guests of honor. The women spoke on the various phases of the peace propaganda. There were also addresses by Mrs. Ellen M. Houston, Mary E. Woolley and other women prominently identified with educational and reform movements.

This afternoon there was a meeting for the young people, with addresses by William T. Maxwell, superintendent of the New York public schools, and other eminent educators. Tonight two sessions are to be held. At one the speakers are to include representatives of many of the big universities of America and Europe. The other session will be held in Cooper Union and will be addressed by President Samuel Gompers and other representatives of organized labor.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Enterprise, Or., April 18.—J. W. Kern, superintendent of schools for Wallowa county, has just made an apportionment of $11,113.50 among the school districts. This is the largest apportionment ever made. Another will be made in October. There are 2,662 school children in Wallowa county at present.

SAY MINING DREDGES ADD TO FLOOD DANGERS

People in California Valleys Protest Against Actions of People in Mountains.

(Journal Special Service.) Sacramento, Cal., April 18.—Between the people of the mountains and the valleys of this section the bitterest and most far-reaching warfare in the history of the state is threatened. From all towns along the Feather and Sacramento rivers comes a cry of protest against the continuation of dredge mining, which is alleged to be filling up the channels of the Feather and Sacramento rivers faster and causing far more damage than was ever recorded in the history of the old-time mining methods.

HOOD RIVER'S FIGHT FOR SAFE BUILDINGS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hood River, Or., April 18.—T. H. Williams, Hood River's baker, who recently put up a wooden building inside the city fire limits in violation of the city ordinance, has been fined $15. This action was taken against him in view of the new ordinance the city council was about to pass restraining property owners from either building, removing or making additions to wooden buildings in the fire limits. The old ordinance prohibits the erection of wooden buildings but has no provision regarding removal. Discovering that it would be cheaper for him to erect a wooden building and pay a fine than to put up a brick structure Williams took the former course and paid his fine.

OIL COMPANIES DENY THEY BELONG TO TRUST

St. Louis, Mo., April 18.—Answers were filed this morning in the federal court in the government suit against the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the United Oil company of Colorado. The former denies entering a combination for the restraint of trade, denies that it owns over half of the Waters-Pierce shares and denies operating bogus concerns as competitors or giving rebates in the territory of real competitors. The United company denies that it conspires with the Waters-Pierce Oil company, the Standard Oil Company or Continental to regulate prices of oil. It is admitted that the Standard owns 17 per cent of the stock of the United company.

SOLD PERPETUAL MOTION DEVICE

Inventor Leroy Says He Has Sold His Patents for Thirty Millions.

BUYER THOUGHT TO BE ROCKEFELLER'S AGENT

Man Who Invented Perpetual Motion Machine Wore Overalls Last Month—Now Wears Broadcloth and Diamonds and Has an Auto.

(Journal Special Service.) Santa Monica, Cal., April 18.—A mad game of frenzied finance is being played here. "Colonel Sellers" has been outdone by one William Leroy, an inventor. For 14 years Leroy has been seeking perfect what he terms a thermal engine, but which in reality is neither more nor less than a perpetual motion device. He secured his patents and recently organized a corporation for the purpose of building a model engine.

The stock was a drug on the market at 10 cents per share, but the work went on and now, if Leroy's word may be accepted, all who invested 10 cents in the original stock are to take out $20 pieces. According to the story told to the directorate by Leroy, he has effected the sale of his patent and the capital stock of the corporation for a cool $10,000,000. The purchaser, who is reputed to be a Rockefeller emissary, is T. E. Neilson, who says his home is in Chicago, where he declares he has had one of the engines in successful operation in his office for three months. To the residents of this city Neilson is a will-o-the-wisp. Nobody here, except Leroy and one witness to the contract of sale has ever seen him.

KLAMATH WATERS NEVER HIGHER AT THE SEASON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., April 18.—There has been an unusual amount of rain and snow, principally rain, the past month and as a result the waters are probably at their highest now, a month or six weeks earlier than usual. Tule lake is said to be higher now than at any time since the arrival of the earliest settlers. J. Frank Adams, whose place borders on the lake, says it is five inches higher than he has ever seen it and that fully 4,000 acres of meadow and pasture land is now under water, but as there is much less snow in the mountains than usual at this season it is probable that by August the lake will be normal.

Some of the freighters between here and Pockama say they never saw the roads in worse condition, and only such freight as was absolutely necessary is being brought in. The new stage company, in spite of the condition of the roads, has proved its ability to carry all passengers, though some prefer to walk. Every day of sunshine makes a great difference at both ends of the road, while on the mountain it will probably be weeks yet before there is much improvement.

HOME PRESCRIPTION

Speediest Relief Known to Science for Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

This home prescription has been familiar to druggists for years. Its wonderful effectiveness on coughs, colds and all affections of the bronchial tubes and pulmonary organs spread its fame from city to city with rapidly increasing popularity. Inquiry into the origin of this prescription developed the fact that it emanated from a prominent Philadelphia physician who gained rank among his profession for the development of a truly soluble preparation from the active principle of the pine tree, which although known to contain wonderful curative powers on the mucous membrane, yet was not generally used by doctors on account of its insolubility. This new form of pine is known to doctors and druggists as the Concentrated oil of pine and it forms the chief ingredient in the famous "Home Prescription," which is here given to the public and is as follows:

Concentrated oil of pine, half ounce; pure whiskey (spirits frumment), eight ounces; glycerine 2 ounces. Mix and shake thoroughly and take a tablespoonful every four hours. This will frequently cure a cold inside of twenty-four hours.

These ingredients can be secured at any good drug store, and can be easily mixed at home in a ten-ounce bottle. The concentrated oil of pine comes put up for dispensing in half-ounce vials securely sealed with a screw-top package, which retains all the original ozone. It should be borne in mind, however, that there are patent medicines put up by so-called chemical companies to imitate the wonderful pine oil. These can be avoided by making sure to get the Concentrated oil of pine. It is also said to be very effective in curing lumbago and uric acid rheumatism. For this purpose it is taken raw, a few drops on sugar, night and morning.

SEATTLE PASTOR FILLS PEWS BY DISPLAY ADS

Three Columns in Dailies for Two Days and Church Is Jammed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, April 18.—Rev. F. J. Van Horn, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, has published in the daily papers of the city Saturday and Sunday a three-column display advertisement of the services to be held in his church Sunday morning and evening. As a consequence a large number of Sunday school children were turned away from the church. James Hamilton Howe, musical director of the church, and Miss Julia Dow, the church secretary, both attributed the unusually large congregations of Sunday directly to the newspaper advertising. In order to test the practical value of the publicity given the services a vote was taken and it was shown that a majority of those present had read the ads. A large number were strangers and persons who ordinarily are not church goers. Dr. Van Horn was the first minister in the country to make use of newspaper advertising to fill his pews. He conceived the idea while pastor of a church in Iowa, where his scheme produced the results that are following in Seattle.

GREAT NORTHERN TRAIN DERAILED KILLING FIVE

(Journal Special Service.) St. Paul, April 18.—Five men were killed and a number seriously injured in a wreck of a Great Northern passenger train at Bartlett, North Dakota. The train, while running at 40 miles an hour, was derailed. It is believed the rails had been tampered with. The gas tank exploded, setting fire to the wrecked cars. All of those killed were in the front end of the smoking car, which was telescoped. Three of the bodies were burned before they could be taken out. The train carried nine coaches, all of which, except the observation car, left the track. The sleeper was pulled back onto the rails before the flames reached it. The other seven cars were destroyed by the fire. The known dead are William B. Jones, mail clerk, and two unidentified Greeks. Alfred Quailly of Osgood, North Dakota, and Thomas Ellis of Larimore, North Dakota, were among the injured.

KLAMATH TO BE FAMED FOR SOIL'S PRODUCTS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., April 18.—It is expected that within a few days a contract will be awarded for the completion of the roadbed of the new railroad to this city. If the promoters purpose making a road for the $100,000 subsidy will absolutely have it completed at the earliest possible date. All newcomers are positive in their conviction, after examining the land and its products, that with irrigation and a railroad every available acre hereabout will be in demand. The fruit industry is sure to command attention. The firmest, juiciest and best flavored apples available are the home grown. The same is true of vegetables, which are crisp and of exceptional flavor. All fruits and vegetables are in great demand, and double the quantity produced could be disposed of at fancy prices.

EACH FACTION CLAIMS WATER USERS' BOARD

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., April 18.—There is general satisfaction over the election of directors of the Water Users' association. While both sides claim the victory the honors seem to be evenly divided only half the old directors renominated were elected. The new board is composed of representative men who it is believed will administer the affairs of this vast corporation to the satisfaction of all the stockholders. There is considerable anxiety as to the probable cost of the project, but as Chief Engineer Newell gave assurance that it would not be over $20 nor less than $10 per acre, and it was with that understanding that most of the land was signed up, that contention will be maintained. The secretary of the interior has not yet made a formal announcement.

disbursement of all other incumbents of state offices were features of the complimentary dinner given by the "square deal" majority of state senators to Senator R. W. Condon at the Union club Saturday night. The senators present uttered in the declaration that Governor Mead had more than fulfilled the expectations of his friends. The fight on Lieutenant-Governor Coon will make a big row in the Republican camp during the next state campaign, and may produce a schism that will result in a split ticket. Coon's friends, who have united with the Ankeny combine, being also blacklisted by the "square deal" senators.

PLUCKY ACTRESS' ROLE OF MINE SUPERINTENDENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Baker City, April 18.—Determined that she will not be robbed of what she claims is justly due her and preferring to handle her own interests, Miss Althea Norwood, a charming young actress of 25 years, is out in the Virtue district, on the Norwood-Crawford group of claims, in which she alleges she owns a half interest. She intends to sue them until she has proved her title. She has a crew of men at work covering assessment requirements, personally supervising them.

The Norwood-Crawford group lies close to the famous old Virtue, from which more than $2,000,000 has been taken. After Norwood and Crawford located the property, years ago, Norwood's wife died and he married a second time. His daughter was then living at home. Later she went on the stage and met with success. When Norwood died his widow, Miss Norwood's step-mother, claimed a half interest in the Baker claim. This ownership Miss Norwood denies and declares she will hold the mine until she has cleared her title in the courts.

Arguments for a new trial were heard and after they were submitted the court took the matter under advisement.
