Kansas Elects Full-Blooded Kaw to Represent Her in Upper House at Capital.

(Special News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Washington, Jan. 12.—Kansas is to have the distinction of being the first state to be represented in the United States senate by an Indian. Charles Curtis, who has just been nominated by the Republican legislative caucus for that office, is an aboriginal American. He is one of the few remaining of the Kaw tribe which is fast fading away. Both Mr. Curtis and his children received allotments when the Indians' lands were parcelled out by the government.

SALVAGE ON PONCE IS FORTUNE FOR SAILORS

(Special News by Longest Leased Wire.)
New York, Jan. 12.—The salvage for the rescue of the steamship Ponce may amount to $200,000, according to experts on shipping who discussed today the chances of a great "haul" for the German steamship Ponce. The Ponce, if such should be the price paid for saving the disabled steamer of the New York and Porto Rico Steamship company, it would mean her owners will lose just half the combined value of the ship and cargo.

Cured of Piles by Pyramid Pile Cure

If You Suffer, You Can Be Cured.
Cost's Nothing to Try.

Thousands of cases of piles of excruciating severity—worse no doubt than yours, have been cured painlessly, quickly and permanently, while the patient has been at his work without the loss of time necessitated by an operation. In fact, many a sufferer has not been able to reach his work or even move across the room until after using the home remedy prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co.

No More Piles! One Box Cured—Only 50 Cents!

Such was the condition of an Indian business man, as shown in a recent letter:
"Received your sample of Pile Cure and have given it a fair trial and it has proven the best I ever tried. I can recommend you highly in this vicinity. Have used your sample and one box and it has effected a complete cure. It has been worth $100 to me."

BLAME FOR RIOTS

protest was brushed aside as of no significance. They were sent to Brownsville in the face of their known record as a lawless, brutal, murderous gang of cut-throats. They committed various minor outrages. The officers poked about the charges against the men. So in about two weeks afterward somebody ran amuck, while men were killed. Bullets were fired through houses containing women and children; but as it was done in the dark it was difficult to prove technically that the shooting was done by colored soldiers.

"Yet it was known that this crime was done by men of the Twenty-fifth infantry. And I know the character of negroes; my knowledge of them is as great as that of any other men living. A commission is going down there; I hope it will get evidence to shield innocent negroes, and to punish the guilty ones."

Exceeded His Power.
"Mr. President, let me define briefly how I will demonstrate how the president has exceeded his powers and done an unconstitutional act. I challenge any one to produce an article of war to make a conspiracy of silence a crime. No one can even show a scintilla of articles of war in that direction; and as to treason, that charge is too absurd to be even considered. But the foundation of my contention is that we shall not punish the innocent with the guilty—the greatest lawyers have said that it was better to let 10 guilty men escape than that one innocent should suffer. And as to this conspiracy of silence, the president tells the men that the good ones of them must aid in bringing the guilty to justice. Does the president really think that when he says must he can thereby change the nature of the crime? Does not everybody know that negroes will bear torture with stoicism rather than betray their fellow? And shall the negro be punished because he is true to his nature, his race and his culture?"

"Why did the soldiers attack the town and not individuals, but because their act was due to race hatred—to hatred of white men collectively? And then they rushed back, as they had been trained to do, and suspended detention, having gratified their revenge on the white race. And who was responsible for this revengeful feeling in the negro soldiers?"

In Question of Race.
"The whole question is one of race. The white people of the United States are face to face with the vital issue whether the Caucasian race shall share its inheritance with other races of the earth. Shall Cuba be governed by negroes or whites? On the Pacific coast the relations between Mongolians and Caucasians are involved."

The president favors absolute obliteration of the race line, granting full citizenship to the Japanese. The Americans on the coast are bitterly opposed to this policy. They ought to know what is for their best interests, and they will undoubtedly have the sympathy and aid of their fellow citizens north and south in protecting their interests.

Nevertheless, these two phases of the race problem sink into insignificance alongside of the greater and more vital question of the relationship of the races in the southern states of the union.

