

ELDER WILL SAIL, DECLARES DOE

Managing Owner of Famous
Craft Applies for Documents at Custom House.

RECEIVING CARGO AT FLOUR MILLS TODAY

Inspectors of Hulls and Boilers Have Approved Equipment of Vessel and
She Will Leave Tonight if Cargo
Is Placed on Board.

Charles F. Doe, managing owner of the steamer George W. Elder, was at the custom house this morning and applied for an enrollment and license for the Elder and the documents will probably be issued this afternoon if all the necessary signatures can be obtained. Mr. Doe stated emphatically that there is nothing to delay the steamer from getting away this evening as scheduled, except possibly the longshoremen may not be able to finish loading her. She is at the flour mills today receiving cargo and will be shifted to Maritz's dock this evening. If everything is gotten into shape the steamer will sail this evening, otherwise she will get away tomorrow morning.

"I have no statement to make," said Mr. Doe, "but certainly the Elder will sail as soon as we can get her ready for the sea. It is difficult to say what hour a vessel will be ready to depart on her first trip because when you think everything is ready something comes up giving more delay. Some of the mechanics are still at work on the boat, but they will get through with their work today. The steamer is still receiving cargo and that is sufficient indication of our intention to have her sail as soon as possible."

REPORTS AWFUL STORMS

American Bark Has Terrible Experience in North Pacific.

According to reports brought to Seattle by the crew of the American bark Gen. Fairchild, which arrived on Puget Sound last Saturday from Port Clarence, Alaska, the North Pacific ocean was visited by terrific squalls during the latter part of October and the early part of November. Terrible squalls assailed the bark and she lost much canvas. On November 1 the vessel had to heave to, the gale having increased to fearful proportions. In view of the fact that the Fairchild is feared that the missing bark Iverna was caught in these same gales which nearly sank the old American trader, the boatmaster driving before the wind, passed her so close that those on board could almost touch her. This occurred a couple of days off Cape Flattery. It is possible that the big four-master was the Iverna.

REWARD ON HIS HEAD

French Captain Will Pay Fifteen Dollars for Return of Sailor.

Anyone finding a lost sailor belonging to the French bark Bougainville will please return the same and receive a reward. The skipper has decided to pay $15 a head for each deserter sailor returned to his vessel, and if enough of them leave some one may find it profitable to take out a license to hunt French sailors.

SEARCHING FOR IVERNA

Revenue Cutter Thetis Sails Off Columbia River Yesterday.

Evidently the revenue cutter Thetis has not yet found any signs of the missing British bark Iverna. The cutter was seen off the mouth of the Columbia river steering south. She will probably take a run down the coast with a view of possibly finding the bark blown ashore in some isolated spot.

RIVER FALLS RAPIDLY

Lower Docks Will Be Dry in a Couple of Days.

The Willamette at Portland was down to 14 feet this morning and is now beginning to fall rapidly. It will continue to fall rapidly for the next few days. District Forecaster Beals says, so the docks now under water will be open for business again soon. Ash street dock is the lowest in the harbor and it is covered by a few inches only.

OLDS, WORTMAN & KING STORE NEWS

The News of Today Is Illustrative of the Store's Unequaled Value-Giving Power

Reinforcements Have Arrived for the Thanksgiving Sale of Table Linens

The finer lots of Irish Linens are in from the Richardson's Factory at Belfast—Ten Days Late—Delayed by the Recent Storms

The late storms have brot trouble, and lots of it, to the great stores that go abroad to buy their merchandise from the foreign makers direct, in order to save for their patrons the "middleman's" commission. An immense quantity of goods have been delayed in transit; this condition of things is bound to entail a loss to the merchants. In no other line are we more affected than with our Linens. These goods were bot for Thanksgiving trade and should have been in at least ten days ago. Instead, they've just arrived. This means to us ten days' less selling time—and the sale must be FORCED, for the linens must ALL be sold. So we shall offer this late shipment, which consists of the finer grades of the Richardson Linens, the beautiful hand-made and embroidered Scarfs, Tea Cloths, Doilies, Dresser Cloths, Table Tops, etc., products of the expert Irish needlewomen's winter handiwork, made at a time when their labor costs but little, thus making the goods to cost us—and you—less. In the line are the fine Irish Satin Damask Tablecloths and Napkins, the balance of our immense purchase of the "overs" of the Richardson factory. The tablecloth sizes include the following: 2x2 yards, 2x2 1/2 yards, 2x3 yards, 2x3 1/2 yards, 2x4 yards, 2 1/2x2 1/2 yards, 2 1/2x3 yards, 2 1/2x3 1/2 yards, 2 1/2x4 yards. Napkins are in both breakfast sizes. The beautiful Hand-Embroidered Doilies, Tray Cloths, Dresser Cloths and Table Tops all with spoke-hemstitched borders—at drastic reductions. Examples—
