

FOOTBALL BATTLE ON TOMORROW

Multnomah and Willamette Giants Will Meet on the Club's Gridiron.

BOTH ELEEVENS ARE IN FINE CONDITION

Club Players Have Not Forgotten Last Season's Unpleasant Experience With Salem Lads, and Will Go In to Win on the Jump.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Multnomah and Willamette will meet on Multnomah field to settle the question of supremacy. That the contest will be one of the star games of the year is assured by the list of prominent football warriors who will participate in the match. The score which Multnomah has to settle is not an old one by any means, dating only from last season, when this husky bunch of Methodists swooped down upon the innocent club men and administered a sound beating to the tune of 4 to 0.

The brief score did not fully indicate Willamette's strength, as the club men were outplayed during the game. Later last year the All-Salem team, composed entirely of Willamette players, played Multnomah a second game and came out victorious by the same score, 4 to 0. These victories were the best proof of the strength and playing quality of the Salem lads.

This year eleven is a hard nut to crack and Captain Jordan's men have given more thought and training to this match than is customary at this time of the year. However, the prestige of the club in the state, and the players have got down to good hard work in preparation for the event. How Multnomah will line up is yet a matter of conjecture. There has been considerable worry about the center position.

Last night Keller, King and Carlson were tried out, but nothing definite was announced regarding a selection. Keller has the most experience of the trio, but every now and then his knees get kinked, making it impossible for him to do any long service in a game. The guards and tackle positions will be looked after by Pratt, McMillan, Blackman, Sterling, Bert and Bennett. Dowling, Wilder, Jordan and Carlson will see that no enemy skips around the ends. For quarterback there is a host of men, including Blanchard, Alexander and Litt. Harry Litt is making a good showing in passing the ball and will be of service to the club.

James will likely do the punting for the club team. "Bud" recently purchased a pair of champion kicking shoes and he is expected to do wonders in the matter of booting the prolate spheroid.

Delph, Longman and McMillan will be used in the back field. Interest in the game is keen in Salem as well as in Portland and a large crowd of rooters from the Capital City will accompany the team to this city. Betting on the game was rather good yesterday, a number of even-money wagers being laid. The Salem team will arrive in Portland tomorrow morning and will meet at the Hotel Portland.

The officials for the contest are: Referee, Mr. E. J. Portland; umpire, Mr. Hockenberry of Portland. The lineup will be something like this:

Multnomah. Position. Willamette.
Keller-King..... Nelson
Burt-Bennett..... R.G..... Parker
Sterling..... L.G..... McKnight
Blackman..... L.T..... Boyer
McMillan..... R.T..... Lounsbury
Wilder..... R.E..... Russell
Dowling..... L.E..... Fisher
Blanchard-Alexander..... Owens
Longman..... R.H.B..... Thomas
Delph..... L.H.B..... Nace
Rader-James..... F.B..... Rader

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Nov. 16.—Just what changes are to be made in the line-up of the Willamette football team for its game with the Multnomah Athletic club is not yet known. A practice game was played on the university eleven ground last evening in which the Willamette Juniors were worsted by the "varsity" by the score of 8 to 7. The line-up, as far as can be ascertained now, will be the same as faced the University of Washington eleven last Saturday. The fact is that the present line-up is about as effective as any other combination that has been tried this season by the local eleven. It may be possible that "Mustard" Coleman will be again at the end position, provided that the physicians

WILL WINTER HIS HORSES AT ALBANY RACETRACK

S. S. Bailey of Seattle Brings His String of Horses to Oregon for Bleak Days.

(Journal Special Service.)
Albany, Or., Nov. 16.—S. S. Bailey of Seattle has brought his large string of horses here for winter training. With few exceptions he has the finest of his horses on the Albany race course and will make this his permanent headquarters for his racing operations. Many of these horses have been seen on all the important race courses of the Pacific coast and from the mountains to the most southerly portion of California his horses have taken prizes and broken records.

J. E. Kirkland, an experienced trainer and horseman, is in charge of the Albany stables and will have the supervision of the development of promising young horses. The grand stand at the fair grounds will be remodeled and improved and about 50 stalls added to the present equipment of the grounds.

This will be made a permanent training center and used the entire year around. The course will be open to other horsemen and the stables open to the receiving of other promising horses aside from those belonging to Mr. Bailey. A specialty will be made of developing young horses on the Albany track as it is thought to be an ideal place for such work and the character and nature of the soil of such a composition as to make it especially favorable to this work.

Races will be arranged and meets held on the local course and no doubt the place will become the center of fine horses for the valley. The race track will be thoroughly overhauled and placed in the finest of condition.

In his string are such well known horses as Oms A, 3:10, by Dictator; Vinny Man 3:14, by Alexis; Tidal Wave, 2:30, by Nutwood Wilkes; Seattle Stallion, a three year old, 2:25 1/4, by Stam B; Doc Monday, a three year old gelding by Zombro, record of 2:27; Beanie L, 8 years old and the dam of the fastest gelding on the coast which at two days over a year of age was driven a 2:20 gait for a quarter, covering the same in 36 seconds; Mill Rat, by Zombro, Nette and Roseman.