Whites Must Rule.
"But the white men and women of the south are resolved to maintain control of their state governments. Every day the conditions are growing more aggravated. Are things to drift until direful tragedies multiply? Forty years after we fought to settle the race question the conditions are some respects more threatening than they were in 1861."
"It is high time this matter were brought before the country in some more definite way. The greatest tragedy shown in the Brownsville tragedy shows the public concern in the race question. It is useless to dismiss the matter with a wave of the hand. For the slogan, 'America for the Americans'—this is a white man's country and white men shall govern it."

VATICAN AND KAISER NEARING SETTLEMENT

(Special News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Berlin, Jan. 12.—The silver anniversary celebration of Germany's greatest cardinal, George Kopp, as bishop of Breslau, has thrown a strong light upon the desire of the kaiser and the pope to continue their friendship, irrespective of party opposition in Germany. The presence of Dr. Studt, Prussian minister of education, at Breslau, demonstrates that the Vatican is working for a settlement of the political dispute.

Cardinal Kopp has always fought against the democratic and oppositional tendencies of the Catholic parliamentary party. This is not doubted here that Cardinal Kopp has incited the nomination of independent Catholic candidates even in constituencies of Catholic leaders. The government's appreciation of the Vatican's attitude goes far to shatter the hope of the liberals and protestants for an anti-Catholic majority in the Reichstag.

TENDS LIGHTHOUSE FOR HER DEAD SPOUSE

(Publishers' Press by Special Leased Wire.)
New Haven, Conn., Jan. 12.—For two nights, while the storm raged on the sound, Mrs. Samuel A. Armour, alone in the Epworth lighthouse, two miles from the shore, kept the lights burning brightly, kept the foghorn sounding and did her duty like the heroine that she is. Yet during every instant of the two nights, while she was warning sailors of the shoals and rocks, Mrs. Armour was distracted by the dread that her husband, the lighthouse keeper, had perished.

BAILEY'S CAUSE GETS HARD JOLT IN TEXAS

(Publishers' Press by Special Leased Wire.)
Austin, Texas, Jan. 12.—The cause of Senator Joseph W. Bailey was given a severe jolt in the legislature today by a four-hour speech by Representative John M. Duncanson of Smith county. He introduced a resolution for a rigid investigation of Bailey. He put Bailey in the rack and kept him there the entire time and Bailey's friends are completely demoralized tonight.

Bailey's friends offered a substitute to the resolution, providing for a very mild investigation, this being caustically ridiculed by Duncanson. Bailey gave out a statement tonight in which he demands that charges against him be made specific.

(Publishers' Press by Special Leased Wire.)

Cockrell and Attorney James B. Marcum at Jackson, John Smith, who is jointly indicted for these crimes, has fled from this city. The fugitive has given bond in the sum of $30,000 for his appearance. James and Alexander Hargis are his securities. His flight has given alarm to his bondsmen.

The town of Jackson is in a condition bordering upon anarchy and the police are powerless to preserve order. Threats are being made on both sides to resort to violence and another feud outbreak seems imminent.

AMBASSADOR WHITE IS RECEIVED BY MONARCH

(Special News by Longest Leased Wire.)
Rome, Jan. 12.—This has been a somewhat eventful day for King Victor Emmanuel. This morning his majesty received in private audience United States Ambassador White and was presented by the United States diplomat with the diploma of doctor of laws and the academic hood which had been conferred upon him by the University of Pennsylvania. Mr. White also presented the king with the medal awarded him by the St. Louis exposition.

His majesty, in expressing his gratification with the honor done him by the United States, remarked that he had a peculiar interest in the great transatlantic republic, both because the United States was discovered by an Italian and because so many thousands of his subjects had found new homes and prosperity in the United States.

MAYOR LANE GRILLS

certain number of criminals known as 'stool pigeons' and thus interfered with the proper operation of the department.

Under the new rule established by the civil service commission, detectives have been placed in the same class as patrolmen, and patrolmen may at any time be assigned to duty in plain clothes, or detectives may be assigned to do duty as patrolmen.

In respect to the enforcement of laws and conduct of affairs in general, so far as I can ascertain, no graft is being practiced upon any class or individual, no blackmail or backbitch is being collected from anyone."

Portland Healthiest City.
In referring to the health department, the mayor points out that Portland still holds its record as the healthiest city in the United States. He cites the changes that have been made in the department, and incorporates in the message several recommendations. Among them is the erection and maintenance of a house for the detention of cases of suspected infectious diseases, and also an emergency hospital.

The mayor speaks highly of the work of the civil service department, saying that "the city is receiving at the hands of the civil service commission a clean cut and effective civil service government could ask for or hope to receive."

Water Charges Waived.
In referring to the water department, Mayor Lane says: "I have not considered this" (the system of paying for water) "a just or equitable method for the payment of the charges incurred in the acquisition, extension and maintenance of this vital department and have at all times protested against it and I am pleased to be able to say that the honorable board of water commissioners have taken a step in the right direction in lowering the rates for water to the smaller consumer, from whom most of the money designed for such purposes came, and have lowered his rates one-third for the coming year, also they have reduced the meter rates to the same class of consumers when such service pipe is attached to a meter, to a more equitable rate."

Praises Fire Department.
The work of the fire department for the year is discussed with much detail. Mayor Lane refers to it as "the popular department." He tells of the improvements and plans for further improvements and takes occasion to mention that in the erection of new engine houses the city was saved considerable money "under the able supervision of that painstaking and valued public servant, Lee Holden, battalion chief of the city fire department." He urges an increase in salaries.

In further describing the work for the year Mayor Lane says: "The gratitude of the city is justly due the officers and members of this department for the brave and heroic service which they have so many times performed in the past year in the work of saving property and human lives, and I wish to thus publicly express to them my deep appreciation of their services."

Another Examining Inspector.
He recommends the plumbing inspecting department be increased by the addition of another inspector. With reference to the park department he suggests:

—the making plans for the future park system of this city the immediate and pressing need for a series of small parks and open places to be used as play grounds for children in the different sections of the city should not be overlooked.

He believes that the people should have the right to remove an officer whom they have elected if at any time it is found to be in the interest of the city. He says that the only way of doing this is to amend the charter to that effect be submitted to the people.

In concluding the message Mayor Lane says that he is confident that the people will give their support to the commission having control of the different departments.

GUBERNATORIAL MIXUP OCCURS IN TENNESSEE

(Publishers' Press by Special Leased Wire.)
Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 12.—An unusual situation has arisen in Tennessee, temporarily involving the governorship, as well as complicating many state affairs. Senator E. G. Tollefsen, speaker of the house, has been elected acting governor of the state, and as such the affairs of the state are in his hands until the new governor, M. R. Patterson, is inaugurated, January 17.

The constitution of Tennessee does not provide for a lieutenant governor, but makes the speaker of the senate next in line. During the last legislature Governor J. B. D. Frazier was elected to the United States senate to succeed General Bate, leaving the chair of the governor vacant. John I. Cox was then speaker of the senate and heir to the governorship. Friends of Speaker Tollefsen now contend that since the senate has elected a new speaker that official is now acting governor until Senator Patterson is inaugurated and Governor Cox has no state position at all.

JOSEPHINE'S EXCELLENT FINANCIAL CONDITION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Jan. 12.—The tax levy for Josephine county, covering the year 1907, has been fixed by the county court. The total levy this year is 14 mills, divided as follows: For general purposes, 3 1/2 mills; state tax, 3 mills; school purposes, 4 mills; roads, 3 mills; public school, 1/2 mill. The county is in much better financial condition this year than it has ever been before. Though the county debt has not been materially decreased, the county court and the assessor have succeeded in almost doubling the taxable value of property. This has not only stimulated prices generally, especially in the matter of coal, mines and timber holdings, but has reduced the levy almost half. All considered, Josephine county was never in better condition than it is today and the prospects for a successful season in all lines of industry represented here are very bright.
