NINETEEN COUNTIES SEND DELEGATES TO GRAND JURY

That the forthcoming federal grand jury will be a representative one is shown by the fact that 19 of the 52 counties of the state are represented, while 16 different vocations are followed by the 50 men drawn in the venire yesterday.

Nearly every walk in life is represented from that of a locksmith to a capitalist. Farmers predominate and exactly one-half of the men selected yesterday belong to the class who till the soil. Merchants come next in order with eight. Of capitalists there are three, while two dairymen are included in the list. Of the remainder there are

BEFUDDLED FATHER CLAIMS BOY BABE IS DAUGHTER

Fatherhood fell so happily upon a young man that this morning he journeyed three miles in order to report the birth of his first-born to the health board. The attending physician had been ahead of him, however, and the reports conflicted. The report of the physician to Secretary Moore was that the babe born was a girl. The father amarted that it was a boy.

"Do I look as if I had been drinking?" the father indignantly asked when he was shown the report of the physician. "You certainly don't," answered Miss Moore, "but we must accept the report of the physician first."

Several fathers of young ladies who the time assured him that he was, and of the proprietor of a family. So happy was he that an hour later he sent up s box of cigars to the young ladies in the health office and a box of bonbons to the male amployes. It is needless to say that the bonbons were traded for the cigars:

Further Effort Will Be Made to Mrs. Garritz Tells Story of In-Bring Los Angeles Men to Oregon for Trial.

United States District Attorney Wil-Ham C. Bristol received word this afthat the United States supreme ourt had sustained the appeal of the Los Angeles men indicted for violating the federal land laws in Curry county, Oregon, in their efforts to resist removal to Oregon for trial on the charges included in the indictments. Despite the victory of the Los An-cles parties, Mr. Bristol will institute ew proceedings against them and will new proceedings against them and will so to Low Angeles and try the cases against the men himself, as soon as he can get away from his duties connected with the federal grand jury, which will meet this month.

The Los Angeles men indicted are Gilleilen, Kennx, Goodwin and Gould. They are well-known and influential citizens of Californis and have sought refuge from every court possible, finally winning in the supreme court.

This, however, does not release them from the charges in the indictments, and instead of being tried in Oregon gives them the opportunity to be tried in California. Mr. Bristol does not see it that way, however, and insists that the men shall be tried in this state.

The men hypealed to the supreme court from the United States circuit court of the southern California district on a writ of habeas corpus. Expert witnesses to be called by Garrits's attorney. J. F. Watts, are Dra. William House. W. F. Amos and W. D. McNary. Dra. House and McNary have both sworn to tastr belief that Garrits is insane and a victim of feeble-mindedness probably dating from early child-hood.
