

THE VANCOUVER TEAM VICTORIOUS

Seattle's Strong Eleven is Beaten by the Boys From Portland.

BAGSHAW IS FORCED BACK FOR A SAFETY

Captain Jordan Makes a Timely Tackle Which Results in a Victory for Winged "M" Men—M. A. A. C. Players Outclassed Opponents.

(Journal Special Service.)
 Seattle, Dec. 28.—Multnomah 2, Seattle 6. The Multnomah variety from Portland paid its annual visit to this city yesterday and managed to spoil the Seattle team by the score of two points, made within four minutes of the call of time, in the second half. The score was a safety and came as the result of Captain Jordan's vigilance in making an effort to get the ball back into the line after catching "Bud" James' splendid attempt of a drop kick from the 45-yard line. Bagshaw made an heroic effort to get the ball back into the field of play, but with two of his own men pulling him for dear life, Jordan hung on like a leech, holding his sturdy opponent until reinforcements and Referee Boyd came along when the announcement was promptly made that a safety had been made. The loyal rooters of Multnomah, who had made the trip to see the game, went wild with delight as they felt that Seattle would not be able to score.

The day was ideal for football, rather cool, but just right for the players. The game was played on the University of Washington gridiron, and while it took 45 minutes to make the trip from the central city, nearly 1,000 persons turned out to see the play.

The match was one of the hardest ever played between the two teams, and despite the keen rivalry that existed, there was no unnecessary roughness. Down, of the Seattle team, got too easy once with his fists and was promptly ordered out of the game by Referee Boyd. The Multnomah men showed their sportsmanship by coming to Dowd's requests and requests, which he granted. It is needless to say that Dowd didn't forget himself again.

Both elevens presented their best men. Seattle won the toss and kicked off. James caught the ball and went back 15 yards before being downed. Then Longman tore off five yards around left end and after making yard after yard, he was tackled by the Seattle team. Seattle had her best chance to score, but M. A. A. C. held and took the ball on a forward pass that hit the ground. Here Longman, Dolph, James, McMillan and Pratt ripped up Seattle for 40 yards. Seattle was unable to gain and M. A. A. C. took the ball and rushed it to Seattle's 30-yard line. A forward pass to Downing at this time was one of the brilliant plays of the game. The ball went back and forth mostly in S. A. C.'s territory until time was called.

ACT IN THEIR SLEEP

Remarkable Powers of Victims of Somnambulism.
 Professor Pierre Janet of the Paris Sorbonne in McCoy hall of the Johns Hopkins university delivered a lecture on "Mind and Medicine," and dealt with hysteria, particularly that form of hysteria which evidences itself in somnambulism.

He will ask you to consider one of the most typical and characteristic symptoms of hysteria, and that is somnambulism," he said. "To understand it well, I believe, to understand all hysterical phases that are more or less constructed on the same model," says the Baltimore News.

"What is somnambulism? Popularly, a somnambulist is an individual who thinks and acts while he is asleep. That answer is not very clear, for we do not know very well what sleep is. You will find nowhere a more beautiful description of the popular idea of somnambulism than in Shakespeare's tragedy of 'Macbeth.' Modern examples are much less dramatic but you will let me cite a few which have come under my observation.

"There is a young woman, 27 years old, whom I will call 'Gib.' She heard one day that her niece, who lived next door, had thrown herself out of the window in a fit of delirium. She rushed down stairs and was confronted with the sight of the body in the street. After the first shock she seemed to be but little moved, prepared the body for the funeral, and was quiet and calm. But from that time on she grew more and more gloomy. Nearly every day now she enters into a strange trance. She seems as if asleep and she speaks softly to her niece, calling her by name, Pauline. She tells her that she admires her courage, that her death was a beautiful one. She rises, goes to the window, opens it and if her friends do not stop her would undoubtedly throw herself into the street.

"Another case, a woman 35 years old, who was frightened by a lioness at the Zoo. She was thrown in a delirium which lasted eight days, and since then she repeats these fits of delirium. She walks on all fours, rushes on people, tries to bite them, even seizes photographs of children and shows them up, and acts altogether as if she herself were a lioness.

"There is a man of 30, with both legs paralyzed, who has been an invalid for years. In the middle of the night he rises slowly from his bed, takes his pillow and hugs it close, walks out of

SECOND M. A. A. C. PLAYS A TIE

The Dalles Columbias and Club Juniors Play a Stubborn Draw Contest.

