

PETTY ECONOMIES BY HOUSE

Appropriation Bill Passed After Bickering Due to Partisan Prejudice.

TRAVELING EXPENSE OF GOVERNOR IS REDUCED

Allowance for Stenographers and Clerks in Executive's Office Cut Although Work Has Greatly Increased During Recent Years.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Salem, Feb. 8.—The general appropriation bill has been passed by the house, but not until petty bickering over unimportant trifles had to curtail the total appropriation $4,300 and an immediate burst of generosity had added an extra $200 to the salary of the commissioner of labor and the same wage had granted to the employees of the asylum for an increase in the wages paid at that institution.

Party prejudice and extreme bias was the animus of all the real objection raised against the items of the bill, though the course once marked forced those taking the lead in the attack against the governor's office to follow with reductions of items in other state offices.

For Petty Economies.

An effort was made to cut the salary of the governor's private secretary, but the effort was frowned upon by the conservative men of the house, who asked for fair play and consistency.

Farrell, who during the time the house as a committee of the whole considered the bill, posed as the watchdog of the treasury, made an attempt to reduce the salary of the governor's secretary from $4,800 for the two years to $4,300. Disfellowshiped by the ways and means committee, opposed the change, saying he did not see the reason for being so hard on the governor's secretary when the house should be consistent. The salary was left as it was originally in the bill.

The house reduced the estimate of $2,000 for the salary of stenographers and clerks in the governor's office to $3,200 after Farrell had made an effort to have it fixed at $1,500. Here again Rodgers protested, showing that the work of the stenographers had increased by the governor, even if he did happen to be a Democrat.

The traveling expenses of the governor were cut from the estimate of $1,000 to $1,000.

Commissioner Raised.

The traveling expenses of the secretary of state and state treasurer were cut from $2,900 to $2,000. The salary of the state commissioner of labor was raised from $3,200 to $3,500. The appropriation for the state board of horticulture was raised from $3,000 to $3,000. The appropriation made for the state asylum was increased from $42,000 to $47,000 to cover the increase of $5,000 granted to the attendants for wages.

The separate appropriations as at last adopted by the house and ordered engrossed and passed to third reading are as follows for the two years:

Governor's salary, $18,000; private secretary, $4,800; clerks and stenographers, $3,200; traveling expense, governor, $1,000.

Secretary of state, salary, $9,000; traveling expenses, $500; clerks and stenographers secretary's office, $23,000.

Salary state treasurer, $9,000; traveling expenses, $500; clerks and stenographers, $12,000.

Salaries supreme court and officials, $50,000; circuit court salaries, $96,000; district attorneys and deputies, $52,000; attorney-general, $7,200; assistant attorney-general, $3,600; stenographer, $1,800; traveling expenses, $900. Expenses in civil cases, attorney-general's office, $5,000. Expenses case Washington-Oregon boundary line dispute, $3,500.

Salaries of Other Offices.

Superintendent public instruction, salary, $6,000; traveling expenses, $1,800; clerks and stenographers, $3,600; State Teachers' association expenses, $500; state librarian, $2,700; purchase of books, etc., $7,000; janitors and other assistance, $3,000; stenographer, $1,800; traveling expenses, $900. Expenses in civil cases, attorney-general's office, $5,000. Expenses case Washington-Oregon boundary line dispute, $3,500.

Printing supreme court reports, $9,000; capitol buildings and grounds, expenses, $20,000; fuel for capitol and lights for capitol grounds, $2,000; improvement of capitol, $25,000; publication executive proclamations and official notices, $5,000; pursuit of fugitives, $5,000; state biologist, $1,000.

Penitentiary, $121,000; transportation of convicts, $18,000; asylum, $47,000; transportation patients to asylum, $15,000; reform school, $54,800; mute school, $42,350; blind school, $18,000; special agents for apprehension of criminals by governor, $5,000.

