If it would have any effect at all upon the development of the Butte Boys Consolidated Mining company's properties at Goldfield, Nevada, the present labor trouble would be of advantage to the contractors. The gentlemen who are doing the work are, however, owners of stock in the mine, and not subject to the rules of the union, as they are working for themselves. The sales of stock of this company would, it is believed, anything of similar nature ever attempted in the city. The probable reasons for this are that the persons composing the company are substantial business men of the community, not one of whom ever before engaged in selling stock in anything. Their acquaintance, too, extends to all parts of the state, and beyond its borders, and to these have a great majority of the sales been made. Still, orders have come from all sections, and it begins to dawn upon the management that it is selling its stock for too little money. One assay range to almost $400 to the ton, though the free milling range would pay $4 to $5. Shares are being sold at the company's office, Weatherly building, 359 East Morrison street, at 10 cents per share. The company's advertisement in another part of today's paper certainly tells a most interesting news as well as advertising story.

To Let Buyers—Persons contemplating the purchase of one or more residential lots should inspect the new addition in Irvington, lying between East Seventh and East Thirteenth and Thompson and Brass streets. Thompson street is to be paved with bituminous pavement. All other streets macadamized, cement walks, parking, shade trees, sewer, gas and water pipes to each lot, and reasonable building restrictions. This is not a mere promise, but is being done now. Think it over. Why buy out in the country, when lots in this desirable and close-in addition are selling for such low prices and easy terms? For which call on or address Charles K. Henry & Son, 133 Third street, Portland, Oregon.

The Columbia County Logging company filed articles of incorporation with the county yesterday. The capital stock of the organization is $250,000, divided into shares of $100 each. Romantic Music

Composer Solman Makes Pretty Application of Flower Language in Today's Music Section

"The Lily or the Rose," by Monroe H. Rosenfeld and Alfred Solman tell of a youthful lover who is going away to fight in a foreign land. There is a farewell to be spoken by the young soldier and his sweetheart. They meet to say goodbye, perchance forever, and he asks her to choose of two flowers, a lily or a rose. He tells her the rose stands for wealth and beauty and the lily typifies purity and rest. Which does the maiden choose? There is a tuneful easy melody in the music section which answers the question. Old and young lovers will enjoy the music and the romance these gifted song writers tell so sweetly.

CITY ATTORNEY TO GIVE OPINION ON BAKER STREET
 The municipal minds of the municipal council are sorely perplexed. Nothing since the death of City Treasurer Werlein's opussum has caused such a disturbance of their mental equilibrium as the announcement that the city has no legal claim to Baker street. H. B. Shebrook had petitioned for the improvement of the street and after the councilmen had considered the petition they discovered that Baker street had never been legally dedicated to the city. Not knowing just what to do about the matter the street committee, which has the petition under consideration, referred it to the city attorney.

NIGHT PREVENTS TROLLEY TRIP

Seattle Excursionists Reach City Too Late to Be Shown Around Town.

Seattle excursionists reach City too late to be shown around town. FOUR STORIES WILL BE NEEDED FOR THE CLUB. Board of Governors Decides That Three Floors of New Building Will Not Be Sufficient for Purposes of the Commercial Club.

Delayed on the way between Puget sound and Portland, the Seattle business men's excursion to southern California did not reach this city until 1 o'clock last evening, too late for the Portland Commercial club's program of showing the visitors the city by trolley car. The excursionists went to the hotels for dinner, and afterward a few of them dropped in at the Commercial club.

Not many responded to the cordial invitation extended. There were evidently strong enough to get the attention of the Seattle people. The club quarters were brilliantly lighted and an orchestra discoursed music in the drawing-rooms, where a large table was laden with a tempting luncheon. A reception committee, composed of H. H. Trumbull, John Annand, F. W. Ariss, E. M. Ludera, G. M. McDowell, W. B. Glafke, Sig Sichel, Dr. G. F. Wetherbee, Edward Ehrman and President C. W. Hodson, was on duty the entire evening and took good care of the scattering representation that appeared from the excursion party.

A number of Portland clubwomen were also in attendance to welcome Seattle women, of whom half a dozen came.

The large new billiard-room, containing 15 tables, was thrown open last evening for the first time, and was well patronized by club members. The changing of the billiard tables from the reception-rooms meets the hearty indorsement of clubmen generally, and adds much to the attractiveness of the temporary quarters which are thus made much more serviceable for the period of a year, during which time the new eight-story steel structure is being erected.

The Seattle special train left at 11:45 o'clock over the Southern Pacific for southern California points, personally in charge of John P. Jones, one of the most popular traveling passenger agents in the company's service.

It was decided at a meeting of the board of governors yesterday that the club shall retain for its own use four stories instead of three stories of the new club building," said President Hodson. "It has been found that the proposed three floors will crowd the various departments and will not leave sufficient room for the dormitory."

HOUSE IS BURNED IN EARLY MORNING. Posten Residence Destroyed and Family Are Forced to Flee for Their Lives.

A residence belonging to a Mr. Posten, in Tracton Park, in addition to Leita and about one mile northeast of that suburb, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning at an early hour. No one was near to aid in the attempt to save the house. The cost of the house was about $1,500, on which there was $1,500 insurance.

Little was saved from the flames and the family of Mr. Posten were fortunate to escape with their lives. Their escape was first discovered by the family about 4 o'clock, at which time the house was already filled with smoke. In a short time the house was ablaze from top to bottom. It is thought that the fire caught from the cooking range.

It was the great Pachmann who said: "Ah, the Steinway! What a piano! Write this down—it is divine; it is the finest in the world."

Exposition Rink Skaters.
 Another delightful affair for those who attended can be recorded in the St. Patrick's eve party which took place at the Exposition rink last night, and which was largely attended by many who always participate with pleasure the rink's novel social affairs. Several exciting races and chair jumping feats provided the excitement, while Parson's orchestra, the superb floor and the excellent skates combined to afford the especial pleasure of skating. It is announced that this will be the last season of the Exposition rink, which bit of news comes as a warning to the rink patrons that the few remaining weeks should be taken advantage of.

St. Patrick's Day—Cordial Greetings

To the thousands of everyday friends and patrons of the people's favorite Meat Market—"Ceal Maile Falthe."

The Harry Wood Market

At First and Alder Streets
 THE MEAT SHOP ON THE CORNER—WITH PRICES "ON THE SQUARE" AND TREATMENT "ON THE LEVEL"

Our best wishes go forth today to the great shopping public, irrespective of creed, sect or nationality. This store is too broad for discriminations, too big for cheap cajolery, the garbled slang of the street Arab, or the overdrawn sophistry of the would-be humorist. We call a "spade" a spade; "turkey" is turkey here—and here for all. We sell delicious, GOVERNMENT INSPECTED Corned Beef at 6c the pound of 16 avoirdupois ounces; not "Irishmen's Turkey"—just plain, good Corned Beef, for everybody—"All America" Corned Beef. We have meats for everybody—no special meats or cuts for anybody, but the lowest prices for ALL. Proof: Prices quoted are for Oregon's best meats, raised, fattened, killed and dressed in Oregon; clean, sweet, wholesome, tender and toothsome:
