

PREP. BOYS IN FINE FORM

Hill Military Academy and Portland High School Ready for Saturday's Battle.

INTENSE INTEREST FELT IN DECIDING GAME

Record of Rivals for Past Five Years Shows They Are Evenly Matched, and That the Contest Should Be a Hard One.

Just a year ago Portland High school treated the cadets from Hill Military Academy to a somewhat unpleasant surprise by defeating them by a score of 17 to 9; the time for the annual game is at hand again. In a way, the conditions then and now are similar. Once more Hill Military Academy has made a surprisingly strong showing against Columbia; once more the cadets have a big handicap in the field, as they have had for six years, and once more it seems as if only grit, hard work, speed and loyal school spirit can possibly win the game for the High School. Yet there is one great difference. Heretofore Hill Military Academy, relying on the weight and physical strength of her powerful teams, has had a tendency to be somewhat lacking in spirit, and this has proved disastrous to her teams more than once. This year there has been a marked change for the better. Coach Kerron has been able in getting out more than a full eleven for every practice. The contesting teams are not so unevenly matched as they appear to be at the first glance. To be sure, the cadets are heavier in getting out more than their backs and ends do not weigh much more than those of their opponents. Again the High School eleven has had two weeks in which to recover from bruises and hard knocks received in the Columbia game, while the cadets, who played Columbia University last Friday are rather sore, and Taylor's punting may not be the best, as he is suffering from a "charley horse".

In former years, High School and Hill Military Academy have been playing just about even. In 1921 two games were played; in the first no score was made, in the second Hill defeated High School. In 1922 the schools played another tie game. In 1923 one game resulted in a tie, the score was won by Hill Military Academy. In 1924 and in 1925 High School was victorious. This year the eleven have made the following scores: Portland High School, 6; Junior Multnomah, 0; Portland High School, 10; Second Willamette, 0; Portland High School, 0; Columbia University, 5; Hill Military Academy, 5; Pacific University, 0; Hill Military Academy, 11; Marshall Wells, 0; Hill Military Academy, 5; Columbia University, 0.

BOXING CARDS FOR MULTNOMAH

Five Rattling Bouts Are Scheduled for Thanksgiving Eve at the Club.

FIRST AMATEUR CONTESTS OF WINTER SEASON

Chairman Frank Has Matched Ten Men in Five Different Classes and the Boxing Friends of M. A. A. C. Are Consequently Happy.

On the eve of Thanksgiving, November 23, the devotees of boxing in this city will be given an opportunity to witness five of the clearest amateur bouts ever pulled off in one ring on the same evening. The host of the occasion will be the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, through Edgar Frank, chairman of the boxing and wrestling committee. The members of the club have been shouting for some time for a boxing exhibition, and to satisfy the tastes of the padded glove knights Mr. Frank has gone to considerable trouble in preparing a card that will bring joy to the hearts of Multnomah's enthusiasts. "That the bouts will be of the highest order of fistic science and human cleverness," says Boxing Instructor Fred Rennie, "even the most fastidious cannot deny." Such a declaration from Fred Rennie is certainly the best guarantee that can be had regarding the excellence of the contests. The coming events will be of such a character as to warrant the fans turning out in droves. There will be five bouts on the program. The opening one will be called at 8:30 sharp, and the others will be put on in rapid succession. All of the bouts are scheduled for three rounds, the amateur limit, unless the referee decides that an extra round is necessary for a decision. It has not been decided yet who will referee the contests, but it is quite likely that Jack Grant will do the work. Gold medals will be given to the winners. The men who will oppose each other and their weights are: 135 pounds—Ford vs. Nicken. 155 pounds—Wah vs. McMicken. 140 pounds—Merta vs. McQuade. 125 pounds—Belt vs. Coleman. 115 pounds—Hughes vs. Anderson.

MULTNOMAH FEARS THE OREGON'S FAST TEAM

Captain Jordan Will Make Sweeping Changes Unless His Men Do Better Work.

The Multnomah football squad began active work last night for the annual struggle with the University of Oregon's crack eleven. Several of the regular men did not show up for practice and their positions were promptly filled by substitutes, who made a creditable showing. The prospect of preparing a team to meet the great Oregon eleven is of such supreme importance that failure to report has been made sufficient reason for immediate suspension from the varsity. This imperative order, coming as it does from Captain Jordan, will be the means of causing much uneasiness among the players who pay more attention to late meals than they do to practice. The decisive victory of the Oregon team over Washington on Tuesday has put fear and trembling into the hearts of the Multnomah rooters. The cause for this alarm is well founded, as it is well known what great strength is possessed by the Oregon team. Word was received this morning from Eugene to the effect that the reason for Coach Moulton and Hug did not play in the Washington game was for the sole purpose of keeping them fit for the Multnomah game. It is understood also that Coach Bezdek does not consider the O. A. C. team strong enough to compel him to play Latourette, Hug and Moulton next Saturday at Corvallis.

