

YOKE OF GOODING IS CALLING THEIR AIMS ARE BUSINESS

Idaho's Grim Executive Cracks Whip Over Many a Good Hater.

SPRIT OF REVOLT IS SPREADING IN PARTY

Control So Far Absolute, but Cleavage Threatens at This Session, to Say Nothing of Certain Hopeless Division Next Campaign.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Boise, Idaho, Jan. 14.—That Governor Gooding and his machine in absolute control of matters in the legislature is clearly apparent to all who have observed the trend of affairs thus far in the ninth session. The insurgent Republicans have vigorously protested against some of the notoriously bad methods employed by the governor and his valiant defenders in starting the legislative machinery, and they are now in almost open revolt. The insurgent Republicans have clearly indicated their language that would not look nice in print. The executive has evidently studiously ignored many of the leading Republicans of the state and done things according to his own sweet will. In some cases he has all but persecuted some who did not give him active and open support in the last campaign.

Gooding's "Saintly" Affiliations.

The failure of Governor Gooding to recommend in his message a change of venue law and his exceeding zeal in assisting Bishop J. H. Wells to land in the position of assistant chief clerk and Bishop J. Frank Hunt to become speaker of the house have clearly indicated to the Democrats who charged in the last campaign that the governor and his machine had entered into a compact with the Mormons and were ready to bow at the behest of the hierarchy in return for support at the polls.

While the governor's message sounded all right in most respects, it is the belief of many here that some of the apparently good recommendations of the document have taint strings attached to them and that the people will again be fooled as they were two years ago.

In addition to a law to prohibit unlawful cohabitation, the message that Idaho must needs to handle the Mormon question, is one providing for a change of venue on behalf of the state. But the Mormon members of the legislature have strenuously opposed it, and it will no doubt succeed in preventing the passage of effective legislation on the Mormon question.

How the Insurgents Talk.

It would not be surprising if there should come a breaking away of Republicans from the program of the machine and a new alignment of the members in both branches of the legislature. One member of the house, in the course of a conversation, stated that he would fight the governor and his Mormon crowd to the end of the session, and would no doubt be found supporting a Democratic candidate for governor two years hence. For many interesting developments are expected.

Wants Japanese Excluded.

Representative Sewell has offered a resolution declaring that the president is taking advantage of the high position he occupies to insist upon the equality of the Caucasian and Japanese races and that through his message declares his antagonism to the citizens of California on the school question. The action of the citizens of California is asserted to be the result of an intimate knowledge of facts and conditions and the resolution expresses faith in the patriotism and fairness of the California residents and asserts that for the best interests of both Japanese and Americans the former should be excluded from the country to the same extent as the Chinese.

New Governor in Alabama.

(Journal Special Service.)
Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 14.—The inauguration of B. B. Comer as governor of Alabama today, was accompanied by ceremonies more elaborate than were ever seen here before on a similar occasion. Citizens and soldiers turned out en masse to pay tribute to the new executive. Both branches of the legislature witnessed the ceremonies and applauded the introductory speech of Governor Comer and the inaugural address of his successor. The inaugural ball tonight will be attended by society people from all over the state.

National Convention for the Extension of Commerce Meets in Washington.

CREDENTIALS RECEIVED FROM OREGON MEN

All Leading Cities of the Country Represented at Gathering That Will Plan to Get More of World's Trade.

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, Jan. 14.—Several hundred delegates appointed by the governors of states and by boards of trade and other commercial organizations, met today to consider and devise measures for the enlargement of our foreign trade and to promote the demand abroad for the product of our farms, workshops and mines.

The initiative in calling the gathering was taken by a special committee of the New York board of trade and transportation, acting on the suggestion and with the cooperation of commercial bodies throughout the United States. Secretary of State Root and other men of widest prominence will address the conference.

Among the cities represented are New York, Boston, Providence, Cincinnati, Buffalo, Pensacola and Tampa, Florida; Indianapolis, Philadelphia, Elmira, New York; Quincy, Illinois; Pittsburgh, San Jose, Omaha and Portland.

The representation from Oregon on the official roll follows: E. Ehrman, L. Gerlinger, C. R. Davis, W. H. Grindstaff, Sol Blumauer, John E. Lathrop, Portland; Leon Cohen, Pendleton; T. W. Spencer, J. L. Stockton, Salem; S. E. Young, Albany; Henry Meier, The Dalles. Most of them have not registered, although the credentials of all have been received by the convention.

Tomorrow, John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, will speak on "Our Great Commercial Opportunities in South America." Appearing on the program are Secretary Root and Secretary Oscar S. Strauss of the department of commerce and labor. Other distinguished men on the program are Seth Low of New York, Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell, and Cornelius N. Bliss of New York.

The reorganization of the consular service, ship subsidy and other questions having a bearing on America's foreign trade, is its extension are to be exhaustively discussed.

GRANTS PASS IS GOING IN FOR PAVING THIS YEAR

Commercial Club's Special Im- mediate Aim Is Civic Im- provement.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Jan. 14.—The Grants Pass Commercial club has paid particular attention the past year to building up the industries of the county and city, to attracting new settlers and making civic improvements. In this last-named work the club will attempt to complete this year what was begun in the year just past. Especial attention will be given to the improvement of the streets, and great pressure will be brought to bear upon the council in forcing the Southern Pacific Railroad company to make better provision to care for the traffic on the sixth street crossing. This crossing is in the middle of the business section of the town and is practically the only railroad crossing in the city. This winter both the street and the sidewalks at this point have been in an almost impassable condition. An attempt will be made this year to have the business part of town and the street across the railroad paved; also, every walk in the business section will be cemented.

