Mr. and Mrs. Dan Marks, after an absence of eight months spent in travel in Europe and on the continent, have reached home again. They report a most delightful summer seeing the sights of the old world and visiting friends they had not seen before for years. While in Berlin, Paris and London, Mr. Marks combined business with pleasure, resulting in the purchase of a large stock of diamonds and diamond jewelry, which he brought with him and has now on exhibition at the big jewelry store of Marks & Bloch, Worcester block, Third and Oak. He fortunately secured these goods before the advance in diamonds, and the house announces its determination to sell as if the advance had not occurred.

The will of Charles Wilson, who died in this city October 24, was admitted to probate in the county court by Judge Webster yesterday. The will disposes of property valued at $20,000. To a son, George W. Wilson, is bequeathed $2,000. The widow, Mary Wilson, is to receive the proceeds of a life insurance policy for $500. The remainder of the property is to be divided between two legatees, and Julia A. Wilson, a daughter of the deceased. Mrs. Mary Wilson, the widow, is named executrix.

President H. S. Huson of the Pacific Coast Construction company, who has a $600,000 contract for construction of the Troutdale line of the O. R. & N., and other contracts for the same company, has gone to Pilot Rock to look over the route of the proposed 16-mile extension of the O. R. & N. to that point from a junction near Pendleton. It is said work will be commenced the first of next month, and the line will be completed by spring.

In talking to a man one's attention naturally goes to his clothes. Dandruff on the shoulders, stains on the waistcoat, baggy trousers, proclam in trumpet tones that a man lacks the truest refinement—respect of self. Now for $1.00 we clean and press your clothes and shine your shoes. You can afford to be without our service. Call Main 314 and let us explain our system. Unique Tailoring Co., 309 Stark.

We've been saying that Christmas is hurrying along. Can't you have that negative made immediately? Why not have it made today—tomorrow—so that we can give it the proper attention—take time in retouching—make you the best picture you ever saw? E. W. Moore, expert photographer, Elks' building, Seventh and Stark.

Slough Bridge Closed
To Patrons of the Mississippi Avenue Line.
Commenting on Friday, November 23, 1906, the Montgomery slough bridge will be closed a streetcar traffic. Passengers will be transferred at this point and will be required to walk across the bridge to cars on either side. Extra cars will be placed on the Russell-Shaver line to accommodate those who prefer to take that line rather than transfer at the slough bridge.

Warehouse Site Bought by Local Capitalists
Day's Events in Realty World Show Continued Activity Throughout City.
John Gorman has sold the quarter block at the southeast corner of Fourteenth and Irving to local capitalists, whose names are withheld for the present, and Mrs. Minnie Diekel has sold to the same parties the inside lot facing Thirteenth street, 25x100 and connecting with the rear of the above quarter block, thus giving the purchasers a frontage on Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Irving streets. The sale was made by J. H. Fairbrook and the consideration was $24,000. It is understood that the property was set for warehouse purposes and will be immediately improved.
Max and George Loewenson sold yesterday to two local capitalists, whose names are withheld, the Cooper & Adams building at the southeast corner of First and Clay streets, for $35,000. The building is a four-story brick covering a single lot. The lower floor is occupied by small retail stores and the three up-er stories are used as a hotel. The sale was made through the agency of Goldsmith & Co.
The recent organization of First street property holders into a local improvement association, whose purpose is to improve that street and restore it to its old position as a business center, has given a decided impetus to the property of the district, resulting in a number of important sales. The prices in the past few days.
Peaslee Bros., the front street printers have bought a lot at Eleventh and Davis streets from A. Knott, on which they propose to build a six-story concrete building to be used by this firm as a label factory. Construction of the new building will begin as soon as the architect can prepare the plans and let the contract. The street will be widened through Whiting & Rountree and the price was $12,000.
The deed for the north half of the block occupied by the Willamette iron & steel works with Joseph and Samuel Simon as purchasers was put on record yesterday. The consideration was named at $50,000. The Hazelwood crematory has taken a long lease on this property and will begin at once the erection of a five-story building to be occupied by the crematory. Charles K. Henry, who made the above sale, has also sold to Carlson & Kallstrom the southwest corner of Fifth and Couch for $25,000. The deeds for both these sales were filed for record yesterday.
H. C. and A. Bohlman sold yesterday the quarter block at the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Thompson to George F. Thompson for $20,000.