Mileage of twenty-fourth session of the legislature, $50,000.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LAW

Amendment to Constitution Makes Its Biennial Appearance.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—The equal suffrage amendment to the constitution of the state has made its biennial appearance to the constitution in the introduction of a joint resolution by Jones of Polk and Lincoln at the suggestion and request of Mrs. Abigail Scott Duntway. The resolution provides for the amendment of the constitution so that the franchise is not barred to any person otherwise qualified by residence, age and general condition of mind on account of sex. The resolution was referred to the chair to the committee on resolutions.

SCHOOL BOARD LAWS

Changes for Text Book Commission Provided in New Measures.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—The house has passed Senator Miller's bill changing the date of meeting of the state board of text-book commissioners to the second Monday in May. The next meeting shall be May, 1907, and every six years afterward. The sessions shall be for 15 days, and four members shall be a quorum.

The payment of 85 per cent of the amount received from the county school tax and the irreducible school fund to the salaries of school teachers is provided in a bill passed by the house and drafted by Senator Wyden.

The house would not stand for Senator Beach's bill providing that two members of the state board of text-book commissioners should be active teachers. Davey resisted the fight and several years ago when the old conditions prevailed and schoolmen received money from text-book publishers. The house sent the bill to the boys' yard.

The house passed Northrup's bill providing that contracts of sale for machinery shall be entered of record in the office of the county recorder or clerk when sold on the installment plan.

TO REVISE BILLS

Resolution Refers All Measures to Committee on Revision.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—Future legislators will follow a different plan in the house of the change in the house rules provided for by a resolution introduced by Freeman is passed. The resolution provides for the creation of a committee on revision of bills, the duty of which shall be to inspect all bills introduced in the house before they are acted upon or read, and whip them into shape for introduction.

The resolution has been suggested by the great number of identical bills or bills on similar subjects at this session which could just as well have been incorporated in one bill, thus saving a great amount of printing. Many of the bills which have been introduced have been sent to committees and found to be very defective, while even after they have come back from committees it has been discovered in some instances that grave defects existed in the bills as originally drawn. The purpose of the resolution is to do away with the loss of time and work on the part of the legislature by the consideration of defective bills.

HOUSE BREAKS RECORDS

At First Night Session Thirty-Five Local Bills Are Passed.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—The house broke all records last night at first night session this year when 35 local bills were taken up for special consideration and passed some of them through two readings. After these had been put out of the way the house suspended the rules after 10 o'clock at night and introduced 13 bills, passing them to second reading. The number of bills now in the house totals 48, which is the largest number of bills that has ever been introduced before either house at any time in the history of the state.

By the action of the house at the night session practically every bill of a local nature providing for the increase in the salaries of county officers, amendments to existing local conditions and matters of like import have been put off for consideration by the senate. The action means that much more time will be made possible for the consideration of measures of stated importance.

RAILROAD BILL READY

Measure at Last to Be Reported Back to House by Committee.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—The railroad bill is at last ready to be reported back to the house from the hands of the joint committee. It was ready yesterday, but the rush of business in the house prevented action and before night the members had changed their mind about the terms of office of the commissioner. It has now been decided to allow the governor to appoint, as was previously the intention, but the latest is that one commissioner is to hold office until 1908, when his successor is to be elected by the people, while the other two will hold office until 1910. The bill will be reported back in this form.

SUPERINTENDENT HAYES OF ALBANY RESIGNS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Feb. 8.—It is officially announced that Superintendent T. A. Hayes of the Albany public schools has resigned to take effect at the close of this week. Mr. Hayes, it is said, will go to the Portland High school. His successor has been chosen from the Ashland State Normal school, being

AWFUL NEURALGIA

PAIN TURNED THE WOMAN'S HAIR WHITE.

Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills She Gained Weight and Has Been in Perfect Health Ever Since.

Do not seek relief from suffering simply, but free your system from the disease which is the cause of your suffering. That is the message which a former victim of neuralgia sends to those who are still in its grasp. Not applications, powders that deaden the senses and others that reduce the heart action may cause temporary relief but the pain is sure to return with greater intensity. Neuralgia has been called the cry of a starved nerve. In neuralgia the nerves need nourishment and the only way to nourish them is through the blood.