The new officers elected by the club for this year are: President, L. B. Hall; treasurer, E. L. Churchill; first vice-president, George Calhoun; second vice-president, H. G. Bobien; third vice-president, Joseph Moses; fourth vice-president, H. A. Rotermund; fifth vice-president, G. W. Donnell; sixth vice-president, C. L. Mangum; seventh vice-president, R. L. Coe. The vice-presidents are the heads of the following departments: Industrial, municipal, agricultural, mines and mining, timber and irrigation.

The club will continue to maintain the mineral exhibits room in this city. The exhibit has proved of great benefit in attracting attention, especially to the mining resources of southern Oregon.

OFFICERS OF SALVATION ARMY ARE TRANSFERRED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., Jan. 14.—Captain C. McDonald, who has had charge of the Salvation Army in Grants Pass for the past six months, has been given "discharge in orders" and is transferred to the post at Pendleton. Captain McDonald will be succeeded here by Captain and Mrs. Ubanks from Marshfield.

"Bad Man" to Begin Life Term.

(Journal Special Service.)
Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 14.—Frank Thompson, a negro with a reputation of being one of the worst men ever confined in the federal prison here, will tomorrow finish a seven years' term for larceny and will immediately enter on a life term for the murder of Guard J. P. Waldron in the big mutiny at the prison five years ago. Thompson tried to kill one of the guards. He was one of those who escaped and was caught at Leavenworth, Kansas, after he had been freed by one of the pursuing party. Two years later he murderously assaulted another guard in a futile attempt to escape.

The Blue and the Gray.

(Journal Special Service.)
Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 14.—Tomorrow's reunion of the Blue and the Gray will be one of the most notable the country ever has seen. Union and Confederate veterans of national fame are included in the list of scheduled speakers. All arrangements for the reunion have been completed by the Port Fisher Survivors' association. The exercises will be held on the scene of the engagement between the Confederate and federal forces before Fort Fisher.

FIVE LIVES CRUSHED OUT ON THE RAIL

Ill-Fated Rock Island Train Has Another Disaster, This Time at Barney, N. M.

(Journal Special Service.)
El Paso, Tex., Jan. 14.—The week opened with another train wreck in which five people were ground to pieces and 10 were severely injured. Rock Island passenger No. 30—the same train that was wrecked on January 2 with an awful loss of life—dashed into an open switch at Barney, New Mexico, about 200 miles north of this place, early yesterday, and the engine, express and dining-cars and one Pullman left the track. Engineer H. F. Ackley and Fireman E. J. Redfield, of Alamo, New Mexico, were pinned under the engine and died horribly. Harry Spence, of Corona, New Mexico, Andrew Herron of Bisbee, Arizona, and a Mexican babe were among the dead.

PULSE OF BUSINESS

BY A. S. MONROE

F. Dresser & Co.'s stock of groceries on Washington and Seventh streets will be moved into the old Prael & Co. building on Fifth street. It will occupy the entire building, after having it completely renovated and put in shape for first-class business. Business will not be in the least disturbed by the process of moving, and though some confusion may be apparent for a time, arrangements have been made for filling orders with the usual promptness. The new store, when fully settled, will be one of the handsomest and most complete groceries on the Pacific coast.

M. Stichel is showing one of the most attractive arrays of mid-season blocks to be seen in town. Fedoras and small telescoped hats seem to suggest a college air about men's headgear for the coming season that is unusually jaunty and youthful in effect. It appears that men as well as women little recognize the age line in the matter of hats, wearing whatever is most becoming, and ranking as old as they look rather than as the family Bible with its lists of births and deaths would make out. M. Stichel's windows are always noticeable for their elegant displays of men's wear.

J. H. Reeves, 113 Washington street, has a few advance styles in spring goods but his sales continue heavy on the winter stock; in fact, winter is so much in evidence that very little interest comparatively is being shown in spring goods. Mr. Reeves has just added a couple of new lines to his line, and has recently received a shipment of patent leather boots that are proving very popular.

C. P. Bishop, the Third street clothier, says that he will carry higher grade of merchandise this year than he has ever carried before, catering to the very best trade in the city. The fact that business is spreading in every direction, large buildings going up far beyond the limits of the old business center, brings these stores that have been a trifle out of the line of greatest travel into the very midst of the busy mart of trade, and with the natural increase of business there follow expansion, improvement and many other corresponding changes.

"Last year," said Mr. Bishop, "was the greatest year in the history of the store. Business was away beyond any point it ever approached in the past, and there has been very little change since the new year began."

The Lily Dental company, Third and Couch streets, is one of the most completely appointed dental establishments in the west. The large suite provides an examination room, three operating rooms, an extracting room and a pleasant reception room, all newly renovated and arranged with special regard for light, air and general attractiveness.

Dr. B. F. Butler, who is associated with Dr. H. A. Starvedent in this company, says that enamel fillings are taking the place of gold so generally in popular favor that many people are having perfectly good gold fillings removed and enamel put in their place. The enamel filling is hardly discernible. More care is being taken of little children's teeth than ever before, many parents bringing their little 2-year-olds to the dentist at the first sign of decay. By this means the children are kept in a much healthier condition, and the baby teeth preserved until the natural time for their falling out, insuring a better outlook for the new set. The little tots do not in the least mind having their teeth filled, many of them regarding it as a new form of amusement. Their nerves are not at all sensitive when the teeth are taken in time.

Margaret Hayward Dead.

Baltimore, Jan. 13.—Margaret Hayward, leading lady with Wright Lormer in "The Shepherd King" and "The Wild Duck" playing at the Academy of Music in this city this week, died this afternoon from shock brought on by an operation performed on her for tumor of the breast.
