

300 ECLIPSE RANGES TO SELL IN APRIL

That's the programme for this month. We contracted to handle nearly 2000 Eclipse Ranges for the year 1907—eighteen carloads in fact. Besides agreeing to dispose of this great quantity we must meet A FURTHER ADVANCE IN PRICE MAY FIRST.

But the great Eclipse Steel Range will stand a material advance in price and still be the lowest-priced standard steel range on the market.

The "Eclipse" Range is not for a moment to be compared with the cheap, asbestos-lined single-wall ranges offered in the Portland market.

The "Eclipse" has two walls of planished, cold-rolled steel and a middle (third) wall of thick asbestos board, which give it lifelong stability and prevent heat radiation. The heat is conserved and confined to the oven. That's why an "Eclipse" is popular during the summer months—it doesn't convert the kitchen into a furnace.

The Eclipse Courts Investigation

It will be found to be the quickest and surest baker of any range made.

You will find that it consumes but little fuel—in fact, will save its cost in the small consumption of fuel as compared to other steel ranges.

It has many special features possessed by no other range.

We have sold thousands of the "Eclipse" in Portland, and can point to long lists of people who praise it as a BAKER AND FUEL SAVER.

WARRANTED FOR 15 YEARS

JOIN THE ECLIPSE CLUB

Get into the Eclipse Range Club before the first of May. The price goes up a few dollars on that date. Get your name down NOW!

There's no range like the "Eclipse" and no range just as good. Here are some of

Its Chief Points of Superiority

Quick baking with small consumption of fuel. Simplicity of management—no complicated flues or damper sliding damper, which admits of perfect control over oven. Broiler ratchet, an unrivaled convenience for broiling or toasting over coals.

Front grate, which admits of perfect and complete draft upon entire length of fire.

Scientifically proportioned oven, which guarantees thorough and rapid baking. This is the main secret of its success. Be sure to investigate this feature.

The above are only a half dozen superior points—but enough to ponder over

Prices Range from $35 to $55

Size of oven regulates price. They are fitted with and without reservoirs

CRITICISMS OF ADMEN RESENTED

Promoters of Oregon Girls' Drill Company Construe These as Insulting.

FIRST AND ONLY GROUP TO REFUSE TO INDORSE

Motives Nothing Short of Sinister Assumed to Inspire Admen's Attitude—Indian Costume Feature Defended.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) McMinnville, Or., April 9.—The recent criticism offered by the Admen's league of Portland against the Indian costume feature of the Oregon Girls' Drill company that is to go to the Jamestown exposition, representing Oregon, has called forth a very sharp-toned open letter from Mayor Macy of this city, where the movement originated. The letter is indorsed, over their own signatures, by the members of the committee organizing the drill company. The letter follows:

Now that the hot weather is approaching there is one thing to which you must give special care: You must see to it that the meat you eat is fresh. SMITH'S MEATS ARE ABSOLUTELY FRESH. Science has done much, but it can't improve on the old-fashioned way of handling meats which has been followed since the Garden of Eden. Smith's meats, that are selected off the Oregon ranges, dressed under sanitary conditions, cooled by the fresh-air method, and cut up and sold to you without delay, beat all the cold-storage, refrigerated, ice-car meats in existence.

McMinnville, Oregon.

"April 8, 1907. To Paul W. Custer, president, and Members of Admen's league, Portland, Oregon.

Your communication of April 4th received criticizing the Oregon Girls' Drill company organized for the purpose of advertising the state of Oregon at Jamestown and the east. Had we received your communication before you had thrashed the matter out in the papers we would have treated it as sincere, but we now believe that your criticisms are based upon personal reasons and not upon the welfare of the state.

"Mr. Cooper, the manager of the enterprise, tried to answer some of the criticisms in a gentlemanly manner, and even suggested that the Indian feature might be eliminated, but this only increased the force and frequency of the insults appearing daily in the Portland papers, which we believe to be inspired by your organization that controls the advertising patronage of the city, and would stamp out anything proposed in the country, and that you would not permit girls to go abroad in any way that would attract attention to the state if you can prevent it.

"Warm Words of Encouragement. The proposed organization has been before the people of the state for nearly four months, and has received widespread notice and approval and no objection whatever until your recent tirade. We have talked to many prominent people of the state and to the best of our recollection but one among them all objected to the Indian feature. Two commercial organizations in Portland declined to encourage the enterprise. On January 23d, the secretary of the chamber of commerce wrote to me that the enterprise was not in their line of work, but if Tom Richardson would take the initiative their organization would undoubtedly take pleasure in appointing a man to confer, January 18th the secretary of the board of trade wrote that they did not feel that the matter was in the scope of their work, but wished the enterprise a success. January 17th Tom Richardson wrote, 'There are lots of enterprises on foot for Jamestown. Yours is one of the very best.' January 24 F. W. Leadbetter, president of the Commercial club, wrote declining to act as one of the board of managers of the undertaking, for the reason that he would be absent from the state, but added, 'You have my very best wishes for your very enterprising idea.' And very many more letters, but no word or hint objecting to the Indian idea of the enterprise.

"Shameful 'Missions' Alleged. 'Not particularly in spite of Portland, but without their aid or consent we have brought the work to success and hoped to go on without their open opposition and especially without their shameful ridicule of the girls among whose indorsers are Governor Chamberlain, Supreme Judge Moore, United States Senator Mulkey, Congressman Hawley, President Campbell of the State university, scores of state senators, representatives, district and county judges, school superintendents, county and city officers, county court clerks (Baker and Tillamook), commercial clubs, editors, ministers, school boards and teachers, merchants, bankers and prominent citizens, men and women, more than a thousand. All with the knowledge of the Indian part of the program, and not one word of protest from them that we have seen, but many of approval.

