JOSEPH BRANCH AGAIN PROMISED

O. R. & N. Assures Anxious Wallowa Valley Men That Road Will Be Built.

CONSTRUCTION WILL PROCEED SLOWLY

Harriman System Promised Farmers of Rich Valley a Steam Road If Right-of-Way Was Granted, So Electric Line Died.

The cutting down of working forces on the O. R. & N. company's extension from Elgin to Joseph has caused much alarm among citizens of the Wallowa valley. A delegation including Eugene Holmes, a Wallowa merchant, William Holmes, a banker at Enterprise, Archie Miller, secretary Enterprise Commercial club and others, who came to Portland to inquire into the situation have received assurance from railroad management that the work will proceed, but slowly.

It is said the people of Joseph and the interior fear that the company will abandon the last 45 miles of the road, between Wallowa and Joseph. The result of such a course would be to leave the entire Wallowa valley in a condition necessitating the hauling of products 40 to 50 miles to reach the terminus of the road. The extension is now under construction from Elgin to a point just inside the Wallowa valley.

Keeps Rich Territory.
 The first section of the new road runs through the Grande Ronde valley and thence through the Wallowa canyon to the town of Wallowa, where it laps the Wallowa valley. This valley is a very large scope of rich country, producing grains, fruits, live stock and all the products of the best parts of Oregon. It is a long-neglected territory and within the last year the prospect for railroad transportation has recently stimulated business and development of all kinds in the valley. A year or two ago an electric road was about to be built and after rights of way were granted to the projectors the O. R. & N. company intervened and, by promising the farmers a steam road immediately induced them to grant rights of way on top of the electric road's right of way. The case was thrown into the courts, and the O. R. & N. company sent in a force of men and fenced the right of way.

Electric Project Killed.
 This was a death blow to the electric railroad project, and the people now feel that it is incumbent upon the O. R. & N. company to push the proposed extension to Joseph with all possible speed.

Wallowa valley people argue that they are in the way responsible for the Wall street flurries or the fall of prices of railroad securities on the stock exchange, and they are no less entitled to railroad transportation today than they were a year ago when immediate construction of a road was promised them.

Our success in the tailoring business is because of our broad plan of giving good values all year, with no intent of making big profits. Your suit is a study until it is made to your entire satisfaction. We carry a large stock of the very latest patterns and make any suit in the house to order for $15—no more, no less. Try us on your spring suit. Unique Tailoring Co., 309 Stark, near Sixth.

KLAMATH INCORPORATORS OF AN ELECTRIC RAILWAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Salem, Or., April 13.—That the people of Klamath Falls believe in railroads is evidenced by the articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state for the Klamath Electric company. The incorporators are W. H. Mason, E. J. Murray and H. L. Holgate, all of Klamath Falls, and the company has a capital stock of $25,000. The plan is to build and operate an electric line from Klamath Falls to Bonanza, Yonka, and Merrill.

The Grants Pass Canning company has also filed articles. The incorporators are L. B. Hall, H. C. Kinney and Herbert C. Sampson, the main business office of the company will be at Grants Pass and the capital stock is $15,000.

The Methodist church of Marquam, Clackamas county, has for its incorporators J. Labour, Barton Jack, I. D. Larkins, G. W. Bentley and James Marquam. The estimated value of the property is $2,500.

FLAG DAY IN MARION'S DISTRICT NUMBER TEN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Salem, Or., April 13.—County Superintendent E. T. Moore and Hal D. Patton of this city were the speakers at the flag raising exercises at the Finley schoolhouse in district No. 10. Mr. Patton was the donor of the flag. The affair proved a holiday to the little community. Mr. Patton has donated scores of flags to the schools of Marion county. The flag raising was all the more enjoyable on account of the program prepared by the pupils under the direction of the teacher, Miss Freeman.

TEKOA EXPECTS TWO DIVISIONS

Both the Milwaukee and the North Coast Display All the Symptoms.

GRAND GROWTH THEN MORE THAN ASSURED

Peculiarity in Milwaukee's Route Noted, It Literally Hitting the High Places—Reservation Opening Will Boom the Town.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Tekoa, Wash., April 13.—Clearing right of way and grading has commenced on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul from the Washington-Idaho line east. About 125 men are working now and as soon as the snow thaws the force will be increased to about 400. Tekoa will be the supply point for the different camps, both east and west for a distance of 80 miles.

It is expected a division point will be established here by the Milwaukee and also that the North Coast railroad, which has made its survey and is buying right of way now, will make this a division point.

It is reported that contracts will soon be let by the Electric company for its line between here and Spokane.

Milwaukee on a High Line.
 The Milwaukee will go through Tekoa on a high line, over 100 feet above the creek and about 60 feet above the O. R. & N. It seems to be the aim of the company to build as high as possible. Judging from their maps it would seem they are seeking the mountain tops rather than the water level. Through the Coast Range mountains there is a cut and fill all the way, no level stretch of ground being shown.

Rumors are current that an effort will be made to have the Inland Electric railway build a branch from its main line through the Palouse country to this city, connecting with the main line near Rockford.

Then the Town Will Expand.
 Many improvements are contemplated by the citizens as well as the city and with the coming of the different railroads the place will be the most prosperous town in eastern Washington, since considered.

The opening of the Cover D'Alene

Indian reservation will also draw large crowds here, as the best agricultural lands are tributary to Tekoa. Strong influence is being brought to bear on the general land office to have a registering station opened here.

Tekoa is now a town of nearly 1,000 inhabitants and at the rate strangers are coming in the population will double within a year.

Happy Meeting of Old Friends.
 Perhaps the most pleasing meeting occurred here when Lew Morse of Hood River arrived with his associates, Gould and Mears, to take charge of their large railroad contracts. The Oregonians here were more than pleased to see their old friend and one of the staunchest Democrats of Oregon. Mr. Morse, with his partners, have secured a contract on the C. M. & St. P. from the Washington-Idaho state line to Chatolet Lake, a distance of 23 miles. Mr. Morse has lived at Hood River since 1890 and attended every state convention since that time and was a member of the city council at the time he secured this contract. He then resigned.

CONAN DOYLE, ONCE NEAR DEATH, IS RECOVERING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 London, April 13.—Over the recent illness of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle much secrecy was maintained, but it is understood that at one stage the life of the famous author of "Sherlock Holmes" was almost despaired of. Since then, however, the welcome news has come that he is well on the road to recovery and this is now confirmed by the announcement that he will preside at a literary dinner to be given in London on April 23. The gathering will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the birth of Henry Fielding, the author of "Tom Jones," and will be given by the Society of Somerset men in London of which "Doctor" Doyle is one of the most prominent and enthusiastic members.

REAL DEAD MAMMOTH AT SEATTLE A-Y-P.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
 Seattle, April 13.—The body of a mammoth, which has lain for thousands of years imbedded in the ice of an Alaskan glacier, will probably be one of the exhibits at the Alaska-Yukon-

Pacific exposition. The fair officials were advised of the find some time ago, but as it will cost about $25,000 to finance the proposition of bringing the monster carcass to Seattle they were a bit chary of undertaking it. They entered into communication, however, with the American Museum of Natural History at New York and it is probable that institution will assume charge of the mammoth. A letter received by Prof. Edmond S. Mearns, of the University of Washington indicates that the museum looks upon the project with favor. The letter says that the museum's chief paleontologist, H. F. Osborn, is now away on a trip, but as soon as he returns the matter will be taken up.

It is proposed that the museum bring the body to Seattle, leave it here during the fair and then take it to New York.

Office Furniture Week

This is office furniture week at the Jenning store and we are showing an exceptionally fine line consisting of desks (roll and flat-top), office chairs (revolving and straight), bookkeeper's desks, letter-press stands and office tables. Our showing this week is principally composed of the famous Cutler Desks, for which we are the exclusive Portland agents. These desks are known as the best in the world and they are sold in every country in the world.

The distinguishing characteristics of the Cutler furniture are many. The automatic locking device is one, the smoothness of the roll, the large commodious drawers and the smoothness and evenness of action.

Most of the desks are made of white quarter oak, of golden oak, solid mahogany. For gracefulness of design and beauty in finish there is nothing finer made.

The Cutler Desks have a number of attachments that are not found in any other make of desks. The sliding pigeon-hole fronts, revolving three-well ink stands and pen rest, automatic blotting pad.

We invite examination of the showing in office furniture.
