

RACE IN TRAIN TO BEAT DEATH

Charles B. Avery, Stricken With Creeping Paralysis, May Reach Home Before Fatal Stroke.

DOES NOT REALIZE HIS HOPELESS CONDITION

Death Only Few Days Distant, He Cheerfully Bids Companions Goodbye, Saying He Will Return to Portland Soon.

Charles B. Avery, who was stricken a few days ago with creeping paralysis, left last night, accompanied by his father, Charles E. Avery, and Dr. Daniel Grant, for Buffalo, New York. The trip will be made with all possible speed, as the physicians fear that he may not live to reach his home at Buffalo and a waiting mother.

The young man was a city salesman for the Boyd Tea company. Several days ago, while driving about the city soliciting orders for his house, he was drenched during a cold rain, and was next day attacked by the fatal malady. His father was immediately advised of the son's condition and came on at once from Buffalo. He was told by the doctors that the son's recovery was impossible, and at once made preparations to take him home to die.

Creeping paralysis is one of the few diseases that completely baffles medical skill; in fact, the doctors say that nothing can be done even temporarily to stay its progress. It at first attacks the lower limbs, but slowly makes its way upward until the heart is reached, when sudden death intervenes.

Young Avery was one of the most popular employees of the Boyd Tea company, where he had worked for the past three years. He was a very successful salesman and had one of the best tea and coffee routes in the city.

A pathetic feature of the young man's illness is the fact that he does not realize the hopelessness of his case. While bidding his fellow employees goodbye last night, he spoke of his early return to Portland, telling them that his illness would run its course in a month or so, and upon his complete recovery he would at once come back and resume his old place.

The party left on the O. R. & N. 8:15 train last night for Omaha. But two changes will be necessary, one at Omaha and the other at Chicago. The railway and Pullman officials instructed their employees to lend every aid possible to the comfort and convenience of the party.

WORK ON HILL ROAD TENINO TO SOUND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tenino, Wash., April 9.—Preparatory work on the Hill road from Tenino to the sound has been begun. Two crews are now clearing the land recently acquired through condemnation proceedings for splitting yards and houses located on the right-of-way are being moved. Other right-of-way strips are being bought or condemned between here and Tenino. All the property over the tunnel to be bored from Commencement bay to the Narrows near Stillacoom is being bought to avoid possible damage suits, following slips or cave-ins produced by the tunneling. The rails for the line to Tenino are already ordered and part of them are now on their way west. There will be 17 miles of sidetracks at Tenino, which will become quite a railroad center through the building of the new branch.

GRESHAM LIBRARY TO BE FORMALLY OPENED

A reception and public opening will be held by the directors of the Gresham library and reading-room next Friday afternoon. Judge W. W. Coe, W. C. Fox and others will help start the new library off right. Refreshments will be served in the evening. Dr. J. M. Short has signified his willingness to donate a lot for the use of the library providing other citizens will subscribe enough to build a beautiful building suitable for Gresham. The Portland Library association is aiding the Gresham project by donating the use of books. At present the new library will have the use of the old Methodist church.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN

Secures New Pine Product—A Boon to Consumptives and People With Severe Coughs and Colds—Heart of Tree Is Cut Into Small Blocks.

The heart of the tall pine tree is cut into small square blocks. This is the method pursued by a prominent physician in his process of obtaining what is known to druggists and doctors as Concentrated oil of pine. Subsequently the vital juices are extracted by hydraulic pressure and go through a refining and condensing process, and yield this wonderful curative oil of which a great deal has recently been written. It has proven a most certain remedy for lumbago and arthritic rheumatism. It also makes a splendid salve to be applied externally by mixing it with lard or vaseline. But for the quick cure of coughs and colds it has no equal.

For this purpose one half ounce of the concentrated oil of pine is mixed with two ounces of glycerine and half pint of good whiskey. Must be well shaken and used in tablespoon doses every four hours.

It should be borne in mind that the real concentrated oil of pine comes put up in small half-ounce bottles each enclosed in a round screw-top case and sealed. This case is intended to protect the contents from the atmospheric changes. There are several cheap imitations put out by chemical houses that use a similar name and package. These are dangerous, but can be avoided by making sure to get the "Concentrated" oil of pine. It will be found in the prescription department of every first-class drugist.

ALBANY COLLEGE GIVEN CLEAR FIELD

President Crooks Appeals to Presbyterians to Give to Denominational Institution.

Albany college will have no opposition in Portland to impede its progress. The belief that there would be a Presbyterian educational institution established here was definitely settled yesterday at a meeting of the Presbyterian ministers when a positive statement from Mr. W. M. Ladd was made to the effect that the Ladd estate had no intention of endowing an institution of this kind.

President H. M. Crooks, of the Albany college, was present at the meeting and made a strong appeal for assistance to carry the work of his institution. The college is conducted under the auspices of the Presbyterian synod, but heretofore help has been denied it owing to the rumor that another college would be established here. Now that this question is out of the way, the Albany institution will have a clear field in which to work.

President Crooks said it would be necessary to raise $15,000 at once to put the college on a solid working basis, that the plan was to raise $10,000 in Albany, the same amount in Portland and $5,000 elsewhere in the state. "In my opinion," he said, "the benefactors like Carnegie and others are willing to help after you have proved that you do not need their help, or at least can get along without it. If we raise this required sum, I believe that assistance will come to us from other directions. The Y. M. C. A. campaign has put off our plan several times because we felt that the time was not auspicious, but now we want your help. Albany and the state looks for Portland to take the initiative, and upon your action depends Albany college's future.

Everywhere we are met with the excitement that there will soon be a Presbyterian college founded in Portland, but if there is one it will be founded and endowed by the source that must now put Albany college on its feet. The Ladd estate will endow a college here, and in fact Mr. Ladd stated positively that the beneficiaries are getting so low that their help to our institution cannot be very large. Final action on the matter was deferred till the meeting of the synod next Tuesday, but the ministers present informally pledged their support and showed themselves deeply moved by Mr. Crooks' plea, and extended Oregon branch of the National Industrial Peace association. P. H. Scullin explained to the gathering the plans and scope of the work and what he expected to accomplish with other associations present. The meeting was presided over by Rev. E. G. Muckley, J. Hennessy Murphy acted as secretary. Rev. J. Whitcomb Brounger in presenting a motion to organize on a temporary basis spoke in favor of the movement and recommended as chairman of the ministerial committee that the peace body be formed along the lines embodied in the project.

WILL ORGANIZE NATIONAL BODY

Oregon Branch of Peace Association Formed—Next Move Will Include All States.

Many of the leading citizens of Portland met in the chamber of commerce last night and organized the Oregon branch of the National Industrial Peace association. P. H. Scullin explained to the gathering the plans and scope of the work and what he expected to accomplish with other associations present. The meeting was presided over by Rev. E. G. Muckley, J. Hennessy Murphy acted as secretary. Rev. J. Whitcomb Brounger in presenting a motion to organize on a temporary basis spoke in favor of the movement and recommended as chairman of the ministerial committee that the peace body be formed along the lines embodied in the project.