If this is true then there will be no reason in the world for these men not being in fine condition for the Multnomah game. This evening the M. A. A. C. team will hold another workout. Several new players will be tried, and the players think will work against Oregon's premier defense. On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the final defensive work will be given the club team by the second eleven.

YACHT CLUB BONDS MEET WITH FAVOR

The members of the Oregon yacht club are enthusiastic over the interest that Portland business men are taking in the club bonds. The articles offered circulated by the club at last Tuesday night's meeting. The club is $5,000 in debt and it is thought that the bonds will be the easiest way in which to pay off its indebtedness. One thousand dollars was raised among the club members on Tuesday night and about the same amount will be pledged by the members within a few days. This will allow the public to buy $1,000 of its bonds to purchase. Commodore Knight says that the club men have no doubts regarding the successful floating of the issue. The next meeting of the club will be held at 111 Third street next Tuesday evening.

CAN YALE ELEVEN BEAT HARVARD?

Eastern Critic Seems to Think That Crimson Eleven Has an Excellent Chance.

WEST POINT MEN SORE OVER TIGER ROUGHNESS

Army Lads Feel That Princeton Men Did Not Observe the Rules of Gentleness in This Year's Annual Game--Carlisle Indians' Great Showing.

By Manhattan. (Special Service.) New York, Nov. 22.—Just three more big games are left to be played before the football season of 1926, in the east, comes to an end. It has been a notable season, from the fact that the new rules have been tried out and that they have fairly revolutionized the game. They are yet to be perfected, but it can fairly be said that they have been proven sound in principle and that a great improvement in the game has resulted. Headwork is given a more even chance against sheer weight and the spectators are given a vastly more interesting game to watch than was possible under the old rules. Football enthusiasts throughout the east will be glad to know that President Eliot of Harvard thinks the new game not only less brutal than that of a year ago, but improved to the extent that it is enjoyable. Much of the opposition to football began with Harvard. Not direct opposition to the game itself, but determined opposition to the manner in which the game was being played. While other colleges may take credit for having brought about the reforms of the present season, it is a fact that 80 per cent of them received their initiative from Harvard and such of the football critics as were willing to make a fight for a more open game. Can Harvard Beat Yale? Will Harvard beat Yale? And will the ambition of the Navy to down the Army on the gridiron be gratified this year? These are the two questions which are being eagerly discussed on every college campus in the east. On performance I am rather inclined to answer yes to the first and no to the second question. The game between Yale and Harvard will be fought out next Saturday at New Haven. The fact that Yale plays on her own ground is in her favor, of course, but despite this fact the game which the two teams have been playing during the latter part of the season indicates that the Crimson has a decided shade over the Blue, both in offense and defense. It can be said that neither team is quite up to the highest mark. Neither has fully mastered the new rules, and there are weak spots in both. While it is no sure thing either way, I am inclined to believe, if I were forced to pick a winner, my choice would go to Harvard.

Army Looks Good. As to the army and navy game on December 1 the chances are all in favor of the West Pointers. The future generals have, it is true, been beaten three times, while the sailors have only two defeats marked against them. West Point's conquerors, however, were the three strongest teams in the east—Yale, Harvard and Princeton—and they all won by narrow margins, and as much through good luck as good plays; while the navy was beaten by Penn State and Princeton, and narrowly escaped defeat at the hands of Dickinson and Swarthmore. On the play the sailors seem to have only a remote chance of winning, though they appear confident.

Tigers Were Tough. There is some talk to the effect that West Point will not play Princeton next year because of the rough tactics of the army-men.

It is a fact which records happen to bear out that there were more players put out of the Princeton-West Point game because of the injuries than have happened to be put out of any game this year.

Nassau has a fine eleven, perhaps the greatest of the year, and it is something of a pity that criticism should arise from any source in relation to the work of the players. If there is a disposition to find a little fault at West Point it may be taken for granted that the game was rough, as the West Point authorities seldom have a word to say about the character of the contests which are played on their field.

Indians' Great Team. Early in the season I suggested that the Carlisle Indians were likely to turn out an eleven which would be able to make any team in the country play all the football they knew from start to finish. The prediction has been fully verified, largely through the fine work of Benjie Pierce, who has had the red men in charge.

Pierce is an Indian, and therefore very much of an American. His quick insight into the possibilities of the new rules induced him to teach his eleven a style of play that has been complimented wherever Carlisle has appeared. There is no eleven of approximately the same weight which has made a better showing than the Indians.

Pierce has been assisted by Frank Hudson, the greatest drop kicker of his year, also an Indian; and between them and with the assistance of Carl Flanders, who has taught the center how to handle himself, Carlisle has done so well that the team is rated as one of the high-class organizations of the year.

