

DELEGATES FROM ALL OVER STATE

Members of Ladies of Macabees From East Also Reach Portland.

CONVENTION WORK TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Initiation of a Large Class Will Take Place in W. O. W. Hall Tonight, and Tomorrow Representatives of Oregon Will Be Elected.

Delegates to the Oregon state convention of the Ladies of the Macabees have gathered in Portland and will hold their first meeting tonight at the Woodmen of the World hall, when a large class initiation with the degree work will be carried out.

The real work of the convention starts tomorrow morning at the same time. Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, Supreme Commander Ladies of the Macabees, will be called to order by Mrs. Nellie H. Lambson, state commander of the society for Oregon and Washington. At that time a supreme delegate and alternate representative will be elected to represent Oregon at the supreme convention which will be held by the organization the second week in July.

More than 40 delegates are in Portland to attend the convention and they represent nearly every city of importance in the state. They are all enthusiastic workers of the order, which has been constantly increasing in membership and importance among secret societies. Among the more prominent members of the Ladies of the Macabees who are present are Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister of Detroit, Michigan, who is the supreme commander; Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Michigan, supreme record keeper, and Dr. Ella J. Fifield of Tacoma, supreme medical examiner. These three officers will take a leading part in the Oregon convention and will address the members when they are in session tomorrow.

DEAD AGAINST GIRLS CLAD IN BUCKSKIN

Admen's League Thinks Advertisement Would Harm State Instead of Help It.

Last night the Admen's league went on record as being strongly opposed to the proposition of sending a delegation of young women to Jamestown exposition in the costume of the Indians. H. C. Whittier introduced the remonstrance, which was heartily indorsed. The admen held that just such ideas have for years prevented Oregon from coming into its own. Real estate men held the floor last night at the meeting of the Admen's league. They had been called in to discuss means and methods of advertising Portland. A large number of these "boosters" were present, including the most active real brokers in the city. Speeches were made both by the real estate men and the admen. It was declared that what Portland needed was more of those real estate brokers that are just now coming to the city, those who are ready to ask for big prices and are inspiring the others to do the same, who could build a city in the Sahara desert where blocks would be selling within a few years for $500,000. This was not brought out to cast any reflection on Portland, but only to illustrate what a live real estate man can do.

SITE FOR PACKING COMPANY NEAR SWIFT'S

Manager Burkhardt is engaged in closing the accounts of the Pacific States Packing company which has temporarily ceased operations in this city. The company stopped its wholesale business completely on April 1. It is said that the company will resume operations on a large scale at a later date. A new location is to be selected, it is said, and a suitable packing house erected. It is reported that the company has an option on a tract of land on the peninsula near the big Swift establishment and that a packing plant will be erected there.

BIG DEALERS TO PAY MORE

Rectifiers' License Made Six Hundred and Wholesalers Four Hundred.

SHEPHERD OBTAINS END HE HAS WORKED FOR

While in the Council the Lawyer Wasn't Able to Get License Ordinance Passed but is Successful as an Ex-Member.

As a former councilman George E. Shepherd yesterday accomplished the object which he sought to accomplish when he was a member of the legislative body. That was to license restaurant keepers, grocers and others than saloonkeepers who sell liquor at retail, and also to license rectifiers. His ordinance, defeated at first but proposed as a new bill by Councilman Willis, was hurried through, and under it, wholesalers will have to pay a license of $400 a year, rectifiers $800, grocers who sell liquor at retail $200, grocers who employ solicitors $400, and druggists who dispense liquors $300. Shepherd was before the council to argue for the ordinance himself. When Rushlight moved that it be taken out of the dead-letter box, Gray recommended that its consideration be indefinitely postponed. There were two reports, substantially the same, but one in handwriting and the other type-written. The committee had looked into both of them and had decided that they be laid on the table. Rushlight and Bennett got the report off the table by a vote of 7 to 4, and succeeded in getting the ordinance placed upon its final passage. The Shepherd buttoned it. Mayor Takes a Rest. "Worthy mayor," he said as a salutation to Mayor Lane. "Worthy Shepherd," answered the mayor, who apparently saw a halo

KILDALL'S TRIP IS POSTPONED

Man Accused of Dodging Fish Taxes in Alaska Arranges Bonds Satisfactorily.

Simon F. Kildall, who was ordered by Judge Charles E. Weiverton to go to Alaska to face a charge of conspiring to defraud the government out of fish taxes, may escape going to Alaska at present. The usual procedure in such cases is to give the prisoner into the custody of the marshal as soon as the warrant is issued with instructions to take him to the place where he is wanted. Kildall has been successful in arranging bonds that will hold him to the Alaska court and will report at Juneau for the November term.

around the ex-councilman's head. "Worthy mayor," resumed Shepherd, "I am going to—here, if you are not going to listen to me I won't speak. Don't run away. You haven't any vote any how. Stay and hear me." Shepherd was addressing the mayor, who had called Councilman Gray to the chair, and had taken a recess for a few minutes.

Shepherd continued his speech before Chairman Gray on the crime of the rectifiers. He said a great deal of the whiskey was made in Portland and of Bull Run water and alcohol. The liquor was not any better than Chinese gin.

Bill Goes Through. Preston said the wholesale houses were willing to pay the higher license, but they wished the license of the rectifiers increased also. A motion to lay the ordinance upon the table was made and carried.

An hour later Willis proposed practically the same ordinance. Gray moved that it be referred to the judiciary committee, but the motion was defeated by a vote of 7 to 4. On a motion to place the ordinance upon the ballot, the vote stood 8 to 4. Bennett, Preston, Rushlight, Baker, Wallace and Willis voted aye, and Annand, Belding, Dunning, Gray, Boothe and Menefee, nay. The mayor, who had resumed the chair, cast the deciding vote in the affirmative.

James Craig and Lewis Johnson, well known citizens of Silverton, are at the Oregon hotel.
