

OKLAHOMA CALLS FOR CONGRESS

Invites Governors and Mayors to Send Delegates to Consider Drainage Question.

SUBJECT'S IMPORTANCE EXPLAINED BY FRANTZ

Declares More Land Can Be Reclaimed by Drainage Than by Irrigation, and That Land Will Be Much Better.

In a call for a national drainage congress, to be held at Oklahoma City, December 5, 6, 7, the governor of Oklahoma, says the population of the United States doubles every 30 years, while the total land area remains practically unchanged. He asks governors of states, mayors of cities of over 5,000, and commercial and other bodies to send delegates to the congress.

Governor Chamberlain and Mayor Lane are invited to appoint delegates. The chamber of commerce and other bodies, including county commissioners and horticultural and irrigation associations are also asked to send representatives. It is stated that the drainage of lands is as important as the irrigation of arid lands.

"There are more acres in the humid regions of the United States to be reclaimed by drainage than there are lands in the arid regions that can be reclaimed by the available water supply," says Governor Frantz. "In addition to this argument, the drained lands are the most productive, and they never suffer from drought. The good-roads problem will to a large extent be solved with the drainage of the low lands and swamps. There are numerous arguments that can be advanced for the inaugurating of a drainage improvement crusade. The state of Oklahoma is about to be admitted into the union without provision being made in the enabling act for the drainage of lands. It behooves Oklahoma to join with the other states in an effort to forward the drainage movement."

INQUIRY RECEIVED AS TO DETKA'S DEATH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Oct. 30.—Chief of Police Tom Cornelius has received a telegram from J. O'Connor of St. Paul, Minnesota, inquiring whether the remains of Aloystis Detka, the man who was killed here some weeks ago by a train crossing on Twelfth and Court streets, could be exhumed, and if the unfortunate man left any personal effects. It will be remembered that the man died five minutes after he had been transported to the hospital to receive the necessary medical treatment. As he expired he gave his name as Detka, but the authorities are not positive that it is his name. He left nothing to identify him except a portion of a letter addressed "My Dear Aloystis." Whether O'Connor is a relative of the dead man is not known, as the telegram sought only for information. Chief Cornelius has replied to the Minnesota inquirer. Detka is said to have been kicked from a Pullman car by a porter while attempting to steal a ride.

RAINIER MAN KILLS SEVEN-FOOT COUGAR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Rainier, Or., Oct. 30.—Frank Kilby, a local resident, killed a good-sized cougar yesterday near his residence. For several days he had been bothered by the animal stealing his chickens and yesterday started out with his dogs to hunt the fellow. Three shots from a .38-3 rifle brought the cougar to terms. He measured seven feet from head to the tip of the tail and in a few days adorn the floor of L. Sweet's home as a rug. Mr. Kilby caught another cougar only a few weeks ago, and wildcats are ordinary game with him.

How to Exercise the Bowels

YOUR intestines are lined inside with millions of suckers, that draw the nutrition from food as it passes them. But, if the food passes too slowly, it decays before it gets through. Then the little suckers draw poison from it instead of nutrition. This poison makes a gas that injures your system more than the food should have nourished it.

The usual remedy for this delayed passage (called Constipation) is to take a big dose of Castor Oil.

This merely makes slippery the passage for unloading the current cargo.

It does not help the Cause of delay a trifle. It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles and weakens them for their next task.

Another remedy is to take a strong "Physic," like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphate of Sodium, Aperient Water, or any of these mixed.

This merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, set flowing into the Intestines through the tiny suckers.

Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels.

They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as "Physics" do.

They do not relax the Intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine.

They simply stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously.

They are put up in thin, flat, round-cornered Enamel boxes, so they can be carried in a man's vest pocket, or in a woman's purse, all the time.

The time to take a Cascaret is not only when you are Sick, but when you first suspect you need one. Price, 10c a box.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "C.C.C." All druggists.

THE ONLY ONE "BEST"

Portland People Give Credit Where Credit Is Due.

People of Portland who suffer with sick kidneys and had backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Portland. Here's Portland testimony:

H. H. McCarver, Inspector for the Transcontinental company, and living at 284 East First street north, Portland, Oregon, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me so much good about three years ago that I publicly testified to my experience. I had been suffering with kidney complaint and backache and it was very painful and distressing. I think it started from a cold, which settled in my back. I had always been more or less skeptical about proprietary medicines, but somehow the recommendations of Doan's Kidney Pills influenced me to begin using them. The results were so satisfactory that, as stated above, I gave the remedy my recommendation. I am pleased to state that the time that has elapsed since has only served to increase my confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills."

Milk a Cure for Nervousness.

The hurry and rush in which we spend our days is conducive to nervous breakdown, and many physicians devote their whole time to prescribing "cures" for men and women who have suddenly found that life for them is not worth the living unless they can regain health and peace of mind. They are miserable both in mind and body and frequently from no apparent cause.

Strange to say, it is not only the hard workers that are attacked with the different forms of nerve trouble, but men and women in all walks of life.

