

ELIAS CARLSON DIED BELOVED

For Many Years One of Kalama's Most Enterprising and Upbuilders.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Kalama, Wash., Or., March 4.—Elias Carlson, who died Saturday of heart failure at Vancouver, Washington, at Portland, was one of the best known citizens of Cowlitz county and was held in high esteem by all. He was born at Nerpes, Finland, January 18, 1864, and came to the United States in 1887 and had been a resident of Kalama for 17 years.

He was married December 12, 1893, to Bertha Medlock, who died December 4, 1894, leaving two children, Alma, now seven years of age, and Walter, now six years of age.

Mr. Carlson was engaged in the fishing business and was one of the founders of the cold storage plant here. He served as councillor of Kalama for six years. He was always greatly interested in the upbuilding of his home town and was identified with most of the enterprises of Kalama. He was an invalid the greater part of last winter and spent considerable time at Collins Hot Springs, but last Tuesday went to the Good Samaritan hospital for treatment.

Besides his children he leaves a brother, John Herman, an architect residing at Vancouver, Washington, two nephews, Benja Herman of Stella, Washington, and Charles Bergman of Rainier, Oregon.

The funeral will take place this afternoon under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias and Woodmen of the World, of which organizations he was an honored member.

NO SUBSIDY

He was seconded by Senator Dubois, Governor, Newlands and others, who frankly confessed their intention of defeating consideration of the amendment to the objectionable measure. When a recess was taken at 11:40 last night the friends of the bill had given up all hope of securing any shipping legislation during the present session.

The debate was broken only by brief intervals for the consideration of conference reports and of bills of minor importance.

The conference reports on the following measures were adopted: La Follette's hours of service bill and the pension, general deficiency and sundry civil bills.

Last Day's Results in House.

When the house adjourned at 11:30 o'clock this morning it was with its business practically completed. It had put in Sunday chiefly in the consideration of conference reports and had acted favorably on a number of important measures, including that providing for the establishment of an industrial bank in the Philippines.

ing capitalists 4 per cent upon their capital.

The following Democrats voted for the bill: Alaska, South Carolina, Bankhead of Alabama, Dearmond of Missouri, Howard of Georgia, Elms of Pennsylvania, Lemasre of South Carolina, Handzell of Louisiana, Ruppert of New York, Sharley of Kentucky, Small of North Carolina, Taylor of Alabama, and Wiley of Alabama.

But two Republicans voted against the bill, Darrach of Michigan and Mann of Illinois.

Governor of Ohio, who advocated the bill, expressed the opinion that the United States had been guilty of more wrongs toward the Philippines than Spain had been, and Longworth thought the bank bill should be passed as a mark of comfort due to the faces of failure to pass the Philippine tariff bill.

Rucker of Missouri made the direct charge that Secretary Taft had the support of Democratic members while they were his guests on the Philippine trip.

Governor's Last Day.

A 15-minute recess before the house session ended today was taken to pay tribute to General Governor of Ohio, who called of reelection and whose public career is probably forever ended.

Members presented him with a chest of silver of $66 pieces. Clark and Williams were the principal speakers.

Treatments before adjournment Williams, with Clark in the chair, tossed verbal bouquets at Speaker Cannon.

Tomorrow the 4th and Greatest Day Yet of the Big REBUILDING SALE

Crowds Packing the Store to Suffocation

Each day greater becomes the sacrifice and bigger grow the bargains. Only seven more days before the wreckers get to work and the tearing down and the rebuilding commences. Furious as has been the selling it must and will be more sensational from now on, and beginning tomorrow we make another staggering cut in prices on everything throughout the house—stocks must be condensed to half, regardless of cost or loss to save it from the dust and dirt.

Most Any Price Goes Now—Walls Will Soon Be Coming Down

And we must sell our surplus before then. There's no time for delay. Make way for the builders, is the cry—reduce stocks—gain room—no matter what the loss. Those are the orders we are forced to obey. It's a compulsory, absolute sacrifice. The whole stock goes—and goes at once.

Come With the Crowds—Doors Will Open at 9 o'Clock a. m.

Making Room for the Builders Regardless of Sacrifice

There's no help for it, the demands of the builders force this sacrifice, and room must be had at once.

DOORS OPEN AT 9 O'CLOCK SHARP TOMORROW MORNING

As it will take until that time to get our stock into shape after today's furious selling. Remember, the entire stock goes—there's no reserve—anything and everything throughout the house goes at a big reduction. Come. Be here sharp at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and avoid the afternoon crush—when crowds are so great we can hardly handle them.

DROP WORK AND RUN

Burnside street were crowded to the doors this morning by sawmill men who came to enroll themselves on the union books. The financial secretary was nearly rushed to death and at one time there were at least 250 sawmill men in the hall. The place was not large enough to accommodate them and special strike headquarters were established at 299 Davis street.

Walls of Wyoming.

One of the greatest dramas that will be seen in Portland this week is the great cowboy play, "Walls of Wyoming," which is seen at the Lewis this week. The play was obtained by the theatre through special arrangement, and is the most ambitious production that theatre has yet attempted. There is a new direction and new faces in the cast.

Drop Work and Run

seem to indicate that they do not look upon the situation as serious. Mr. Ayers said that the men who have quit his mill do not number over 75 and that many of these simply went home with the understanding that they were not dissatisfied with their wages, but that they wished to avoid trouble with the strikers.

The Industrial Workers are

The Industrial Workers of the World is a radical labor union not in any way connected with the American Federation of Labor. It is rather an offshoot of the American Federation of Labor, organized about two years ago because of the tactics employed by the employers in making to another the advantage of the Industrial Union within the American Federation of Labor. It claims several hundred thousand members and has become strong recently in the textile industry.

The Woman's Question

From the Philadelphia Press. "All! Catherine! jump at last!" exclaimed the news item from the press on the last day of the year. "What is it?" asked the numerous enquirers.
