

DECORATE VETERANS WITH BRONZE HONOR CROSSES

Daughters of Confederacy Commemorate Birthday of General Robert E. Lee.

Standing before the picture of General Robert E. Lee, over which was draped the Union flag and below it the stars and bars of the Confederacy, eight southern crosses of honor were presented last night to as many ex-Confederate veterans.

Charles E. Morgan.

United Daughters of the Confederacy at the commemorative exercises held last evening at the Women of Woodcraft hall in remembrance of the birthday, 166 years ago, of the famous southern officer.

Mrs. Joannie A. George, president of the organization, in presenting the medals to the men who fought with all the valor of their northern brothers, said:

Idea of Winnie Davis.
"Only three times in history have crosses of honor been bestowed upon a soldier. First, to Caesar's tenth legion, then to Napoleon's old guard and now to the soldiers of the south. This token of recognition and appreciation of the heroism of the southern soldiers was first thought of by Winnie Davis shortly before her death, and was voiced first at the Confederate reunion in

H. H. Duff.

Atlanta in 1892. Since that time over 100,000 have been bestowed. The bronze crosses were presented to the following:

- J. P. Burkhardt of Terry's Texas rangers, who served under General Joe Wheeler; Louis C. Garrigan, Third Kentucky Infantry; H. H. Duff, Cavalry; G. H. S. Jackson of the Confederate navy; William Gentry, who served under Price's command of Missouri; J. E. Rountree of the Fifth South Carolina

From Chicken-Pox to Cholera

Cure-Alls No Longer Tolerated.

In early days every barber shop was an operating room and the town physician resorted to bleeding as the sure cure for all ailments from chicken-pox to cholera. As a result, many, including our first president, died prematurely.

The present low rate of mortality is due in large measure to the advances made in medical science and the knowledge of the specific treatment needed for each disease known.

There is no disease more common among American and English people than dyspepsia. So prevalent has it become that thousands suffer with it half unconsciously, consider the symptoms as natural to their physical constitution and resign themselves to living in that condition.

There is a remedy for dyspepsia, and only one, recommended and endorsed generally by physicians. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have stood the test of years of use by millions of sufferers, have been subjected to governmental analysis in Europe and America and scores have been found to contain the elements which Nature has put into the stomach for digestion—pepsin, diastase and other ferments.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets relieve stomach and bowels in a perfectly natural way by helping them do their work. If the stomach is weak in gastric juice, Stuart's Tablets make up the deficiency. If the muscles are inactive, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of food entering the stomach, one grain of the active principle of these Tablets being capable of digesting 3,000 grains of meat, eggs and other foods. They are not cathartic pills—their action is simply that of a digestive.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure nothing but dyspepsia, waterbrash, sour stomach and kindred ailments resulting from the imperfect digestion of food, but these diseases they positively cure.

We will gladly send you a trial package to prove the truth of our claims. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be gotten of all druggists at 50 cents. F. A. Stuart Co., 49 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

FOUR THOUSAND PEOPLE HEARD HIM WITH EVERY EVIDENCE OF INTENSE INTEREST.

DIFFICULT CROWD FOR ANY SPEAKER

Resident of Indian City Tells of Visit to It of Nebraska Statesman, and How the People Received His Address.

H. G. Bissell of Bombay, India, is at the Portland hotel and last night told of the great demonstration given in honor of William J. Bryan when the commoner spoke in the town hall in the Indian town.

"Mr. Bryan came to India shortly after the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales. He came comparatively unknown to the people here, but they had heard of him as a prominent American who had run for president of the great republic to which Indians look to with more respect and admiration for her broad public policies and social conditions than to any other nation in the world.

"Coming unheralded, as it were, Mr. Bryan was invited to speak at the town hall, which seats only 2,000 people. I believe me when I say that 4,000 people crowded into that hall and listened with great attention to the speech which lasted an hour and a quarter.

"His triumph was wonderful and those who heard him will never forget his masterly style and delivery. His triumph was greater than the man for that it strengthened that feeling of admiration for America which the natives have always held for our republic. His speech was good for India and showed his wonderful insight into affairs of the eastern world.