"Playing Indian' Occasionally. And these are the girls, many of whose names were published before you began your crusade: Belle VanDyke, Eugene, Frances Simpson, Elk City; Gertrude Walbridge, Heppner; Ethel Haines, Harney; Vivian Cosad, Canyon City; Hazel McNair, Tillamook; Isabelle Gardner, Newberg; Gladys Lynch, Kathleen George and Zoe E. McClung of Portland; Lydia Davidson, Harrisburg; Marion Beatty, Cottage Grove; Bertha Templeton, Halsey; Bernice Polinder, Prineville; Bessie Bryant, Albany; Ploy Johnson, John Day; Marie Church, Independence; Pearl Porter, Pendleton; Idel Woodworth, Hood River; Ella Butler, Dallas; Lulu E. Hill, The Dalles; Irma Patrick, Ashland; Evelyn Wood, Chemawa; Callie Howe, Sheridan; Nora Mann, Chemawa; Maud Blair, Cottage Grove; Fay Wisecarver, McMinnville; Faye Brittenier, Milwaukie; Edna Paraley, Roseburg; Elsie Keyt, Parrydale; Mabelle Hunstock, Baker City, and scores of other equally estimable girls, unanimous in expressing their delight at the idea of 'playing Indian' occasionally on the trip.

"Personal Indignities Feared. The epithets applied to these estimable girls such as 'music for Oregon squaws,' 'should not go as squaws,' 'aggregation of squaws,' is a coarse insult repeated for a purpose by you 'advertising experts' who have advertised Portland as possessing an element lower than the Indian you so vehemently characterize, and leads us to believe that those girls will not be permitted to go through your city without being subjected to personal indignities we will not bring upon them, and it is up to the people of the state whose fair daughters have offered to help advertise Oregon, whether the enterprise shall continue or be abandoned.

IS DESCENDANT OF CROMWELL

Member of Great Protector's Family Is Landlord of an Old English Hotel.

CLAIM WAS VERIFIED BY HISTORIAN CARLYLE

Disraeli Made His First Speech From Doorstep of Cromwell's Hotel—Is in Old Town of High Wycombe, in England.

(Journal Special Service.) London, April 8.—When a famous old English hostelry changed hands the other day considerable interest was aroused by the announcement that the new landlord's name was Oliver Cromwell, and that he claimed to be a lineal descendant of the protector. It was added that he bore quite a striking resemblance to a statue of the great man outside Westminster hall.

It is in the ancient town of High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire, about 30 miles out from London, that he has just established himself as landlord of the Red Lion hotel. The building, said to be about 200 years old, stands in the main street of the quaint village, and with a huge red lion over the portico still presents the appearance of a typical old English coaching house.

"I have never bothered myself much about it. Some 20 years ago when Thomas Carlyle was writing his life of Cromwell he sent a man to inquire regarding my pedigree. All I could definitely say was that my grandfather's name was Oliver Cromwell. Of course, he wasn't the great Oliver, for he lived some 250 years ago, but my grandfather's family lived in Surrey—I myself was born at Egham in Surrey—and

TEACHERS OF COWLITZ COUNTY IN SESSION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Kelso, Wash., April 9.—The Cowlitz County Teachers' institute assembled yesterday with an attendance of about 125, which may be slightly increased.

In the morning session Professor Lull of the Bellingham Normal delivered an address on "The Tension in the Grammar Grades," pointing out the improper relation so often existing between the high school and the so-called public school. Dr. Padelford of the Washington State school gave a talk on "Composition." Mrs. Sloan of Portland spoke on "Number Work in the Primary." In the afternoon session Mr. Lull spoke on "Discipline and Order." Mrs. Sloan began the subject of "Reading in the Primary Department," and Dr. Padelford gave an address on "John Ruskin."

Wednesday is the last day for discount on west side gas bills.

PORTLAND BOY AT TACOMA SEEKS DEATH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., April 9.—"I'm just tired of life and want a quit," were the words of Frank Halvahl, a mill hand, 20 years old, who came here recently from Portland, when taken in charge by the police. He made two attempts to commit suicide yesterday. With a piece of rope tied around his neck and the other end fixed to a beam of the Tacoma mill he made a leap. A workman cut him down. In the afternoon he made another attempt, but with no better results. He has a father and step-mother at Portland.

OREGON SECOND ON COAST IN NEW NATIONAL BANKS

In Last Seven Years Twenty-Eight New National Banks Organized in Oregon.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, April 9.—The secretary of the treasury has approved the application of the Harney county bank, Burns, Or., to be converted into a national bank, to be called the Harney County National Bank of Burns, capital $50,000.

The secretary has approved the selection by the Forest Grove National bank of the National Park bank of New York as its reserve agent.

In the Pacific group of states, Oregon is in the second rank, following California with number of national banks organized since March 14, 1900. There were 28 formed in Oregon in that period.

National banks organized during the seven years in the western states were: Montana, 15 banks, capital $750,000; North Dakota 102, $2,825,000; South Dakota 69, $1,625,000; Nebraska 25, $2,445,000; Kansas 105, $4,025,000; Wyoming 19, $775,000; Colorado 52, $3,941,000; New Mexico 27, $390,000; Oklahoma 121, $4,005,000; Indian Territory 125, $4,875,000.

A NEW DEPARTURE

The Cost of Interments Has Been Greatly Reduced by the Holman Undertaking Company. Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, beginning July 1, 1907, will depart from this old custom. When the casket is furnished by its cost will include all charges, such as conveying the remains to our chapel, outside box, embalming, hearse to cemetery and all services which may be required of us, except clothing, caskets and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
