LEONCAVALLO TO COME SUNDAY

Noted Composer, His Orchestra and Soloists to Give Two Concerts Here.

EVENT OF THE SEASON FOR LOVERS OF MUSIC

First American Tour of Great Musician and His Famous Artists Causes Enthusiasm and Appreciation Wherever He Appears.

One of the most notable musical events of the whole season will be the appearance at the Hellig next Sunday of Leoncavallo and the famous La Scala orchestra of Milan, Italy.

This is the first American tour of the great Italian composer and that it has come to be recognized as one of the greatest musical events in years is evidenced by the press notices it has received.

His program will include selections from "I Pagliacci," his most popular if not his greatest opera, "Zaza," which is written on the foundation of the old story and play, and "Roland de Berlin," which was written at the express request of the emperor of Germany.

While the composer has a fondness for the tragic and violently passionate moods, he can command the richest melody and variety of expression.

GIGANTIC LOG HOTEL PLANNED FOR GRANTS PASS

Four-Story Structure to Serve as Resort for Tourists.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., Nov. 17.—Grants Pass is soon to have a mammoth log hotel. It will be built of select pine logs, and will be four stories in height. The men backing the enterprise are Dr. J. E. Reddy of Medford and L. M. Williamson and W. C. Mason of Grants Pass.

The excellent climate of southern Oregon assures a hostelry of this character a good patronage, and located in a mountain town, as is Grants Pass, with an elevation of 1,000 feet, the promoters are afforded natural features that they believe will make the big log inn popular with travelers.

RICH SILVER ORE IN BURNT RIVER LEDGES that even the ruler of a monarchy would hesitate to take.

The executive council was urged to issue a charter to the postal clerks' union. The two platoon campaign of the Chicago firemen was officially before the federation of labor convention today. It was decided to write letters to all mayors and councils asking that shorter work days be given the men who protect life and property from fire.

charter will not be revoked.

Miss Mary McDowell of Chicago, created a sensation in the convention during an address favoring universal peace between nations. She said that war was destructive, not constructive.

Little progress has been made in the jurisdiction fight between the carpenters and woodworkers. It is now believed that the only settlement possible is to refer the matter to a committee for adjustment after the convention adjourns.

International President James M. Lynch, of the printers announced today that $2,000,000 had been expended in the contest for an eight-hour day by the members of his union.

PUMP TO IRRIGATE SIX THOUSAND ACRES

Arlington, Or., Nov. 17.—Grant Wade of this place is making headway in getting water on his place of 6,000 acres near town. He will get an abundance of water at a depth of 465 feet. The water stands 150 feet deep in the well and by a test by pumping seems to be inexhaustible. He will pump it into a reservoir near the well and pipe it to all parts of his land.
