

PLANS TO HOLD SPRING CHINOOK

Master Fish Warden Arranges to Hold Them in Clackamas for Spawning.

HAS LET CONTRACT FOR GASOLINE PATROL BOAT

Reports Law on Lower Columbia Well Enforced, With Aid of the Packers—New Deputy for Clackamas—Receipts and Expenditures

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., April 8.—The board of fish commissioners met yesterday afternoon at the state house and chose Frank C. Brown, superintendent of the hatchery near Ontario, deputy fish warden to succeed Herman Webster of Clackamas. Brown is an Oregon City boy and one of the younger men in the service.

In accordance with the instruction given him at the last meeting of the board Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Dusen reported that he had let the contract for the building of the gasoline patrol boat for use among the fishermen of the Columbia river and its tributaries, to R. M. Leathers of Astoria. The boat will be modeled after a Columbia river fishing boat and will be 32 feet long with eight-foot beam, 18 inches in depth with a removable house six feet by eight over the engine. It will be operated by means of a 15-horsepower three-cylinder Troyer gas engine and sufficient air tanks to assure its floating in case of swamping and will be equipped with all the necessary paraphernalia. The searchlight and compass are to be furnished by the state. The cost of the boat will be $1,150.

The report showed that the disbursements for both districts was $3,489.33 and the receipts from the first district were $100.52.

Law Has Been Well Enforced.

The report of Mr. Van Dusen says that with the aid of the packers of the lower river the spring close season period on the Columbia river and its tributaries has been well enforced. Two gasoline boats for patrol service were employed, one of which was placed in charge of Water Bailiff "Sam" for the lower Columbia river and the other under the charge of Water Bailiff "Smith," who is looking after the enforcement of the law in the waters of the upper Columbia and the lower Willamette river.

For Spring Chinook Supply.

The work of the various hatcheries is gone over in detail in the report. Relative to the operations to be conducted on the Clackamas river, Warden Van Dusen says:

"This year I will arrange to put in a set of racks and will undertake to trap and hold a supply of spring Chinook salmon in the Clackamas river below the Camasdeno dam for spawning and its puses. We have been leaving this stream to the United States bureau of fisheries to work, but during the past two years they have done nothing in the way of spawning. As I feel warranted in taking the matter in hand and see if a supply of salmon cannot be had at this point for spawning purposes; and if so, undertake to hold them between racks until their spawning period. This situation is a long distance from the natural spawning grounds of the early fish that ascend this stream and it will be a difficult matter to hold them there in a healthful condition, but an attempt will be made and every precaution will be taken and they will be held if it is possible to do so. If the superintendent in charge of the work carried on by the United States bureau of fisheries so desires, I will have the bureau cooperate with me in this undertaking."

WORLD'S RICHEST WIDOW

The recent death at Tokio of James H. Smith, better known as "Silent Smith," created a profound sensation in New York social and financial circles, in both of which Mr. Smith was a prominent figure. Mrs. Smith, formerly Mrs. William Rhineclander Stewart, is now the richest widow in the world. Her husband inherited an estate exceeding $50,000,000 in value.

THE REALM OF THE FEMINE

BY HELEN HAWTHORNE

Women and Athletics.

A man who may be supposed to be thoroughly competent from years of experience and observation to speak with authority on the matter of physical exercise for women is Dr. Luther H. Gulick, who is president of the American Physical Association and head of the department of physical training for the public schools of New York. He was asked recently to give his opinion as to whether competition in athletic sports and games is desirable for women.

He replied that there is a woman's problem in exercise as in many other things. The reason for encouraging team work among college girls he thought to be the need which girls have for the ethical training which it gives. Nothing is of greater value, in his opinion, for the college girl, than to find out that money, pull, social position, count for nothing. They do not help her to play ball, to excel in tennis, or are they of any value in making her a desirable member of a team. What she is, and what she can do, are the things of vital importance, and in the game all social or imaginary distinctions are lost.

Lady Baltimore Cake.

The whites of eight eggs, one pound of flour, one pound of sugar, one-half pound of butter, one-half pint of sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and two of almond extract. Beat the baking powder with the flour, cream the butter and sugar until very light, add carefully and slowly the milk, flour and well-beaten whites, then the flavoring. Beat thoroughly and bake in layers. Put together with the following:

Women in bodily development. This is no longer held. There is less attempt than formerly to gain the physiological facts. Man is built to be the fighter and the protector. Woman is built for motherhood.

The exercises which are best adapted for women are those which give sufficient exercise without strain and those which, indulged in moderation, give grace and elasticity. All forms of calisthenics and light gymnastics, archery, tennis, swimming, field hockey, lacrosse, bicycling, rowing, canoeing, golf, skating, fencing, basketball, dancing—all these are the desirable means. The end should be a sound body, a clear brain, poise and grace. To quote Dr. Gulick again:

"Women may be excused for not being as strong and enduring as men, but they cannot be excused for not being more finished and graceful. Good carriage, perfect poise, self-command and exquisite grace and refinement should enter into women's athletic performances."

"I do not mean that girls or women should spend their time attitudinizing, but that they should be thoroughly trained in ease and grace of movement. Women so drilled never have to be told what to do with their hands and feet. Whether they enter a drawing-room, preside at a meeting, or do anything else, they may be depended upon to be perfectly natural and at ease."

New York Fashions.

At the moment there is almost as much variety allowed in the evening gown as in the visiting and street costume and we are seeing a number of lovely things as a result. What might be called modified empire effects are constantly growing in favor and are really very charming, with the favorite surplice waist. The broad and drooping shoulder is to be noted on all the later gowns and not a few of the short, open mandarin sleeves are seen in the bodices of evening wear. All sorts of thin and diaphanous materials are well liked for many of these and some very lovely spangled nets and laces are seen; as, for example, a gown that is to make part of the outfit to an out-of-town house party, which is of pearl spangled tulle combined with plain. There the empire effect at the back and the long, sloping lines of that period, while the corsage is draped in the surplice style that is so satisfactory with material of this sort. The entire gown is made of alternating stripes of the plain and the fancy tulle and there is a wide hem of pale pinkish mauve velvet at the lower edge, while the beautifully draped décolleté bodice is finished with a single huge rose, where the crossing is made slightly to the left of the front. There are elbow sleeves that are divided into two puffs by means of bands of smaller roses of a similar sort. The gown is mounted over a pinkish mauve foundation of liberty satin velvet with tulle and is just as airy, fairy-like a creation as well can be devised.

The huge roses worn in this manner, by the way, form a recent novel fad sent over from Paris, really are attractive and chic. A very lovely gown was of pale gray silk mousseline over blue with trimming of silver combined with gray and pale blue and was worn with a single large pink rose at the front of the almost classic bodice in director's style.

TWO YEARS IN BED

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS CURE STURBORN RHEUMATISM.

No One Who Reads This Can Afford to Let Prejudice Prevent Giving the Remedy a Trial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been curing the most stubborn cases of rheumatism for nearly a generation and thousands of grateful patients have given testimony that cannot be ignored. If you suffer from this disease and have not given the pills a trial perhaps it is your prejudice or the influence of some friend that has prevented your finding health. Perhaps your doctor cannot help you and the thousand remedies recommended for rheumatism do not touch your case. We have on record hundreds of just such cases cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and will welcome the opportunity to submit the evidence to you.

Mr. Robert Ogbert, a machinist, living at 201 Cameron street, Detroit, Mich., had a very distressing experience with rheumatism for about two years. He makes the following statement: "About the year 1887 I felt the effects of rheumatism which gradually grew worse until I was compelled to give up work for a time. The years of '97 and '98 I was confined to my bed most of the time. I was under doctors' treatment but found no relief. My legs were swollen from the hips downward and bed blotches appeared all over them. Frequently they pained me so that I had to bind them tightly with strips of linen. This sometimes relieved the pain but at other times failed to do so. At times I had to crawl to my work, using two crutches. During these spells I suffered greatly from pain around my heart which I attributed to the rheumatism."

"At last my mother wrote me and asked me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did and in a short time I found myself getting better and have had no trouble since. I am here to say that I consider myself perfectly cured. I have not had the least sign of the disease since and feel better now than I ever did. For these reasons I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any one affected the same as I was."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six bottles for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

INSANE FROM LEAVING DEAR OLD VIRGINIA

David McClanahan's Homesickness Reaches Acute Suicidal Stage.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, April 8.—David McClanahan, while on his way from Seattle to Chehalis, accompanied by his family, jumped from a car window at the Nineteenth street depot in an attempt to commit suicide. Beyond minor cuts and bruises he sustained few injuries, and was later taken on to Chehalis, McClanahan and his family were emigrants on their way from Virginia to Chehalis, where they had bought a home. The selling of the old homestead in Virginia worked on his mind until brooding drove him insane. His sons say that after boarding the train in the east he kept talking of his boyhood days and the sorrow it gave him to leave the old home. When a change of cars was made in Seattle last night he worked himself into a state of nervous collapse, and fearing he would do himself mischief they began to watch him.

THE PERFECT WAY.

Scores of Portland Citizens Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache, There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.

A bad back means sick kidneys. Neglect it, urinary troubles follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

Are endorsed by Portland people. G. H. Springmeyer, expressman, of 1016 First street, Portland, Or., says: "Exposure to rough weather and the jarring of my wagon brought on kidney trouble. My back ached almost constantly and the action of the kidneys seemed weak and the passages of the secretions too frequent. Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice and I got a box and began using them at once. The pain in my back was soon relieved and the kidney secretions became normal. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills brought about this result. (From statement made Feb. 23, 1903.)"

CURED TO STAY CURED.

On Jan. 12, 1906, Mr. Springmeyer confirmed the above statement and added: "Since the time referred to, my former kidney trouble I have not had a trace of kidney trouble. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many people and am always glad to do so."
