complaint of Spencer for constructing a building on the Patten road, and Otto Hochensohn for erecting a house on Morris street, were each fined $12.50 by Judge Cameron yesterday.

GLASS SAND BED AWAITS FACTORY. Portland Man Owns Material but Will Not Ship it to Eastern Factories.

A glass factory for Portland is the ambition of William A. Bantz of 123 Washington street and in order to see such an institution located in Portland he is willing to show a practical glassmaker who has money the finest bed of glass sand, and the only one, on the Pacific coast. Mr. Bantz has at his office some samples of glass sand taken from a large deposit not more than 70 miles from Portland by a water route.

The samples shown are very rich in glass and have been sent to New York and other eastern experts, who have praised them highly. He has received flattering inducements from eastern factories to ship the sand to them, but has refused, telling them that the only way in which they can secure the sand is by building a factory in Portland. He is now trying to find some man or firm that is willing to come to Portland and erect a glass factory. So such a man he would sell the property very cheaply and on easy terms.

California Race Man Declares Editor Has Good Chance in New York.

CAMPAIGN IS PECULIAR IN MANY RESPECTS. Declares Hearst Has Large Following Up State in Rochester, Syracuse, Troy, Utica and Amsterdam and Some Chance in Metropolis.

Horace Egbert of San Francisco, who is in Portland today on his way home after a six-weeks' visit in New York, says that if he were betting on the New York election he would bet on Hearst. In discussing the campaign in the Empire state, Mr. Egbert said this morning:

"There is no other reason for my position on the question other than that I think the odds of three to one altogether too great with the conditions as they are. At present there is no telling who will win the election. A reasonable forecast cannot be made until several days before the election. Hearst is making a great fight, and the conditions are altogether different from any campaign in the history of the state. It is one man with his newspapers against all the newspapers in New York, against many of the most influential Tammany leaders and against the dissatisfied members of the independence league, who are considerable in number."

"Conditions are very much different this year in that Hearst, the Democratic nominee, has a great following in the up state manufacturing towns, such as Rochester, Syracuse, Troy, Utica and Amsterdam. This will give Hearst a strong following outside of New York, the Democratic stronghold."

"But as I said, there is no telling who will win. Either man may win by the largest majority ever polled by a successful candidate, or he may win by the smallest. At the same time I do not think that the prevailing odds of three to one indicate which way the wind blows. Hearst is a wonderful man and the disorganization which followed his nomination may be swept entirely away before election day. It is certainly disappearing, which shows that Hearst has been doing something besides talk."

Mr. Egbert is racing secretary of the California jockey club and was in New York securing entries for the racing season in California, which opens in Oakland November 17. He stated that he had been promised by many of the large eastern owners that they would have their horses on the coast this year. Mr. Egbert added that he expected one of the best racing seasons in the history of the coast by the stopping at the Portland, and will leave tonight for San Francisco.