"India has ever been torn with dissensions because of the vast number of races living in the one country. These are divided politically, socially and religiously. In such a country rather than China or Japan will the key to the Asiatic situation be found. The world is indebted to India for languages, religions and philosophies and there the world's destiny is to be decided or later to solve the question that is now confronting the great powers.

"Look to America for Relief.
"One more word to make myself clear on the effects of Mr. Bryan's speech: The fact that he could hold the cosmopolitan audience which confronted him in Bombay for more than an hour was more than a tribute to his oratory. It was because they believed in the man after they had heard part of his speech and was indicative that the eyes of India are turned toward America for relief from her present condition."

Mr. Bissell was born in India of American parents and was educated in this country. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is a member of the American board of India, which has for its object the promotion of the social, medical and industrial conditions of Americans in India. He has been in America for a year on his present trip, and will remain in Portland several days to give a series of lectures at the First Congregational church this morning and speak at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon.

A committee of the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association has prepared 5,000 samples of stained and finished fir, spruce and hemlock, to be distributed to dealers throughout the east to show the adaptability of Oregon woods for inside finishing. It is expected thereby to greatly increase the eastern demand for these classes of timber, of which Oregon possesses vast forests.

The regular monthly meeting of the association was held yesterday afternoon in the chamber of commerce auditorium and 33 members were in attendance. L. J. Wentworth, chairman of the domestic fir committee, reported that A. M. Hagan had been appointed chief inspector for the association. His duties will be to travel over the two states and secure uniformity of grades of lumber mill products.

J. C. Flanders was introduced, and explained the chamber's proposed bill for a standard fire insurance policy. A motion was adopted directing the appointment of a fire insurance committee for the association. The secretary reported that it has been ascertained that the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association is the second largest in the United States. It now has 197 members. The following new members were elected yesterday: Pacific Coast Hardwood Manufacturing association, Portland; Summit Lumber company, Clatsop county; F. W. Livermore, Beaverton; Fred Woodill, Foster, Oregon; P. A. Lindstrom, Delta, Oregon; Dimmick Lumber company, Drain, Oregon; J. A. McLaughlin, Gurdano, Oregon.

A committee will be appointed by the president to arrange for the annual meeting and banquet to be held in Portland on Saturday, February 16.

JUDGE SEARS TO STUDY LAW POINTS IN CASES

Determined to reserve some time for the study of law points that come before him for decision, Judge Sears, presiding judge of the new Multnomah county circuit court, has ordered that he will hear no matters of any sort except at 9:30 and 10 o'clock. The order is issued follows:

"It is ordered by the court that hereafter no motions other than applications for injunctions, restraining orders and special proceedings will be heard by the court except at 9:30 o'clock a. m. and 10 o'clock p. m., in open court, and excepting such matters as are specially set for hearing by the court."

BRILLIANT PROSPECTS IN THE SEVEN DEVILS

Expert Engineer Finds Rich Ore and Great Activity and is Convinced.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Baker City, Ore., Jan. 18.—With almost 100 men at work at the various properties and Manager Winslow employing all the help he can secure for the Ox Bow power project, the Seven Devils and Iron Dyke copper country is decidedly on the boom.

Mining Engineer W. J. J. Smith of New York, who has just returned to Baker City from an inspection of the country, found at the Iron Dyke about 50 men working, the new compressors running and five drills operated constantly. At the Farrell-Gillette property the lower tunnel, about 100 feet below the outcrop, is in about 45 feet. Within another 100 feet it is expected to cut the ore body. Men are working constantly on the Cougar-O'Toole, the Rand-McCarthy, the McDougall, and the Holdbrook, all showing excellent values, especially the McDougall, which Mr. Smith believes a most wonderful property. His opinion carries a great deal of weight here as he is known to be free from connection with any interests in the Seven Devils country. Speaking of the country he said:

"The McDougall property is a mixture of the Butte and Lake Superior formations. The ore is a sort of copper glance, nor can it be described as a sulphide either. It has the appearance of stove polish and is unquestionably rich. The rock when broken shows copper in every particle. Across the river on the Idaho side, directly opposite the McDougall workings, George McCarthy has a rich mine, beyond question. The ores are excellent for smelting, being almost self-fluxing, and some run as high as 75 per cent copper."
