

DAY'S EVENTS ON EAST SIDE

Progress in Improvements is Delayed, Causing Disaster to Business.

GREAT AMOUNT OF WORK IS HELD UP

Woodlawn Shows Activity in Real Estate Line—Suburbs Enjoying an Era of Prosperity—Other Notes From Across the River.

East Side Department.
Progress in nearly all east side enterprises is held back to a great degree by the slow work of filling in east side streets, some of which are under contract to be filled and others undergoing a long process involving petitions and remonstrances that is keeping the work back after it has safely passed through the red tape of the council committees and the contractors.

One good fill on Hawthorne avenue, between East First and East Third streets, is about completed and in a few days the last load of dirt will have been dumped in the fill. This work has gone ahead with but little inconvenience to the streetcar service and some of the heaviest cars of the city have been passing over the street during the entire time that it was undergoing improvement. Neither were any of the buildings along the street in any way damaged by the fill or the work during the filling. As soon as the dry weather comes in the spring this street will be paved with hard pavement as far as East Fortieth, and will be one of the prettiest thoroughfares in the city, since many beautiful homes are situated along Hawthorne avenue in the vicinity just above East Twentieth street.

On Union Avenue.
Union avenue is another street that is about completed and will be ready for the paving contractors in the spring. This street has been filled with little damage to buildings. It will be another important improvement for the east side, since at present it cannot be utilized on account of being totally impassable. Grand avenue will also be improved from Sullivan's gulch to Hawthorne avenue, so that next fall the east side should have little to handicap it.

East Stark will be improved at once, and if as far as the city limits, in the opinion of all east side business men, it will be the important thoroughfare of East Portland, since it has an easy grade and is the natural road to the city from all the adjacent country to the east. The east side does not want this street to be obstructed by a street-car line, although its advantages in that respect are evident. It is wanted to enable the country to acquire a direct and practicable communication with the city for business purposes, and it is not intended that it shall be obstructed by a car line.

Others Need Improvement.
Other shorter streets are needing improvement, one of which is the stretch of thoroughfare on Belmont, between East Third street and Union avenue. A contract for this improvement has been let to Whitney L. Boise, the time limit of which expired November 20, with nothing done to the street. The contract was first let to other persons, but Mr. Boise secured the contract at a much lower price since and there the matter has rested.

The Montgomery gulch fill, which has laid under a similar delay, is to be expedited at once. The Pacific Bridge company obtained this contract, but failed to do anything until recently, when the contract was relet to Schnell & Co., contractors outside the city, with the firm in making preparations to prosecute the work immediately. Excavations near the fill will greatly facilitate the execution of the job. The high bank on Mississippi avenue, between Goldsmith and Russell streets, will furnish a considerable supply of dirt for the fill.

The contract for the improvement of East Sixth street, from East Oak to Everett, will be let soon, which will mean another big help. A contract has already been awarded to the Pacific Bridge company for the fill on East Sixth, between Oak and Washington, and as soon as the fill at Stephen's gulch is completed the street will be improved south to Ellsworth street. When all this work has finally been brought to a finish the important work will all have been accomplished. By that time, however, it is likely that the east side will have grown until other improvements as urgent as those now under contemplation will be needed.

Work in Woodlawn.
Street grading in Woodlawn is proceeding as fast as the weather will allow. Durham, Dekum and other streets are being graded and put into the best shape possible, and with the improvements property in Woodlawn is advancing in value with the other suburban localities.

M. E. Martin, an Alaska man, this week bought the Lemke place in the Beverly tract through C. M. Foley at Woodlawn and will build a handsome home on the site. Henry Lemke received $3,500 for the piece. Mr. Martin expects to spend his winters in Portland, while his business interests in Alaska will keep him there during the summer.

Escaping Runaway.
A. H. Willet, a Grand avenue grocer, suffered a loss of a delivery equipment yesterday evening through a runaway. The horse became frightened while standing at East Fifteenth and East Alder and started to run for their barn. They plunged down Alder to East Eighth, where they collided with an electric light pole in an attempt to pass, each choosing a different side. The jolt was so terrific that a heavy transformer on the pole was jarred loose and came crashing down through the wagon, almost completely demolishing it. The wagon and harness came out of the catastrophe badly injured, but neither horse sustained any injury.

Some reports have been received of the misuse of the free library at Sellwood by a few boys who have become regardless of the advantages offered by the institution and who have been making a practice of using the reading-room as a gymnasium. They have greatly annoyed the librarian and patrons of the library and after being ejected have resorted in creating a disturbance on the outside. Authorities have been requested to look into the matter and results are expected soon.

Mrs. G. E. Baker and son of Mount Tabor have just returned from a visit in New York and other eastern states. The funeral of Henry Rothfus, a pioneer Portland hotel keeper, was held yesterday from the family home, 449 East Couch street. The services were under the auspices of Harmon lodge, A. F. & M., and were also attended by members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, Odd Fellows and the German Aid society. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

The numerous schools of the east side today are asking for the usual Thanksgiving offerings for the charitable societies of the city. Some of these large schools contribute a large amount.

Another engine for the east side fire department arrived yesterday. This makes four new engines within the last week. Their distribution has not been decided upon.

E. W. Dunn of Mount Tabor left this week for a short visit in Los Angeles.

HOW DEBILITY SHOWS

AND WHY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS ARE A SPECIFIC FOR IT.

A Case in Watertown in Which a Pale, Weak Girl Was Made Strong and Well.

The symptoms of general debility vary according to the cause but weakness is always present, a tendency to perspire and fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, sometimes black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, vertigo, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep. The cause of the trouble may be some drain on the system or it may be mental or physical overwork, sometimes insufficient nutrition due to digestive disturbance. In the latter case there is generally a loss of appetite and a coated tongue as well as general languor and debility.

Miss Lula M. Metzger, a stenographer, living at 71 Mill street, Watertown, N. Y., suffered for over a year from general debility. "It was caused by overstudy," she says, "and I had no ambition, didn't want to go anywhere, my food didn't taste good, I was run down, lifeless and listless. I took medicines but they failed to help me. Finally my friends recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my mother and she got some for me. I took them for some time and was entirely cured and have had no return of the trouble."

The mother, Mrs. George Metzger, is also enthusiastic in her praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and says that they are her favorite family remedy. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure debility because they actually make new, red, rich blood, and as the blood carries nourishment to all the organs and tissues of the body, nerves as well as muscles, the new blood stimulates the organs to do the work that nature expects of them and normal health follows. As the stomach is toned up, indigestion disappears and greater nourishment is derived from the food. The nerves are revitalized and refreshing sleep is obtained. Not only is this tonic treatment sufficient to cure debility but many severe disorders of the blood and nerves have yielded to its curative action. Fresh air, sufficient exercise and nourishing food greatly assist the pills in effecting cures in all cases of debility.

The pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Send for free diet book.

Convenience and comfort sooner or later make daring inroads on conventionality, which truisms is well illustrated in the increasing popularity of circles other than the merely commercial, of the typewriter. A few years ago a typewriter personal letter was deemed the greatest social sin; today society and club ladies not only use the typewriter for their personal correspondence, but a typewritten signature is entirely permissible. European ladies of high rank have typewriters made of the most dainty elegance. The Remington company a few years ago furnished the czar of Russia with a beautiful gold-mounted machine, and their latest achievement, which certainly speaks enterprise, is to produce a machine that writes the Japanese language. Previous to this they had produced Hebrew, Armenian, Burmese and Hindoo machines, so that now the traveler pushing his way into the mysterious orient is likely to have his preconceived ideas rudely shattered by running onto a white-robed Turk squatting before this American invention and clicking out the legends of his ancestors in true American style. Thus must the picturesque vanish before modern genius.

The Smith-Premier company is showing a new machine called the "Trichrome," which has 96 characters and a roller two feet long. The roller renders it especially valuable for the compiling of reports and statistical work; the three colored ribbon, red, black and purple, makes it possible to prepare an entire report in a single color. Another attractive feature is to be the surprising large number of these machines, and everywhere he hears the same story, "Give us more and better stenographers," which goes to show that here at least is an occupation that is not overdone. The "Monarch" has the advantage of having its keyboard and the writing at all times visible, making it a simple matter to clean the keys and to detect errors.

Never before was there such a great demand for thoroughly competent stenographers and typewriters. The Coast Agency, an enterprising firm that carries a general line of office supplies, has the agency for the "Monarch" machine, which is the latest make to be put on the market. Mr. Cunningham, manager, says that he has sold a surprisingly large number of these machines, and everywhere he hears the same story, "Give us more and better stenographers," which goes to show that here at least is an occupation that is not overdone. The "Monarch" has the advantage of having its keyboard and the writing at all times visible, making it a simple matter to clean the keys and to detect errors.

The Honeyman Hardware company is one of the large Oregon firms, conducting both a retail and wholesale business, that is doing much to promote the idea of Oregon for Oregonians; 15 traveling salesmen are kept constantly on the road, covering the northwest, and retail orders of this part of the country are supplied from the Honeyman stock. Aside from the Portland store, the Honeyman company has no retail stores, however, and so does not in any way conflict with the retail dealer. A most excellent feature planned for the new store, the building for which is rapidly nearing completion, on Fifth and Alder streets, is a practical night school for the store salesmen, where clerks will be educated in the goods they are handling; this will be a great assistance to shoppers who depend more or less on the clerk's opinion in making a decision. Another attractive feature is to be the establishing of a free sportsmen's library, where all the news as well as information concerning outdoor sports will be supplied.
