

TOLD BOY WOULD CUT HIS THROAT

Man Forced Boy to Leave Home and Threatened Him With a Knife.

GETS A LONG SENTENCE IN KANSAS WORKHOUSE

Son of Chicago Bookkeeper Tells a Remarkable Story in Police Court While Testifying Against Man Who Took Him From Home.

(Journal Special Service.) Kansas City, April 15.—"He showed me a big knife and said he would cut my throat if I ever told that he had forced me to leave home. Besides that I could not resist the man anyway. Whenever I would speak of going home he would point his finger at me and tell me to say nothing. I had to obey. I have been in terror of him ever since he took me away from home."

This was part of the statement of Allen Shirley, a 16-year-old boy of Lakeida, Illinois, in prosecuting Henry E. Davy in police court this morning. Davy was charged with vagrancy. He was arrested yesterday afternoon on information from Chicago, saying that Davy had forced the boy to leave his home. The boy is a son of J. C. Shirley, bookkeeper of the First National bank of Chicago. The family lives in Lakeida, a suburb. A telegram was received from Chicago yesterday to arrest Davy. It is said that the boy had written a post card to his father asking that police be sent to get him. The two have been living in Sheffield.

"He made me do everything," the boy said in police court. "Davy's brother married my sister, but I had never seen the man until he came to the house April 4. He told me he had money and that we would go in the express business in Chicago. When we got there he made me come to this city with him. We 'bummed' our way. Since we have been here I have led a dog's life. I believe that you used threats and your influence to get this boy away from home," Judge Kyle said after he had heard the story. "Your fine is $500. That means a long time in the workhouse. When you get out of there you will know enough to leave boys alone."

WHITE SALMON'S VERY AIR HAS AZURE TINT

Washington Town Weights the Lid Down With the Bluest of Blue Laws.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., April 15.—White Salmon was in the clutch of the blue laws yesterday. Its Sunday quiet was undisturbed by the click of pool balls. Reform has reached here in the shape of a vigilance committee armed with pad and pencil who are said to be taking the names of those who would desecrate the Sabbath cue in hand. The reformers are said to be of both sexes and it is reported that they have been so solicitous for the welfare of their erring brothers and sisters as to invade a dance which was held there Saturday night and inform the light-hearted dancers that they must not trip it after 11 o'clock in peril of being confronted with the majesty of the law. The warnings are being heeded, according to visitors from across the river, and just at present the reformers have the best of it.

The cause of the sudden moral wave seems to be unknown, other than that some of White Salmon's residents look with disfavor upon any diversion that tends to make Sunday a day of pleasure instead of meditation. White Salmon is a dry town, but the closing of the lid so tightly in other respects is said to be not at all to the liking of many who are in favor of drink, all right, but can't see any soul-ruin in lots of other things, such as dancing, Sunday picnics and the like.

ROBBERY STORY WAS AT LEAST EXAGGERATED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Helena, Mont., April 15.—The report sent out from Butte last night that the stage running between Malta and Zortman had been held up and robbed of $12,000 is authoritatively denied by officials in this city who are in a position to know, at least so far as the amount is concerned. The Butte report had it that the money was being sent to pay off miners in the latter place. The principal and in fact the only mine of any consequence at Zortman is owned by B. D. Phillips of Helena and his employees are all paid with checks. This monthly pay roll, moreover, is only $5,000. Phillips' representatives stated today that while the coach may have been robbed, the only money that could have been stolen was a consignment to Malta of bookkeepers for the purpose of cashing checks, but this must have been an inconsequential amount.

DEAF MUTE GIRL KILLED BY TRAIN AT NAPAVINE

Chehalis, Wash., April 15.—Virginia Dunn, an 18-year-old deaf mute, while walking along the Northern Pacific tracks near Napavine station yesterday afternoon, was struck and instantly killed by the North Coast Limited. The accident was witnessed by more than 100 people who were powerless to save the girl.

BAPTIST CHURCH DEDICATED AT HOOD RIVER YESTERDAY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, April 15.—The new Baptist church, with which the local congregation of that faith feels the greatest satisfaction, was dedicated here yesterday. The service was opened at 10:30 a. m. and conducted by Dr. Brougher, pastor of the White Temple, Portland. He was assisted by Dr. C. A. Woody. Proceeding the dedicatory service proper, Mayor Blowers delivered an address, in which he congratulated the congregation upon the splendid success that had rewarded its arduous and self-sacrificing endeavors. The building was packed to the doors with interested auditors.

FATHER SEEKS DAMAGES BECAUSE LITTLE SON CRIPPLED FOR LIFE

Responsibility for the maiming of Carlos Chambers, an 8-year-old school boy, will be fixed by a jury impaneled this morning in Judge Gantenbein's department of the circuit court. On February 12, 1906, Carlos Chambers, then 7, was toddling home from school at Lenta, accompanied by several of his mates. The children walked along a path near the street railway for some distance, then turned to cross. A car traveling at high speed struck little Carlos, ran over him and crippled him for life.

KNOWS NOTHING OF THE INDICTMENT OF BORAH

Attorney-General Bonaparte Has Had No Official Information of Charge.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, April 15.—A Boise telegram to the Washington Herald was shown to the attorney general this morning, who said he had no official information that the Idaho federal grand jury had returned an indictment against Senator Borah for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government in land matters. He knew nothing beyond what was stated in the newspapers and therefore could say nothing regarding the matter. From the statement of the attorney general it is believed that if such action has been taken by the grand jury it was not due to prompting from the department of justice here, although the attorney general would not say anything specific on the subject in addition to what he has said heretofore.

Air Line Work Commended.

The La Porte Argus Bulletin of La Porte, Indiana, where the Chicago & New York Air Line Railroad company is doing its heaviest work, states by a resolution unanimously passed by the council, the company was commended for the excellent work done in constructing its track and the substantial character of all the work being done. The Argus Bulletin goes on to say that such work has never before been seen in that country, and that the first-class condition and the brick pavement foundation were commended.

Judge Sent in Voting Cases.

Woodburn, Or., April 15.—Justice Hayes rendered his decision this morning in the illegal voting cases, dismissing the case of one defendant, John St. Onge, and binding Andre Onier over in the sum of $100 to appear in circuit court.

MEXICO CITY SHAKEN BY MIDNIGHT QUAKE

Little Damage Done and No Loss of Life Reported—Lasted Four Minutes. Mexico, April 15.—This city was shaken by an earthquake that lasted between four and five minutes shortly before midnight last night. No deaths have been reported and little damage was done, so far as is now known. Telegraph wires were thrown down and the electric lights failed for a time. The earth moved with a long swinging motion.

GLASGOW IN MONTANA SURROUNDED BY FLOOD

Glasgow, Mont., April 15.—This town is cut off from the outside world except by boat by a high flood in the Milk river. From its normal width of 150 feet the river has risen until in some places it is two miles wide. Every sidewalk in town has been washed away and a number of houses on the lower ground have floated. At some points the Great Northern passenger

ICE CREAM AND BUTTER HOW IT IS MADE BY A MODERN CREAMERY.

Wonderful Strides Made by the Washington Creamery Company of This City.

The season for ice cream has opened and from now on the consumption of this delicacy will increase as the thermometer climbs. The Washington Creamery Company who sells an enormous quantity of ice cream, butter and cheese, have moved from 419 Washington street to 418 Washington and 108 Eleventh streets, occupying the first floors and basements of these two buildings. This change was made for the purpose of installing a strictly sanitary plant with the most modern and approved machinery and appliances.

A representative of The Journal was shown through the entire plant and found the very best possible conditions existing. The features that impress the visitor most are the scrupulous cleanliness observed in every department, the machinery which is the latest and best that could be purchased and the immense volume of high-class trade supplied.

Clean walls freshly kalsomined, cement floors and running water make the manufacturing department a model of its kind. Every receptacle for butter, cream, ice cream and fresh milk is kept in such perfect condition that it would make the average housewife marvel at the thoroughness of the work.

In the manufacture of ice cream three freezers are used which can produce 30 gallons of this delicious product every 15 minutes. They ship to all express points contiguous to Portland. In this city most of the best retail stores, hotels and clubs serve the Washington Creamery product exclusively. Its popularity being largely due to the extreme care taken in its manufacture, no foreign substance of any kind is used, absolute purity being the aim of the management. An ice crusher grinds up the largest block of ice in a moment while a simplex churn, the best of its kind, turns out 1,000 pounds of butter at one churning. A pasteurizing machine is used to remove all objectionable matter from the cream and every approved method known to science has been adopted to facilitate the constantly increasing volume of business.

The growth of this business is of immense benefit to the farmer of this state. He finds a ready market at all times for his cream. When the dull season comes to other dealers the Washington Creamery Company, owing to its immense ice cream trade, is able to handle all of the sweet cream that it can secure and at the same time guarantee to the farmer the highest price for his product.

A. C. Grossman and W. C. Doy are the two energetic and thoroughly practical men who in the short space of seven years have brought the Washington Creamery Company from the bottom of the ladder to within one rung of the top in point of size and second to none in quality of product.

trains are running through three feet of water. Many ranchers have been compelled to abandon their homes and seek safety in the hills.

ROBBER AND STABBER SENT TO PENITENTIARY

Fendleton, Or., April 15.—Circuit Judge Bean this morning passed sentence upon Jesse Rowley, convicted of having robbed a man named Short in the Idle Hour saloon, brutally striking him while doing so. He was given three years in the penitentiary. Rowley is the young man who attempted suicide Friday by drinking cyanide potassium in jail.

Ben Richardson, colored, was given one year for stabbing Al Richardson, also colored, with intent to kill.
