Suit to recover the price of a dynamo, $500, has been filed in the state circuit court by the Cement Products company against George L. Roife. The complaint alleges that in August, Roife sold to the company a brick manufacturing plant at St. Johns, and guaranteed the plant to be in good working order. Later, it is alleged, it was found that the dynamo in the plant was defective and incapable of supplying sufficient power. Roife is said to have agreed to purchase a new dynamo, and one was power. Rolle is said to have agreed to purchase a new dynamo, and one was ordered at a cost of $500. The company states that Rolfe refused to pay for the machine when it was received, and that the company had to pay for it. They now seek to recover the $500.

Worth of Medicine to Women.

Until a few years ago Mrs. Cora B.
Miller lived in a manner similar to that of thousands of other very poor women of the average small town and villa.
She now resides in her own palatial brown-stone residence, and is considered one of the most successful business women in the United States.

Se eral years ago Mrs. Miller learned of a mild and simple preparation that would readily cure female diseases and piles. After curing herself and many of her frænds she was besieged by ac many women needing the treatment that she decided to furnish it to those who might call for it. She started with only a few dollars capital, and the remedy, possessing true and wonderful merit, producing marvelous cures when doctors and other remedies falled, the demand grew so rapidly she was several times compelled to seek larger quarters. She now occupies one of the oity's largest office buildings, which she owns, and almost one bundred clerks and stenographers are required to assist in this great business.

W. Minrichs, a director of Adolph Frankau & Co., manufacturers of well-known pipes, recently told in a London paper the reasons for the increase in prices of briars the world over.

"The chief cause," he said, "is that since July there have been strikes in the two great pipe-making districts—St. Claude, the French center near Geneva, and Nuremberg, the German area.

"These strikes continued for three months, and the manufacture of briar bowls was practically at a standstill for three months, and the manufacture of three months, and T:30 p. m.

Mulian, leader of the Citizens' ticket, by a vote of 73

"The same state of affairs obtains at Nuremberg, but I have just heard that the manufacturers have decided to combine and protect their interests against what is believed to be more of a political than a trade union agitation.

"The best briar is found in Italy, where the peasants dig it out, boil it, and out it into blocks, which are exported to the French and German manufacturing, centers. The bowls, which are turned roughly in these centers, arrive in England, where they are finished and polished and fitted with mouthpieces.

"For some time past there has been a scarcity of good briar in Italy. The earthquake in Calabria so shattered the industry that the poor people turned to other employment."