Mrs. Evelyn Creusere, who has a beautiful home at 311 Boulevard West, Detroit, Mich., suffered for years with neuralgia until she tried this tonic treatment and was cured. She says:

"My trouble began about six years ago and I did not rest at all. I should have, but kept up about my many duties. After a time I became so weak I could not do any work at all. I had severe backaches and such dreadful headaches in the back part and top of my head. My eyes were easily tired and at times I saw black spots before them. I consulted several doctors but without the slightest benefit. The pains were so intense that my hair turned white. I lost weight continually in weight and strength and was almost in despair when a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I tried them according to directions and soon began to feel relief. At the end of three months I had gained ten pounds in weight and had no more trouble with my nerves. I have been in perfect health ever since and can heartily commend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Mrs. Creusere is a prominent member of the Maccabees and has served as president of the Woman's Relief Corps. Her story may be absolutely depended upon and it should bring hope to every nervous sufferer.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Professor A. M. Sanders. He has been superintendent of the Roseburg schools and is considered a very capable man. He will be in this city Monday to take up his new work.

Professor Hayes has assigned no specific reason for leaving the schools. During his three years in Albany the schools have been improved and today are better and more systematic than at any previous time in their history.

STEVENS WANTS TO DIG PANAMA CANAL HIMSELF

Washington, Feb. 8.—Chief Engineer John F. Stevens wants to dig the Panama canal, and if he cannot dig the big ditch without the medium of a contractor, there is likely to be another vacancy at the head of affairs on the isthmus. This is understood to be the secret of the mysterious holding up of the award of the Panama canal contract that has excited interest and curiosity for the last two weeks.

DOUGLAS COUNTY FIGHTS TO HOLD TERRITORY

Coos and Curry Both After a Slice of Land Within Present Boundaries.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—Douglas county, beset on two sides by counties endeavoring to secure parts of her territory, has rallied at the capitol with a strong lobby to attempt to defeat the bills for changes in her boundary lines. One of the bills was introduced in the senate by Senator Coos and Curry. This bill provides that two townships of Douglas county be given to Coos county. The other bill, which was introduced in the house by Edwards, takes nearly two townships in the rich Bohemian mining district from Douglas county and gives it to Lane county.

County Judge G. W. Wonacott, Sheriff Harry McClallen, Clerk Z. N. Agee and Assessor Staley were busy in the lobby of the capitol building yesterday afternoon working against the proposed alliances being taken by Douglas. Both bills will be reported by the committees next Wednesday, and the Douglas county officials will reappear on that day to renew their fight, which they believe they will win.

Senator Cooshow of Douglas county took a hand in the county boundary line squabble yesterday afternoon by introducing a bill in the senate which gives to Coos county the two townships it wants, but takes about the same amount of land from Coos county in return.

The Douglas county officials declare that there is no good reason for changing the boundaries of the county, especially on the Lane county side, which have remained for their now are for many years.

FLOOD HAS DESTROYED MANY GARDEN PESTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Albany, Or., Feb. 8.—During the recent high water some hunters in the vicinity of Round lake made a great killing of cottontail and jack rabbits. By means of a boat they crossed the water to an island and there found these animals marooned and unable to get away. With practically no effort at all they secured 20 cottontails and six jack rabbits.

It is said that thousands of field rodents and other destructive small animals were drowned. Gardeners and those having great numbers of these in their lands believe the storm will thus prove to have been greatly to their advantage.

HARRIMAN FORCED CLARK TO HIS TERMS

(Journal Special Service.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8.—The first day of the interstate commerce commission's hearings in Los Angeles on the subject of the Harriman merger was consumed in the direct examination of

J. Ross Clark, brother of United States Senator W. A. Clark, director and second vice-president of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railway. It was shown that when the building of the Clark road was commenced from Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, the Oregon Short Line, a Harriman property, harassed and retarded their progress, and finally getting possession of the only available pass through the mountains in the shortest direction to Los Angeles, compelled the Clark road to come to their terms, sell to them one half of their property and make an ironclad agreement to maintain the same local freight rates as the Harriman roads for a period of 99 years.

As a final act of coercion of the Clark, the Harriman interests began a survey of a road between Salt Lake City and Los Angeles, and implied, at least so Mr. Clark testified, a threat of building a parallel line.