TULLY AT TACKLE WAS THE STAR OF MATCH

After Two Hard-Fought Halves, in Which Neither Side Had a Big Advantage, the Contested Goal Lines Were Not Crossed.

In a hard, clean game the Multnomah second team and The Dalles Columbias played a scoreless match on Multnomah field yesterday afternoon before a small crowd of spectators, due largely to the miserable weather.

Both teams were evenly matched. The Dalles team showing the best team work but were not nearly so strong on the offensive, the Multnomah lads making yardage time after time while the visitors were unable to do much in that line. Had the Multnomah team had a few more games earlier in the season to perfect their team work the victory would probably have gone to them. As it was the visitors had the better of the first half, while Multnomah outplayed them in the second half.

Tully a Star.

The bright particular star of the Multnomah team was Tully, the big tackle who put up the best individual game of any man on the field. Time after time, especially in the second half, he opened up holes that a wagon could drive through, and through these Alexander Owen and Al made the seasonal advance early in this half. Poley captained the team in good shape and his fierce tackling was one of the features of the game. All of Multnomah's back field put up good work.

For the visitors McCoy, at fullback, played good defensive ball and punted well, while Captain Murray ran his team with excellent judgment and handled punts perfectly in the half possible, considering the wet, slippery condition of the ball. Pickett's defensive work in backing up the line was also of high order.

In the first half, after a series of plunges, aided by a bad miss of a punt in Multnomah's back field, the Dalles team placed the ball on Multnomah's 10-yard line, but were held and Multnomah punted out of danger.

Back and Forth.

The ball seewaged back and forth in Multnomah's territory after this until the end of the half. In the second half Multnomah started off in whirlwind fashion and advanced the ball about 60 yards from kickoff by fierce line plunging and back field punts. The Dalles 25-yard line and the Dalles punted down in Multnomah territory. Multnomah at this time made an unfortunate fumble and the ball was dangerously close to being in the hands of the Dalles, but they held well and took the ball from the "green and white" by great defensive playing, every man being in every play, and Austin closed out of danger. The Dalles had lost their chance to score and the game ended about Multnomah's 40-yard line with the ball in their possession.

The officials gave perfect satisfaction and contrary to reports yesterday morning, there was no squabbling over their selection. Acting Manager Watkins of Multnomah chose Kerron for umpire, Major Von Erlgfstein being unable to attend, while Manager Strubling of the visitors selected "Chandler," a first choice made the hearty approval of the home clubmen, while "Pat" McArthur was the choice of both managers for head linesman. While Multnomah suffered most from penalties, the Dalles deservedly and there was no dissatisfaction expressed during or after the game over their decisions.

The following is the lineup:

GERMAN BEHEADED FOR MURDER

Rudolf Hennig Screams and Curses Upon Scaffold While Head is Forced on Block.
 SELECT COMPANY IN EVENING DRESS ATTEND
 Executioner Swings Glittering Ax and Head is Cleanly Severed With a Well-Directed Blow—Protests Innocence to the Last.

(Journal Special Service.)
 Berlin, Dec. 28.—Rudolf Hennig, the daring murderer who made a sensational escape from the clutches of the Kaiser's police and was subsequently recaptured after a pitched battle in the streets of Stettin, was beheaded in Berlin upon the anniversary of his crime.

The execution took place in the presence of a select company of invited guests, some of whom were clad in evening dress. These latter included the headman, Herr Schweitz of Breslau, who also wore white gloves.

Shouting incoherent curses, the murderer was thrown violently to his knees by the executioner's three muscular assistants, who placed his head squarely in the center of the block. Having placed the death warrant bearing the Kaiser's signature in his wallet, the executioner swung his glittering ax, and Hennig's head was cleanly severed with a well-directed blow.

Claims His Innocence.

Hennig was a leather worker and a year ago murdered a waiter in the woods near Potsdam to obtain possession of his savings bank book. Later he made a sensational escape from the police over Berlin roofs.

Hennig declined the offers of consolation made to him by the prison chaplain, asserting to the end that he was innocent of the crime of murder.

At 7:15 o'clock the witnesses assembled at the place of execution. They consisted of about 25 persons, among them being the judges and some of the jury who tried him, and they, with 35 police officers in full uniform, made a semicircle round the scaffold. Within the semicircle was a small table, at which sat the public prosecutor, and in the background was another small table, covered with a black cloth, on which lay the executioner's implements.

In the middle was the scaffold, consisting of a low bench painted red, with an indentation in the middle for the condemned man's head.

Screams on Scaffold.

When Hennig appeared on the scene, accompanied by five guards, he uttered strange cries and looked pale and careworn. He was dressed in prison garments, his neck was bare, and the clothes on the upper part of his body so arranged that they could easily be moved down.

Hennig tried to drown the reading of the death sentence with screams. Then he became perfectly still. The executioner, dressed in black with white kid gloves, glanced at the king's signature at the bottom of the document, then carefully placed it in a portfolio.

Three assistants thereupon seized Hennig, flung him down, forced his head into the indentation of the block, and one blow of the ax severed it from the body. The coffin, painted black, was brought forward, and the body laid in it with the head at the foot.

The document was then drawn up, which was printed on small red sheets, as is customary in Germany, and these were afterward placarded all over Potsdam town, in which the murder was committed.

STANFORD DEFEATED BY THE VANCOUVER TEAM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 28.—Vancouver defeated Stanford in the first Rugby football game of the series yesterday, 11 points to 8. The Cardinals were in the lead by two points up to two minutes before time, when Captain Marpole of Vancouver made a long, dribble which was followed up by forwards, resulting in a try for Vancouver.

Marpole kicked the goal. It was a great match, with a record crowd present.

When President Murphy of the Chicago Cubs begins to number the players what will he do when he comes to 13 and 13?

SPORTING GOSSIP

The latest trick appears to be to swap umpires as well as players. The Eastern league and American association will exchange two or more of their arbiters the coming season.

The Pacific Coast league players will not be permitted to play with teams outside the league next season.

If the National league holds out for a long season and the American league for a short one there are likely to be a good many conflicting dates in the cities that have two clubs.

Jack Doyle, who is to manage the Milwaukee club the coming season, should be able to write an interesting book on baseball. Few players of the present day have had the experience "Scrappy" Jack has had in the different leagues of the country.

Manager Armour of Toledo is certainly doing a lot of hustling to make the "Mud Hens" a winner in '07.

The feud in the American league certainly must be a thing of the past when President Johnson consents to make the spring trip with the White Sox.

John Gansel finished second in the list of Central league first basemen. Myers of Canton topped him by two points, their averages being .993 and .994 respectively.

About time for another Nevada town to offer $1,000,000 for a fight.

Tommy Murphy, the little Harlem fighter, thinks Chelsea is his hoodoo. He says sickness, postponements and rank decisions has been a combination too hard for him to beat.

Marvin Hart says he wants to fight Jack Johnson. You remember Marvin, don't you?

The new 3-year-old stake of the Crest Island Jockey club will be worth $22,500, with $10,000 additional to be

Stubborn Coughs and Colds CURED BY FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

Obtains, racking Coughs that make your head ache, your throat and lungs sore and inflamed, that rob you of sleep until your system becomes so run down that you are in grave danger of Pneumonia or Consumption, are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar.

It soothes and heals the inflamed air passages, allays the feverish conditions, stops the cough and prevents serious results from a cold.

SOLELY'S HONEY AND TAR

is the only prominent cough medicine on the market that does not contain opiates or harmful drugs of any kind and on this account is safest for children.

It is unexcelled for Croup and Whooping Cough and will quickly cure the racking cough which follows measles and leaves so many children with weak lungs unless properly treated.

Remember the name—Foley's Honey and Tar—and refuse substitutes that cost you the same as the genuine. Do not take chances with some unknown preparation.

Consumption Threatened.
 C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champlagn, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar; it cured me, and I have not been troubled since."

Three sizes—25c, 50c, $1.00.
 The 50 cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much.

UNLESS BAKER COUNTY IS ANTI-EXPANSIONIST

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Granite, Or., Dec. 28.—Many people of this section are very much interested in the project of cutting the Granite county off from Grant county and adding it to Baker county. It is believed that unless some opposition is met with from Baker—and such opposition is not far off—beyond question next year will see this section a part of Baker county. There is no opposition to the change being made on the part of Grant county, which leaves the whole proposition up to Baker county.
