WIDDOWSON MAY BE INNOCENT

People Who Were Neighbors of Willard Moody So Believe.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Baker City, Or., Nov. 21.—Confident that with the authority of a deputy sheriff he can unravel the deep mystery which surrounds the murder of his brother, the late Willard Moody, one of the most prominent ranchers of Pine valley, Henry Moody has been made an officer by Sheriff Ed Rand of this county, and departed for the scene of the horrible crime.
 Last September Willard Moody was found dead in the brush about 200 yards outside the little town of Pine. When the corpse was discovered it was seen that the fiend who had robbed the wealthy rancher of his life had committed the most brutal of murders. The eyes were gouged out, the face lacerated with a knife, and the flesh of the body literally torn from the bones.
 Some days later, Alex Widdowson, a saloonman of Pine, was arrested for the crime and is now held in the county jail. The reason for suspecting Widdowson of the deed is unassigned, the greatest secrecy veiling the movements of the prosecution.
 People of Pine and the valley in which the town is located are almost unanimous in the expression of their belief in the innocence of the man who was incarcerated for the murder, and that it was when gazed by these that the aged father of the murdered man is quoted as having said:
 "I have the evidence now which will put a rope around the neck of Alex Widdowson."
 The appointment of Henry Moody as deputy sheriff, followed by his departure for Pine, is taken to indicate that he has definite clues of damaging character, and that, armed with official authority, he can work it greater advantage.
 There are current rumors that a well-known woman of Pine valley is implicated in the case, but these cannot be confirmed by those interested, and it is with the greatest interest that the trial of Widdowson, which is to occur in January, is awaited.

GOT GOOD DRINKS WITH HIS BAD CHECK

But Tony Peterson's Way of Getting His Check Made Him Trouble.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Huntington, Or., Nov. 21.—Because, with the aid of a supposedly spurious $100 check, he bunked local saloonmen out of a large-sized "jag," and connected with a number of traveling bags which did not belong to him, Tony Peterson, a well-known character of Baker City, is under arrest here.
 Peterson, upon his arrival in Huntington last night, made a round of the saloons. He had in his possession a check for $100. This he offered in payment for drinks which he ordered, but it was refused in each instance, the banks being closed and the bartenders doubting its validity.
 After he had accumulated a large amount of whiskey Peterson was arrested as disorderly and then it was discovered that he had cut open three valises at the station, and in robbing them of their contents had found the check with which he had bunked the saloons.

CHICAGO CHOSEN FOR FIRST UNION MARKET

(Journal Special Service.)
 Chicago, Nov. 21.—Chicago has been selected for the location of the first union market, which will be an outgrowth of the new alliance between the American Federation of Labor and the farming interests, which was formed when the accredited delegates of the farmers to the Minneapolis convention of the federation were seated.
 A suitable building has been selected on Haymarket and West Randolph streets, and the experiment will be thoroughly tried. Union goods will be advanced to the exclusion of all others, and the products of the farms must be grown and marketed as the unions prescribe. Experienced union men have charge of the undertaking.

VIEWS OF AN ARMOUR ON DISCRIMINATION

(Journal Special Service.)
 Milwaukee, Nov. 21.—J. Ogden Armour, in his testimony at the hearing under the La Follette resolution providing for the investigation of the relations of grain elevator interests and railroads, said he held stock in a number of railroads and grain companies. He did not think discrimination was caused by joint ownership. Commissioners Prouty and Lane are conducting the hearing for the interstate commerce commission.

INSTEAD OF DEMAND MINERS OFFER THANKS

Butte, Mont., Nov. 21.—Instead of asking for a further increase of 25 cents a day, from $2.75, the present wage, the Butte Miners' union last night acted adversely to the proposed demand, and in addition voted thanks to the mineowners for the raise of 25 cents, from $2.50 a day, which was voluntarily made and was effective November 16.

The Sewing Machine is one of the many appliances where the Domestic Electric Motor is used to good advantage. It never gets tired—will run the machine all day long.

For the woman who does her own sewing it is the greatest labor-saver ever invented. The electric attachment is easily fitted to any standard sewing machine. No special wiring is necessary to use these motors, as connection can be readily made to the motor from any lamp socket by means of flexible cord and attaching plug. At our Reduced Rates for current now in effect, the cost of operating the Electric Sewing Machine is about one-half cent an hour.