So far the rest cure seems the most successful, and a rest cure combined with a milk diet is always effectual. Dr. Weil Mitchell, who has devoted much time to the study of nervous diseases, says that he thoroughly believes in the milk diet as a cure and urges people to adopt it instead of depending on harmful drugs. It seems odd that people should think of nervous diseases, says that he thoroughly believes in the milk diet as a cure and urges people to adopt it instead of depending on harmful drugs. It seems odd that people should think of nervous diseases, says that he thoroughly believes in the milk diet as a cure and urges people to adopt it instead of depending on harmful drugs.

Change of occupation is absolutely necessary if one would effect a speedy cure, and it is best to make an effort to recover by taking a week's rest than to wait until later, and then probably have to give up altogether for an indefinite length of time.

To begin the milk diet it is necessary to go without solid food of any kind for a day or two, taking a moderate quantity of milk, and then gradually increase the diet, still drinking as much milk as possible. Hot milk is better than cold for the nervous person and a glass of it should be taken every night before retiring. As drinking milk improves the complexion women will not be averse to it as a cure.

Memorial to Elizabeth B. Browning.

In her beloved Italy of which she wrote so much, Elizabeth B. Browning will found a memorial to his mother's memory. It seems very appropriate that Barrett Browning should pay this tribute to his mother in the form of a poem, which he has written and which is started in Asolo, Italy. The school will be a place of sunshine and light with many flowers to cheer the workers while pursuing their beautiful intricate work of lace making. Above the doorway will be an unpretentious mural tablet to Elizabeth Browning and a fountain will attract the song birds to linger and sing within hearing of the tolling girls.

The Little Touch.

It really isn't the gown nor the hat that stamps a woman well or ill dressed, but the trifles; gloves, veils, all the accessories that go to make a well-gowned woman.

The principal thing to remember this year is that a dash of color in contrast to the prevailing shade of the costume is needed to add the finishing touches, and a woman must be somewhat of an artist in order to put this color on effectively. Sometimes a flower or feather on the hat will add this distinguishing touch, or the long gloves, which are still a necessity with the sleeves worn, are of some dainty, contrasting color. By the way, the new sleeves are called, very appropriately, the awkward length sleeves, as they come not quite to the wrist; in fact, they are neither long nor short, but of a very "awkward length."

Pluffy neckwear has been popular for some time, but the usual reaction is near and some very attractive Waterford models are tailored and severe in effect, being intended to wear with the tailored waist now in vogue for street wear.

Belts are both wide and narrow, but the high girls in little seen except on evening towns, and to simulate princess effects on the tailored models.

Plaid will be very little worn later in the season, but just now a dash of brilliant plaid appears on many of the natty little street hats. The Peter Pan soft hat is very pretty indeed when trimmed in gay plaids.

Novelties are in demand and if a girl has some ingenuity and taste she may make herself many charming accessories at little expense.

Red has appeared triumphant again this season; street gowns, evening dresses and hats, all have a touch of red, and many whole gowns of dark wine color are being made up for street wear, and the scarlet evening frocks will be worn by dashing debutantes.

Advice to Brides.
A great many bridegrooms are like jelly; it is only when they begin to grow cold that they become set in their ways. It is always wise, therefore, for the bride to remember this, and while there is yet time to mold him into the proper form for future keeping.

Muffins.

Muffins are quickly made, simple and delicious. To 1 pint of well-sifted flour add 2 level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one half teaspoonful of salt. Stir all twice. Stir into a cupful of cold milk the well-beaten yolk of two eggs and then 1 tablespoonful of melted butter. While continuing to stir, sift in the flour very gradually. Mix all smoothly together and fold in very carefully the stiffly whipped whites of the two eggs. Pour by the spoonful quickly into greased hot muffin or gem pans and bake in a very hot oven for about 20 minutes. Serve at once.

Stuffed Mushrooms.

Select 12 mushrooms of good size. Remove the heads, pare the edges and wash them. Clean the stalks, wash with the parings and chop very fine. Squeeze out the water. Place two ounces of butter in a saucepan with one tablespoonful of chopped shallot. Fry a little, then stir in the chopped mushrooms and fry until almost dry. Sprinkle with one half ounce of flour. Then mix well and moisten with a little broth, seasoning to taste with salt, pepper and grated nutmeg, also a little chopped parsley. Stir and boil until quite thick. When this mixture is partially cool, fill the mushroom heads. Place them in a baking dish, sprinkle each with bread crumbs and a little butter. Bake in a moderate oven about 15 minutes. Place on a dish, pour Espagnole sauce around them and garnish with quarters of lemon.

Keeping Friends.

Don't get too intimate with them. Have your own thoughts and permit them to have theirs. Don't demand too much in the way of confidence. Don't be too aggressive. Don't expect them to do the same thing as you do.

If you think their style of dress isn't beautiful, don't tell them. Don't take risks in offending them. Don't find fault with their friends. Don't expect to be the only one owning a corner in their heart.

Be as considerate of their feelings as if they were strangers. Remember that politeness is an everyday garment, and not one intended only for high days and holidays.

To put it all in one sentence, preserve the courtesy of the beginning to help your friendship to the end.
