

OPEN DRAWNS ALMOST FATAL

Operator Swings the Span as Five Wagons and the Patrol Dash Across Burnside Street Bridge.

Through the gross carelessness of the gateman and operator on the Burnside bridge this morning, the police wagon, drawn by two valuable horses and carrying Patrolmen Crate, Burke and Robson and a newspaper man, narrowly escaped plunging into the river, and truck and engine company No. 1 were delayed so long in responding to an alarm from Grand avenue and Burnside street that the entire east side waterfront district was placed in jeopardy from the fire.

The action of the bridge tenders in opening the draw while the patrol wagon was racing across the span and the delay consequent to the fire department, will undoubtedly be made the subject of an official investigation. The escape of the patrol horses and policemen from death in the icy waters of the Willamette is regarded as miraculous.

With the patrol wagon in the lead the police and fire elements started across the bridge. Mounted Patrolman Crate was driving the team of spirited horses, with Patrolman Burke alongside him on the seat. Inside of the vehicle sat Patrolmen Robson and a newspaper man. Upon approaching the draw gateman Wheeler signaled the patrol with his hand that everything was clear.

While dashing across the draw Harry Stutesman, the operator, threw on the current and the span opened to allow the passage of a tug towing a number of boats down the river. The bridge started to open as the patrol wagon was in the center of the draw and it was only the prompt action of Driver Crate in applying the brake and pulling the horses back on their haunches that saved the wagon and its occupants.

Crate backed the team to the center of the draw and when the span was again closed continued on the way to the fire. In the meantime, however, the fire department was stalled on the west end of the bridge.

Operator Stutesman, in his own behalf, states that he had pulled the jack screws on the draw preparatory to opening the structure before the patrol wagon had started across and claims he could take no other course but to throw on the current.

DOLLAR A POUND PAID HERE FOR EGG PLANT

A dollar a pound for egg plant is what the lovers of that delicacy are paying today in the retail market. These are the first ones to arrive in this market from Cuba. Each egg plant weighs a pound or more, which in times of plenty can be purchased at 6 cents each. Some people use egg plants as a substitute for fresh eggs. Even at the high price eggs recently sold at in this market the egg plant proves a very expensive substitute.

ARMOUR PACKING PLAN PROMISED

Much Reason to Believe They Will Erect Great Works on Hathaway Tract.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Vancouver, Wash., April 3.—Although those who are known to be on the inside refuse to talk, there is good reason to believe that Armour & Co., the Chicago packing firm, is figuring on erecting an immense packing plant and slaughter house near this city. It has been known for several months in fact ever since a short time previous to the announcement that Swift & Co. would build in Portland, that agents of Armour & Co. have been engaged in looking up a suitable site for a packing plant.

On Jan. 9, J. B. Lober of Portland, acting for unknown parties, purchased the Hathaway farm, to the west of Vancouver, for $17,500, from Warren Merchant. This property consists of 250 acres and contains one of the finest factories or manufacturing sites in this vicinity. There is several thousand feet of excellent river frontage almost opposite the mouth of the Willamette river, on the north bank of the Columbia. It was known at the time of the sale that the purchase was made by the Armour parties, from certain circumstances surrounding the transfer of the property. Now it has leaked out on what seems to be reliable information that the eastern parties are none other than the Armour syndicate.

REVOLVER DUEL

The burglar jumped from the side porch to the ground and ran. Mr. Giltner, after firing a couple of shots, thought it safe to look out, and he put his head out at the window in time to see the miscreant running around the corner of the house. Giltner ran through the house to his father's bedroom, hoping to get another and more effective shot, but on looking out of the window there he was seen by the fleeing burglar, who fired a shot into the air. Giltner thought it was to keep indoors, and did not continue the duel. The burglar escaped, although a policeman heard the shots and saw two men running away from the house.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Chicago, April 3.—There will be offered for sale in this city, under foreclosure proceedings, on May 2, the property of the Chicago Terminal Transfer railroad company. WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacement, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not treated the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more cases of female illness than any other remedy. Such letters as the following:

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ailments Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that may help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.
