

SEATTLE SPORTS ARE ANXIOUS

Judge McCredie's Visit to Sound City This Week Occasions Comment

HOW NORTHERN FANS REGARD THE SITUATION

Facts and Figures Are Given to Prove That No One Outside of the Sound City Could Hope to Produce a Successful Club.

President W. W. McCredie of the Portland baseball club will leave tomorrow for Seattle in an attempt to figure out exactly the baseball conditions in that city, with the principal view of seeing that the rights of the Pacific Coast league are not disturbed in any way by the promoters of the Northwest league. On hearing of McCredie's intended visit, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer gives some advance advice and some facts that are not intended to encourage the Coast league. Mr. Telfer, here a sports correspondent, and indeed, at the outset they are a reflection on the sportsmanlike qualities of the Seattle sports.

McCredie is the magnate behind the Portland team, and just now he is looking to be the big duck in a small pond at Seattle. Because Russ Hall has not seen his way clear to make money with Seattle in the Coast league and has returned the franchise to the league, the Portland team seems to think that Russ is all kinds of a bad fellow.

Russ Hall gave Seattle some good baseball last year, but it was not only a couple of thousand dollars that he and Jim Agnew dropped, but several thousand more. Because Russ Hall talks in a lordly manner of "putting a couple of thousand himself into that Seattle club," Seattle fans will wonder just what kind of ball $5,000 will give them.

The Seattle baseball club broke about even on the last few seasons simply because Seattle real estate happened to be a good investment. They sold their baseball park for a sufficient advance to cover their losses of about $40,000. McCredie's idea, apparently, is to give Seattle syndicate ball. He must realize that Seattle will not make money for a Coast league owing to the fact that the fans are not taking any particular interest in the doings of the other teams.

San Francisco and Los Angeles are too far away to greatly interest the Seattle baseball men, but with Tacoma and Spokane in the league is a different matter. There is a natural rivalry between Seattle and the cities named, and this rivalry will naturally tend to increase the attendance at the ball games.

If the Northwest league can draw larger crowds than the Coast league, they are not afraid to pay a good salary and get as good players as it stands to reason that they can. Portland is backing W. A. Lucas more than the Northwest league, and McCredie is coming to try to get the fans, even if he has to make Seattle stand the brunt of his enmity against the Northwest league's president.

Syndicate baseball is not wanted by the Seattle fans who are trying for years to get Durdale back into the game, and now that the fat manager has come out again for the Northwest league, the fans are going to back him to the hilt. McCredie and his syndicate team will find it a hard job to make anything like a success here, and when the Portland jurist makes his appearance here, he will realize this fact for himself much better than he now does. "A couple of thousand" won't be a look-in.

First, they must get a park—no small job in itself—and then they must get backing, and no Seattle financier is going to be fool enough to back a team in the Coast league under the present conditions. Leaving aside all matters in regard to attendance, the backers of the team have absolutely no security. The park lease, players' contracts and other such security are held by the league. And according to a Portland paper they are the "property" of the Coast league and virtually of the McCredies.

The Coast league boys will be here in the course of a few days, and Seattle fans will watch his work with great interest.

LOCAL BOWLERS REARRANGE THEIR TEN PIN TEAMS

Five-Men Clubs Give Way to Three for the Balance of the Pinning Season.

The Oregon Bowling association, having completed their five-man team schedule, held a meeting and concluded that three-man teams would furnish more sport for the remaining season. The teams have been classified according to the individual averages made in the past league and divided into two classes—"A" and "B"—Class "A" to bowl Tuesday and Friday nights and class "B" on Monday Wednesday and Friday nights. The teams selected are as follows:

Class "A"—Krusse, Hagre, Harrington; Ball, Lunney, Moser; Keating, Reesa, McCaslin; Case, Kneave, Davis; McMonomy, Gillispie, Sloan; Ellman, Moore, Rowe; Barbour, Hanson, Boulanger; Hamilton, Lamond, Capen.

Class "B"—Davidson, Duffy, Newstead; Raymond, Amittage, Campbell; Amba, Melean, Shafer; La Roche, Smith, Danford; Ogden, Woodman, Delphin; Sumption, Stein, Hergert; Newberger, Anspach; Stratton; Kees, Noman, Deaver; Kalk, Closset, Gaillard; Volinet, Withers, Hinzenkamp; Christian, Tonsing, Ross; Stammers, Swartz, Dale.

SPORTING GOSSIP

The return of Coach Bezek to Eugene on Saturday last was a great event in the lives of the Oregon students, who hold him as the greatest athletic teacher and coach that the west has ever seen. Read this and report sent out by a Eugene correspondent, and you wonder why there is jubilation over the great football coach's return:

"The absence of Coach Bezek has thrown the U. O. basketball team into a melancholy fit of the blues. There were other expressions of a similar character that could not but make outsiders as well as the students feel for the coach. Now that he has returned to his usual haunts, let the sons of the Lemon Yellow rejoice exceedingly and be glad, for there is but one Hugo Bezek."

The bowling committee of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing bowling teams. The interest in bowling at the club has increased with the cold weather, and with four or five crack teams in the field some interesting matches may be looked for.

Says John L. Sullivan: "Be honest, boxing, as well as all other sports, is an honest man's game. The public has no use for a faker in anything, but less in boxing than any other place. I did not take any interest in the Gans-Horman fight, because one of the principals is a self-confessed faker. He is a great boxer, and yet he has not made much money. Clus is not what him, and the public would not go to see him until he was brought into the Nevada mining camps, where it seems they will not stand for fakery."

The Parks defeated the Eagles yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 0. The star of the game was Cook, who made a 20-yard run and kicked the goal.

Was ever a boxer the object of so much concern and tender solicitude as is Jim Jeffries? "Tad" started all the trouble by declaring that Jeff had practically agreed to meet Johnson, the big California brawler, for the purse of $50,000 hung up by Tex Ricard. This was promptly punctured, but it was enough to keep Jeff in the spotlight, where he belongs when talking fight for keeps.

But all the windblowing in the world will not produce a fighter anywhere near fit to cope with Jeff. No matter what may be said to the contrary, the only one on the surface who approximately approaches him physically is Johnson. In their efforts to boost the latter some writers have intimated that Jeff is really afraid of him. Those who know Jeff know that he is afraid of no one living, and he is game enough not to be cajoled into a meeting with Johnson.

It was thought that the arrival of Squires would sidetrack the Johnson agitation, but according to a cable from Australia, Squires, who is about to set sail for San Francisco, has reconsidered his announced willingness to meet Jeff. He wants something softer to start in on. As the most likely aspirant—O'Brien and Burns—for the heavyweight title are now tied up until next May, it would seem that Squires will have a long wait for the opportunity to show his class. And as for Jeff, unless he consents to take on Johnson, he might as well return to the farm and follow the life of a gentleman agriculturist.

RING NAMES ADOPTED BY WELL-KNOWN BOXERS

Odd Appellations Taken by the Gentry That Live by the Use of Their Fists.

Many of the leading boxers of the country who use assumed names in the prize ring would hardly be known by their family names. For instance, many of them are not aware that Philadelphia Joseph O'Brien was christened Joseph Francis Anthony Hagan. Horowitz are some of the ring's titles of famous fighters, past and present, and the names by which they are known in private life:

The Nonpareil, Jack Dempsey; John L. John L. Sullivan; Gentleman Jim, James J. Corbett; Fitz, Robert J. Fitzsimmons; Jeff, James Joseph Jeffries; The Barbados Wonder, Joseph Walcott; Young Griffe, Albert Griffiths; Australian Billy, Thomas William Murphy; Belfast Spider, Isaac O'Neill; Weir; Stretcher Cyclone, William Myer; Braintree Lad, John Griffin; Saginaw Kid, George Lavigne; Jake Kilrain, John Joseph Kilrain; Ithaca Giant, Michael Conley; Mysterious Billy Smith, Amos Smith; Harlem Coffee Cooler, Frank Craig; Barrier Champion, Joe Goddard; Sydney Cornstalk, Francis Patrick Siewin; Little Chocolate, George Dixon; Haverstraw Brickmaker, Billy Ernst; Jack Daly, Cornelius T. Moriarty; Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, Joseph F. A. Hagan; Spike Sullivan, William J. Sullivan; Tommy Ryan, Joe Young; Kid McCoy, Norman Selby; Sandy Ferguson, John Henry Ferguson; Young Peter Jackson, Sim Tompkins; Tommy Burns, Noah Brusse; Honey Melody, William Melody; Young Corbett, William H. Rothwell; Young Corbett, George Green; Kid McPartland, William Lawrence; Tipton Slaughter, Benny Yanger; Battling Nelson, Ascar Matthew Battling Nelson; Terrible Terry, Terrence Joseph McGovern; Little Chocolate, George Dixon; Peckar Palmer, Thomas Palmer; Hugo Kelly, Hugo Macchell; Uak Russell, John J. Russell; Kid Sullivan, Harry Sheehy; Charley Neary, Charles Nebrin; Young Ernie, Hugo Clavin; Dick Hyland, William H. Hines; Young Mowatt, Thomas Moore; Tommy Daly, Thomas Bresha; Young Donohue, Phil Powers; Joe Thomas, Joe Daley; Harry Lewis, Herman Besterman; Eddie Hanlon, Charles Walter Hanlon; Young Mahoney, Otto Haster; Steve Kinney, Herman Wendorf.

It will be noticed that the two Young Corbetts in the above list, of which George Green is the original. He is a middleweight and a native of California. He was a protégé of Jim Corbett, and made his professional debut about 17 years ago. The younger one, William Rothwell, is still in the game and bears the distinction of being the only one who ever knocked out Terry McGovern, having accomplished this feat on two occasions.

PROMINENT DOGS IN NATIONAL FIELD FINALS

(Journal Special Service.) Grand Junction, Tenn., Jan. 14.—Members of the United States Field Trials club rounded up here today for their meeting and competitions. As there is plenty of game on the preserves near here, good sport is anticipated. Many promising sportmen from a distance are here, having been attracted by the rich stakes offered. Some of the finest breed pointers and setters in the country are entered. The program is made up of the same events as in previous years, including the Derby and open championship. The unusually large number of entries will probably cause the events to continue for 10 days or longer.

THIS A. C. C. AGGREGATION KNOWS BASKETBALL

The A. C. C. boys are a lively aggregation at the basketball game. In this last match they defeated the Y. M. C. A. Zebras 18 to 11. The line-up was: A. A. C. Position Zebras. Undine.....Forward.....Thomas Williams.....Forward.....Sheets Phillips.....Center.....Vinson James.....Guard.....Bruce Shorehider.....Guard.....Greeney

The A. C. C. boys are the junior champions of Portland and are scheduled to meet M. A. A. C. Seconds on January 19. Teams averaging 125 pounds, desiring games with M. A. A. C. should address Harvey Hoffman, 828 Montana avenue.

Wrestling at La Grande.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., Jan. 14.—A wrestling match will be one of the interesting events to take place in this city in the near future. The contest will be under the direction of Professor L. M. Christol, and will be between Henry Sheffer, a pupil of Haysom's, one world's champion wrestler, and a young man employed on the railroad. The match will call for $100 a side.

Foothills for Graduates.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 14.—The recommendation of the athletic council that gold footballs should be given to the graduating members of the football team of 1906 has been adopted by the executive committee of the student body. The men who will receive the footballs are Captain Chandler, Hug, McKinnay and Latourette.

VARICOCELE

An average of one man in five has varicocele. Most men that have this dragging, draining weakness are not aware of it until it has wrecked their lives. Varicocele causes congestion of the blood in some of the most vital blood vessels of man. It causes a dull, heavy, listless feeling which is often mistaken for nervous debility or general decline of power.

"WEAKNESS"

My cures of this disorder are permanent and lasting. No tonics that stimulate temporarily, but thoroughly scientific treatment for the removal of conditions responsible for the functional derangement. "Weakness" is merely a symptom of inflammation or congestion in the prostate gland, and under my own original local treatment this gland is promptly restored to its normal state and complete functional activity is the lasting result.
