URGE STEAMER SERVICE THAT WILL BE ADEQUATE

Representative of Coquille Interests Awaits Written Guarantee That Men of His Town Will Share Part of the Initial Expense.

Transportation facilities between Portland and Oregon coast points are becoming a burning issue. It is said certain business interests in Portland and at Coos Bay and Coquille have determined to agitate the question until satisfactory permanent results are obtained in the shape of first-class steamship service, that will make it a pleasure as well as a profitable venture to travel between coast points.

M. H. Bingham, of Coquille, came to Portland more than a week ago and took up the matter with the Portland chamber of commerce navigation committee. He was cordially received, but when he proposed a guarantee that the Coquille people would take a share of the financial interest in the new boat line he lacked the necessary papers to enter into any definite arrangements.

Write to Portland Men.

Word was sent to Coquille that Mr. Bingham's credentials would have to be forthcoming, but no reply has been received. Mr. Bingham is still waiting in Portland, but is making good use of his time by calling on business men and discussing coast trade opportunities.

A number of men who represent

Portland business houses in coast territory met at Coquille Saturday and issued a written statement on the subject of a steamer line to Coquille, and addressed it to the Portland chamber of commerce. The letter is signed by Hugh C. Laner, of the F. J. Cronin company; A. L. Peters, Rosbling & Sons Co.; A. L. Young, Hasnussen & Co.; U. B. Booth, Waterhouses & Lester; A. M. Oakes, American Steel & Wire Co.

Service Would Pay.

"Having made this territory regularly during the last three years and more, we find an ever increasing request on the part of business men for Portland to better her transportation facilities to this locality, for with few exceptions they would much prefer to deal with houses within their own state," says this statement. "Much business is being done at the present time with us in the face of heavy obstacles, and were Portland to awake to her opportunities by placing a steamer or steam schooner of light draft on the run into the mouth of the Coquille river to Bandon, the business could be more than quadrupled.

"Return cargoes could be made up easily with the dairy products of the Coquille valley, as well as much timber and coal from Coos bay. Having the interests of Portland at heart we sincerely hope your honorable body will take up this matter with the result that Coquille river points will have direct communication with our city."

STATE MONEY TO BUILD HIGHWAYS IN SKAMANIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Hood River, Or., March 25.—The recent session of the Washington legislature took cognizance of the appeal of residents of Skamania, Klickitat and Clarke counties and appropriated $25,000 for improving and building state roads. With the opening of new territory along the north bank by the Portland & Seattle railroad better facilities for reaching it are considered imperative. Most of this amount, it is said, will be spent in Skamania, the county seat of which is Stevenson, and through the center of which the new railroad will run. It is probable Underwood will also profit by the appropriation and a county road be built from it to the siding, a mile and a half below the town, where it is expected a flag station will be located.

Two years ago an appropriation of $10,000 was voted Skamania county, provided it raised $5,000, or one half the sum given it by the state. The county is scarcely settled and it was with difficulty that the money was raised. The present appropriation has no strings attached to it and will become available at once.

Skamania county will also receive $700 from the state for taxes which it paid on land that should not have been assessed and which it has been endeavoring for several years to have refunded.

The reason that Smith's packed meats, hams, bacon, lard and sausages are so superior to Beef Trust stock is because they are fresh Oregon meats, of mild cure, sugar cure, smoked from day to day, ready for immediate use, absolutely free from chemicals of any sort. Smith's meats do not need chemicals because they are put up to be sold and eaten. Smith's meats are not made to keep.

TO OUR COUNTRY SHIPPERS:

Ship your Easter milk-fed lambs (dressed or alive) to arrive not later than Friday morning. We can use great quantities of dressed fat veal, large and small sizes. We want dressed chickens, also.

Contrast Smith's meats with Beef Trust meats, put up in Chicago, shipped by slow freight across the continent, distributed through the Trust's local packing-houses. You have no idea of the age of the meat. The Trust MUST use acids to keep its meat from spoiling.
