CELEBRATE OPENING OF THEIR NEW STORE

Golden Eagle auspiciously installed in new and larger building.

The opening of the new and rebuilt store of the Golden Eagle Dry Goods company, last Thursday evening, was attended by one of the largest crowds that ever thronged an opening event in this city.

The new and enlarged store presented a very attractive appearance, being literally decorated with flowers and greens, while great masses of cherry blossoms in full bloom were used to advantage in setting off the appearance of the interior.

The store has installed entire new and modern fixtures and a complete system of cash carriers, and is now more fully equipped than ever before to properly handle their fast growing trade.

A great many people asked for a photograph gallery, so constant became the request, one was installed, and this is now one of the most flourishing sections of the store.

To advertising and printers' ink the Golden Eagle attributes its great measure its success. Mr. Lowit believes in liberal newspaper space, and by adhering strictly to the truth about its merchandise, and permitting no mis-statements or exaggerations at any time to appear in its announcements.

Another feature to which Mr. Lowit ascribes his success is the high class assistants with which he is surrounded. As an instance, Mr. Lowit saw in a Denver paper a style of advertising that he deemed superior and much adapted to his establishment.
