

WILLIE SETS A TRAP FOR JOHNNY JONES, BUT CATCHES BIGGER GAME

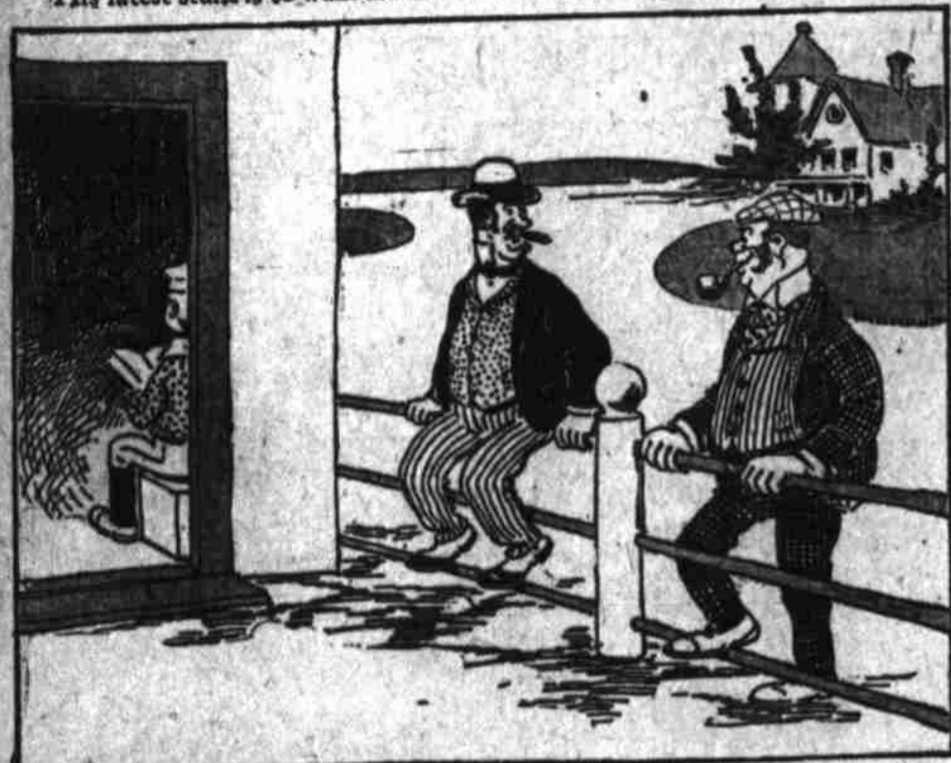

Dear Tommy—Johnny Jones, who lives next to us, is always showing off. His latest stunt is to walk around the line fence like a tight-rope walker.

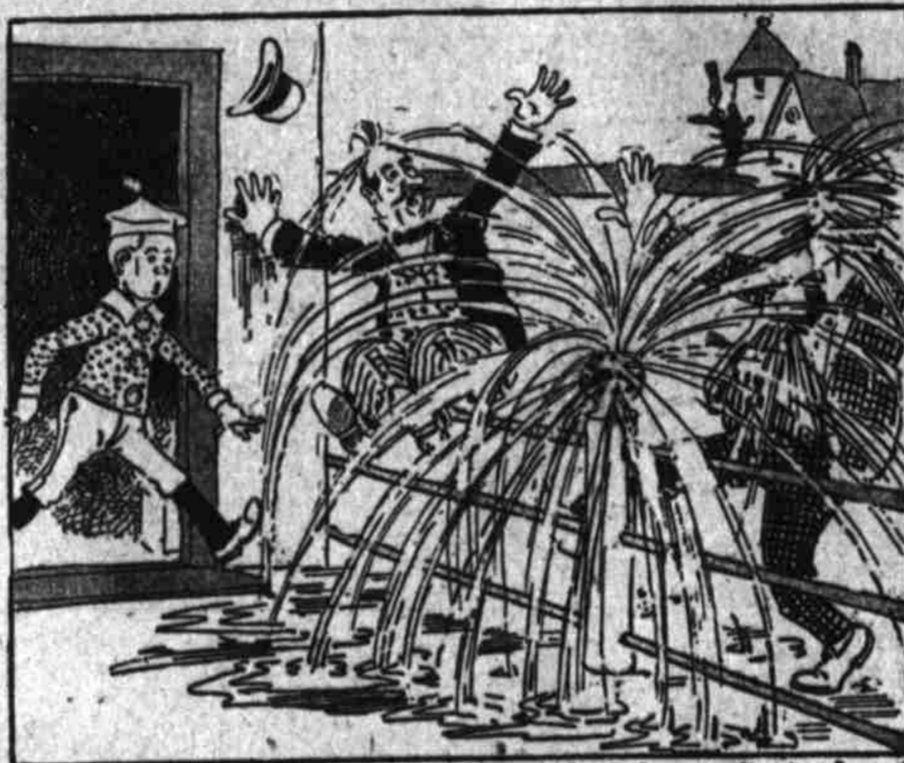

So I fixed up a trap for him like this diagram.

I watched him start away down the lower end of the grounds; then I sat down to read a bit.

In the meantime, Papa and Mr. Jones came over to look at our new automobile.

I was so interested in my book that I never noticed them until Mr. Jones leaned on the rail.

They both got soaked and I got scolded; but the worst of all, Johnny came up and laughed at us.

Yours, Willie.

PA'S NIGHTMARE---DON'T WAKE HIM UP