Mr. Bailey desired to purchase the race course and on account of the complicated condition of the Crawford estate was unable to obtain any more than a five year lease on the course.

SALEM SHOTS RECEIVE MARKSMAN'S BUTTONS

(Journal Special Service.)
Salem, Nov. 16.—The Oregon Rifle and Revolver association of this city has received six national marksmanship buttons which were competed for October 28 and awarded them to the following members: G. L. Fugh, R. Shetter, O. T. D. Brandt, Lloyd Hauser, A. P. Aufrance, and George L. Frazer. There are three more national marksmen in this city who received medals at the big national shoot at Seattle. They are F. Frazier, R. L. White and U. S. Rider.

believe that his ankle is strong enough to carry him through a scrimmage. White Bear, the famous ex-Chemawa player, was on the field yesterday and took great interest in the game, but as yet it is not known whether he will be found in the Willamette line-up or not. He is a clever player, but has not been practicing with the team and could hardly do effective work in the formations and style of play which the team has been practicing for some time. There were some rumors that Pollard was to be seen in the game, but that is not possible as he has not been of the field this season. The assertion was mistaken by his friends because he stated he needed some exercise and would go on the basketball floor the coming season. While the team is not overconfident, its showing against the Washington eleven has inspired the spirit of "do-and-die" in the men, and they will go to Portland determined to win and followed by a band of enthusiastic supporters. Those who have watched the team's progress are of the opinion that it is the strongest that has ever gone out to defend the honor of the "old Methodist U." by the banks of the Willamette.

One marked improvement in the work of the team at Seattle was the passing of Owens, who is developing into an accurate quarterback.

Jim Lee, who scored one of Harvard's touchdowns in 1890, when Harvard beat Yale 13 to 6 through Lee's efforts and those of Bud Dean, thinks that the new game is a great thing. Lee was the type of player who also would have been a great star under the conditions now existing for playing the game.

The National Baseball commission met at Cincinnati yesterday and transacted but little business. It was agreed that contract jumpers would not be reinstated hereafter. President Murphy of the Chicago Nationals claimed Shortstop Sweeney by draft and it was allowed. Sweeney will be missed in the Coast league.

Secretary J. C. Muehe sent out the following notice yesterday to Hunt Club members: "Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Cronin will act as hosts for the next closed paper chase, Saturday, November 17, having selected a splendid course on the west side. Riders will assemble at Twenty-second and Johnson streets. The next event will be the ride for the club cup on Thanksgiving. Election of officers for the coming season will be held Saturday, December 1."

It is quite probable that the Oregon-Washington game, which is scheduled for tomorrow at Eugene, will not be played until Monday, on account of the Washington team being delayed between Tacoma and Portland. If the game will be played on Monday, the Eugene people will declare a holiday for the occasion.

Columbia and Hill Military will struggle this afternoon for interscholastic honors at Multnomah field. The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

High school has called off its game with the Willamette Juniors at Salem on account of the local lads being unable to make proper arrangements for the taking of the team to the capital city.

It will be a keen disappointment to the followers of Oregon should Latourette and High be not able to play in the Washington game. Both men will be greatly missed.

Without a doubt the success of the Carille Indian football team is at the bottom of the Ute uprising.

"How is it?" asked the sporting editor of the football statistician, who had just completed the work of tabulating the salient points of Saturday's reports.

"Well, as near as I can figure," answered the statistician, "the collar-bones are quite up to the average, but we are shy on legs. Compared with the record for the corresponding period last year, the is a shortage of 18 2/3 per cent in that column."

"The spines seem to be holding their own and the jaws are running slightly ahead of the ticket. The eyes seem to have it over last year, but there are not so many ears."

"How about the fatalities?"
"Not much doing up to now, but there are three likely cases of concussion of the brain in Ohio and two fractured skulls in Virginia that may pan out all right. There are six cases of acute indigestion in Pennsylvania, but they are traceable to the training table."

"Shall throw up another column for that? No? Well, you're the boss."—Hek in Chicago Tribune.

MICHIGAN WILL MEET THE PENNSYLVANIA ELEVEN

Spectacular Struggle Between East and West Teams Will Take Place Tomorrow.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 16.—East and west will collide on the gridiron at Franklin Field tomorrow, when the fast University of Pennsylvania eleven will exchange courtesies and punts with the University of Michigan. The Michigan players are on the scene and appear to be in condition to put up the battle of the season. It is the first time in a number of years that a Western eleven has come east to play and this fact has served to add to the interest in the contest. The records of the two elevens so far this season have been such that they form a very poor basis on which to "dope" out the result of tomorrow's game. Both sides appear confident of the outcome. Many rooters for the maize and blue have come to town with the Michigan players and they are displaying a disposition to take up the Pennsylvania money as readily as it is offered. The game promises to attract the largest attendance of any played here this season, there being an almost unprecedented demand for tickets.

The two class B teams, Beavers vs. Commercial No. 2, rolled last night on the Oregon alleys. The latter team failed to put in a full team, which gave three more games to the Beavers. The game lacked that energy and snap the leading teams show. Shiner had the highest single game 192. Stein averaged 166, which was high. The scores:
