

RAGGED BASEBALL AT OAKLAND PARK

The Commuters Defeat Portland in a One-Sided and Poorly Played Contest.

GIANTS SHOWED NO FORM IN THE MATCH

Calif. Was Not Extra Effective and With Poor Support the Oaklanders Could Not Help Walking Off With the Game—Score of the Trouble.

(Journal Special Service.)
Oakland, Cal., April 20.—Oakland and Portland played the raggedest game of the season yesterday and Oakland couldn't help winning the visitors actually thrusting the game upon their old rivals. The contest was so poor that the fans hooted both teams. Carson had an off day and helped along the bad work. He missed nearly every throw to second. Newman, at first, was also an offender and so was Casey. The game started badly. Oakland presented Portland with a run in the first and another in the second innings, but even the formality of a hit. This ended the visitors' scoring, but the locals went right ahead and kept on sending runs across whenever they wished. Here is the official side of the contest:

ST. JOHNS NINE WILL GET BUSY TOMORROW

St. Johns will open the season in the Tri-City league Sunday with a game with the L. S. Frakes and from all indications the game should be an interesting one. Charlie Moore, who is managing the St. Johns team, has been working out the team for the past three weeks and has gotten together a lively bunch of youngsters who will make the team in the City league hustle if they expect to win any games at St. Johns. Moore will pitch the opening game against the Frakes team and Jack Meyers, the ex-San Francisco pitcher, will probably be his opponent.

PORTLAND ACADEMY TOO STRONG FOR HILL TEAM

In the fourth intercollegiate game of the season yesterday Portland academy defeated Hill Military academy by the score of 9 to 7. Both pitchers did good work, but the support could not have been worse. The P. A. lads erred nine times and their rivals managed to make five. Phillips of H. M. A. struck out 10 men.

The following is the score:

SPORTING GOSSIP

Charlie Hickman is playing first for Washington.

Frank Sports of the New York Americans is the same old rascal with the "timber."

Hazel, the Cincinnati player, has been released by the Shreveport club. Perhaps Hazel would make a good basketball player.

Chicago fans call Artie Hoffman of the Cubs "Circus Solly." They think anyone who comes from St. Louis has a commercial appearance.

"Fifty Miles from Boston," the new play from the pen of George Cohan, has a college ball player for its central figure.

Danny Sullivan, the Minnesota player, looks like a "half dozen straight passes" with the Boston Americans.

All the National League clubs have played one or more games with the American league clubs and all the Americans have met National leaguers with the exception of New York. The Highlanders never have played a National league team.

Manager Jajoie has promised his bride that Cleveland will win the pennant. It was awful nice of Larry, wasn't it?

The first game of the season in New York showed that the Giants need a few hitters.

Chicago has the two greatest baseball teams in the world, the two greatest amateur billiard players in America and the greatest alderman in the first ward.

How happy the Pittsburgh fans would be if they could trade the 27 virtuous citizens for 12 good ball players.

Big Sam Crawford of Detroit is one wise "gaxabo." "Wahoo" attends strictly to business and cares nothing for the rough life.

Present indications point to the National league team as being the "correct information" about Philadelphia this season.

The South Atlantic league has an umpire by the name of Mace, but not Fred Mace, "The Umpire."

The Newark club will furnish a squad of 15 policemen armed with billes to protect umpires. They must sell lots of pop at the Newark ball park.

One outfielder, Stone of the St. Louis Browns, receives almost as much money as the entire outfield of the Cardinals, while Wallace receives almost as much as McCloskey's entire infield, and still the Cardinals outplayed the Browns at every stage this spring.

An article in "Les Sports" of Paris is headed "Le Triumphant de Walther" and subtitled "Le Crack American gagne malgre deux chutes." Bobbie did right if he ducked the gag of riding down the chutes. He would be a sucker to do a trick like that.

TRI-CITY TEAMS MEET TOMORROW

Trunkmakers Will Tackle the Brainard Cubs at Recreation Park.

PLAYERS ARE IN FINE FORM FOR THE GAME

Rival Managers Are Anxiously Awaiting the Contest in Order That the Strength of the Teams May Be Determined—Cheyne to Umpire.

There will be great things out at the professional baseball grounds tomorrow afternoon, when Manager Partlow's husky Trunkmakers will try to stow away the wily Brainard Cubs in one of the largest-sized Saratoga Manager Harry Smith will be on hand with his Teddy Bears in fine condition and each armed with a big stick. These two teams are made up of scrappy young players, about evenly matched, and the battle will undoubtedly be one in which much fur will fly and many trunk lids slain before it is decided. The Cubs have not made their appearance in the league schedule yet, their opening at St. Johns last week being postponed on account of grounds not being finished. The Trunkmakers opened at Woodburn last Sunday, and while they were defeated, the score was close and the game a fine one. Friends of these two teams from the east side will be out in myriads to cheer them on. Old fans will see a game to warm the cockles of the heart, and the curious will have an opportunity to size up good, clever home talent, preparing for the big leagues in after days.

Umpire Alex Cheyne has been chosen by Secretary Smith to officiate at this game.

STETTINERS TO PLAY

Sporting Editor, The Journal.—The Stettlers baseball team will play the Russellville team tomorrow morning on the Russellville diamond. Stettlers Baseball Team.

BIG BONUS

Seattle's Latest Mercantile Sensation—Portland's Gain.
Next to Portland, Seattle is experiencing the biggest real estate boom of any city in America at the present time. As evidence of this, the branch store of the "Vogue" Millinery company, at 409 Washington street, this city, has accepted a cash bonus of $5,000 for its lease in Seattle and will remove all of its fine new millinery stock at once to this city, where it will be placed on forced sale at its Portland store, 409 Washington street, between Tenth and Eleventh, at an early date. On account of the big bonus received for their lease the management announce they are willing to sacrifice prices to bare cost of materials to dispose of the overstock quickly. A rare chance ahead for Portland women to purchase spring millinery at wonderful reduction. Further particulars as to date of opening will follow soon.

ONE OF SALEM'S TOWN CHARACTERS IS GONE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., April 20.—Born a slave among the hills of Tennessee, August 15, 1817, and after having spent 40 years of his life in and around Salem, Albert Bayless, the aged and respected old negro, has passed away at his little home in North Salem. For the past 15 years he had been blind and almost helpless from a cancerous affection. From Tennessee he escaped from a cruel master and came to California at the time of the gold excitement and later came to Salem. His wife survives him. For many years Bayless worked in a blacksmith shop here. He was a noted worker in the Methodist Episcopal church.

NEW WORKSHOP LAW IS BEING DISTRIBUTED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., April 20.—A P. Hott of the state bureau of labor statistics and inspector of factories and workshops is sending out copies of the new laws governing workshops and factories by the recent legislature, which go into effect May 25. The laws are published in pamphlet form and are supplemented by additional copies printed on large pasteboards to be posted in conspicuous places in the mills. Nearly a ton of paper will be consumed in putting out these laws. Every mill and factory in the state will be supplied with copies.

FOREST SERVICE CUTS UTAH LOGS

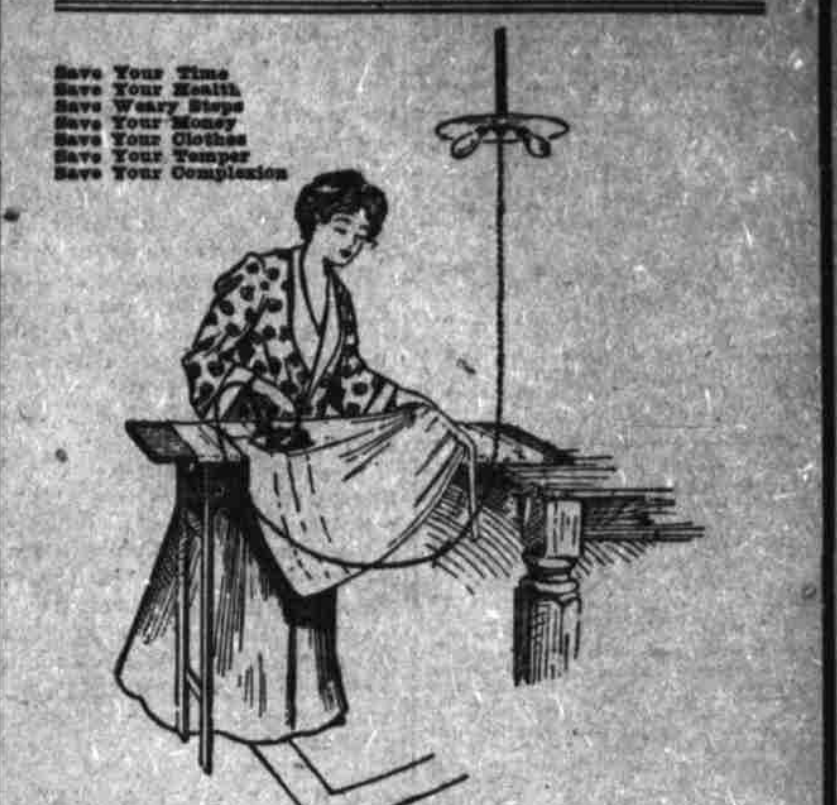

Agrees With Utah to Manage Timber Cutting and Grazing on State Lands.

STATE PARTICIPATES IN COSTS AND PROFITS
Forester to Cut Timber From Both National and State Forests in Utah, Find Buyers and Issue Grazing Permits.
(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, April 20.—The forest service has just entered into a cooperative agreement with the board of land commissioners of the state of Utah by which the forest service will manage all of the timber cutting and grazing on all state lands within the national forests, while the state will share in both the expenses and the proceeds of the management.
Since the government is managing the adjacent national forests at a profit it is practically certain that the revenue accruing to Utah will exceed costs under this agreement, so that the result will be that the state lands will bring in a revenue which will increase as the management is brought to greater and greater efficiency.
Under this agreement the lands of the state, which aggregate more than 182,000 acres, and the national forests will be regarded and managed as a single block. The state of Utah agrees not to dispose of any of its lands except for agriculture or mining, and agrees not to lease any of them for grazing. Nor will the state itself dispose of timber.
The forester will seek purchasers for the state timber as for that of the national forests, make contracts with purchasers, secure the execution of the terms of the contracts, and protect logged lands from fire, just as he does in the case of sales from the national forests. Grazing permits will also be issued by the forester in the same way and on the same terms as permits are elsewhere issued by him.

LAD PLAYS GET DRUNK AND DIES OF WHISKEY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., April 20.—Joseph Laoti, the 5-year-old son of J. Laoti, an Italian gardener living near this city, is dead as the result of drinking a pint of raw whiskey while playing "get drunk" with some baby companions. The infant tippler found the flask on a shelf at his father's house, where the whiskey was kept for medicinal purposes. He took it to the back yard, where were several of his little friends of about the same age. Each of them took a few drops, but Joseph drank all the rest, as the children decree. He shortly became so much under its influence that he could not stand up. This frightened the children, who called his parents. They at once sent for Dr. Stiles, county physician.
The boy was as rigid as stone when the doctor arrived. Later his muscles relaxed and he became as limp as a rag. During the whole day he swallowed but once. The poison permeated his system and paralyzed all his muscles. Once he gave signs of returning consciousness, but relapsed into a stupor and grew weaker until the end came.

ASTORIA ELKS WILL BUILD A LARGE BLOCK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Astoria, Or., April 20.—Among the substantial improvements that are contemplated in Astoria is a business block, with lodge and club rooms, by Astoria Lodge No. 180, B. P. O. E. The organization owns a site, 100x100 feet, at the northwest corner of Eleventh and Exchange streets in the rear of the new Astoria Savings bank's new brick building. At a meeting of the lodge a committee was appointed to take up the matter of financing the project, which will be done by the sale of bonds. Nearly all the members signified their willingness to take large blocks of the stock. Plans are not perfected, but the proposed structure will be of brick and concrete, three or four stories high.