Handball Results. Holladay and Healey defeated Poulan and McClain at handball last night at M. A. C. The scores were 21-13, 21-11. Eastman and Van Voorhes defeated Moore and Holbrook, 20-22, 21-15, 21-14.

OREGON SAVING HER MEN FOR MULTNOMAH GAME

Coach Bezdek Will Keep Star Men Out of O. A. C. Contest on Saturday.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Nov. 22.—The game with O. A. C. Saturday is not considered a hard one here and Captain Chandler and Coach Bezdek are saving the men for the contest with Multnomah. Oregon is very anxious to beat Multnomah this year, for her students feel that this is the time that she has an equal show with the club. So it is quite likely Moulton, Latourette, Hug and possibly Chandler and Clarke will be out of the game Saturday. Chandler and Clarke have "Charlie horses" from Tuesday's game, Chandler one in each leg, and Clarke one in his right. Sometimes a bruise in the muscles of the thigh will leave very quickly, but at others it hangs on for weeks, as Latourette's has for the past month. So Hayward is unable at this early stage to say whether Chandler and Clarke will be able to play next Saturday. Latourette and Moulton can go into the game, but not unless they have to.

The other men are in fine shape, though of course they are a little stiff and sore. Moores, who played such a splendid game Tuesday, felt better last night than he did before the game. McKinney, Arnsperger, Kuykendall and the rest of the team are in the best of shape.

Coach Norcross did not seem confident yesterday when he left for Corvallis. He said his team were just boys, but put a weak team against the farmers, and before the Washington-Oregon game he seemed to feel that his men had a fairly good show of a tie, but during the contest and afterward despaired of any result but defeat. Oregon, though she is planning to put a weak team against the farmers, does not feel that there will be much of a snap. Corvallis has not been beaten this year, though Washington tied her. Then, too, her field is said to be a veritable quagmire. Just before the season opened, it is said, the gridiron was ploughed up, which makes it very hard on the better team, as Oregon appears to be. Because of this Captain Chandler does not expect to win by a large score.

If Oregon is unable to make a touch-down Moulton will be put in in the second half, in order to place kick. Bezdek, however, wants to keep him for the Multnomah game and run no chances of his being hurt. The coach feels that in him Oregon has the best means of humbling the swift Multnomah aggregation.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST M. A. A. C. YELL

Club Management Makes Original Offer to Members and Students for Sentiments.

The Multnomah rooters have got the fever. It's a perennial malady, the only difference this year being that the symptoms are more alarming than ever before. Tomorrow evening at the club a leader of the rooters will be elected who will conduct the cheering and singing on Thanksgiving afternoon. On account of the keen interest displayed the Multnomah football management has decided to offer prizes for the best Multnomah yell and the best Multnomah song, composed for the occasion of the Thanksgiving game with Oregon. The competition will be confined to Multnomah club members, and the students, girls and boys of Portland academy, Portland High school, Columbia university and Hill Military academy. All songs and yells should be addressed to Frank E. Watkins, at the Multnomah club. The competition will close on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The judges will announce the winners on the same evening. The prizes will be announced tomorrow.

PORTLAND BOWLERS ROLL GREAT GAME OF TEN PINS

The finest bowling exhibition ever witnessed in the city was rolled by the Portland bowlers last night in their match with the Governor's Bowlers. They rolled the unprecedented record of 2,083 pins, also setting all three games. The Bowlers' work was steady and every game was over the 900 mark. The individual averages were all way up. Ullman was high with 150, McKennomy a close second with 111. McKennomy had highest single game, 240; Kruse one pin short, 245. The scores: PORTLANDS. Moore (1) (2) (3) Ave. Case 128 210 192 143-192. McKennomy 181 200 226 198. Ullman 159 171 161-177. Hill 205 170. Kruse 245 191 182-204. Totals 1,995 1061 1023. GOVERNMENT BONDS. Rowe (1) (2) (3) Ave. Gillespie 159 178 199-179. Davies 159 171 161-177. Hill 205 170. Kruse 245 191 182-204. Totals 1,995 1061 1023. Tonight the Lyric play the Beaver team.

THE DALLES WILL TACKLE SECOND MULTNOMAH

Arrangements have been practically completed for a game of football in Portland on Christmas day, between The Dalles eleven and the second Multnomah team. The Dalles eleven has made a fine record this season and will give the young club men a hard game. The M. A. A. C. team is a speedy aggregation and will give a good account of themselves. Dinner to Harvard's Crew. (Journal Special Service.) Boston, Nov. 22.—Members of the faculty, students, alumni and friends of Harvard are to gather about the board at the Hotel Somerset tonight at a banquet in honor of the Harvard crew that rowed against Cambridge in England this summer. President Eliot, Treasurer Alexander Agassiz and others have accepted invitations to speak. Preferred Boat Captain. Allen & Lewis Boat Club.
