A WORD TO Laboring Men of Portland

Doubtless you have noticed how THE OUTLET CLOTHING COMPANY, northeast corner of First and Morrison streets, has been "hammering" away, in its advertisements, on the string of "THE BEST THAT'S MADE IN MEN'S APPAREL" of STRICTLY UNION MADE GARMENTS, HATS AND SHOES. The purpose of the management of the elegant new store in thus constantly alluding to Union Made Clothing is to awaken renewed interest in Unionism, that great salvation of the working classes of our country. It is a well known fact that Union Made garments are always superior to the products of the "rats." The reason for this is Unionism industriously proclaims the excellence of its work, and that confidence in Union products may not be shaken this claim must be made good. It is different with the "rat." He has no reputation to uphold, has nothing at stake and is not the loser no matter how unworthy his work. Hence it is that THE OUTLET CLOTHING COMPANY so tenaciously clings to its shibboleth of

"The Best That's Made in Men's Apparel" in the Product of the Union Shop

Is it not, therefore, to the best interests of every Union man in this rich bailiwick to heartily bestow his patronage upon the merchant who, in season and out, stands for the interests of the Union man of toil by iterating and reiterating that his merchandise is Union made, notwithstanding that he may offend the enemy of Union labor and thereby forfeit his good will and patronage as well?

The Outlet Clothing Company Has Stuck to Its Text Through Thick and Thin

It never has wavered. Its banner has daily been floating in the breezes since the first day its doors swung upon their hinges and its first sale was made. It is a stickler for Unionism. Its voice has ever been for organized labor. It has been fearless. It is a friend indeed—the more so because it never quits. In this connection it is a pleasure to refer to the product of the famous Sweet, Orr & Co. factory, makers of the celebrated overalls advertised all over Christendom as those that "never rip."

Sweet, Orr & Co. Were the First People in the World to Sign and Adopt the Union Garment Maker's Scale

THE OUTLET CLOTHING COMPANY, recognizing its worth and sterling quality of its goods, immediately contracted with the firm, and laboring men all over and all around the city are wearing the garment that the store says it will give "A NEW PAIR IF THEY RIP."

All Its Garments Are Absolutely Up-to-Date

The most stylish can be suited at THE OUTLET STORE. The man of the most modest means can likewise be pleased. All classes and conditions will be satisfied when they buy at this great headquarters of
