

GEES CAPTURE THE FIRST GAME

It Required Ten Innings Yesterday for Los Angeles to Beat Portland.

CALIF AND CARNES PITCHED FINE BALL

Californians Played Brilliant Game Throughout—Northern Team's Work Ragged and Ineffective—Winning Run Made in the Tenth.

(Special Special Service.) Los Angeles, April 24.—The Angels defeated the Giants in their first game yesterday by the score of 3 to 2. It required an extra inning, however, before the locals could clinch the match. Carnes, the local twirler, was in fine trim and blanketed the visitors for seven innings. In the eighth chapter, three well placed hits sent two Portlanders across the plate, tying the score. This was the last chance Portland had as Carnes settled down and refused to allow anything that looked like a hit. Calif, too, had been pitching good ball, but his support was ragged and unsteady. In the tenth inning a pass, an error and a base hit gave the Angels the winning run. Here is the story officially told:

BIG MEET SCHEDULED BY EASTERN ATHLETES

This is going to be a great season for inter-college track and field athletics in the east. To say nothing of the championship meets, no less than 21 dual meets have been arranged between eastern colleges for the season as follows: April 27—University of Pennsylvania, Relay at Philadelphia. May 4—Pennsylvania vs. Columbia, New York; Cornell vs. Princeton, Ithaca; Wesleyan vs. Haverford, Haverford; Navy vs. Johns Hopkins, Annapolis; Hartford vs. Dartmouth, Cambridge; Brown vs. Williams, Williamstown; New York vs. Rutgers, New Brunswick. May 11—Yale vs. Princeton, Princeton; Brown vs. Cornell, Ithaca; Dartmouth vs. Amherst at Hanover; Wesleyan vs. Williams at Middletown; Virginia vs. Johns Hopkins, Baltimore; Swarthmore vs. Dickinson, Carlisle. May 18—Harvard vs. Yale, New Haven; Princeton vs. Columbia, New York; Pennsylvania vs. All Corners, Philadelphia; Wesleyan vs. Trinity, Hartford; Navy vs. Swarthmore, Annapolis. May 25—N. E. intercollegiate, Worcester; Swarthmore vs. Indiana, Swarthmore.

Lively Bout Expected.

(Journal Special Service.) Indianapolis, Ind., April 24.—Willie Fitzgerald of Brooklyn and Indian Joe Greag of Spokane are slated to furnish the 10-round wildup at tonight's show of the Indianapolis Athletic club. The match appears to be one of the best ever arranged for Indianapolis. Both principals are light welterweights and both are exceedingly fast. Fitzgerald has the better record by reason of his longer experience in the ring, although the Indian has been boxing like a champion during the last several months, or ever since he made his appearance in the east.

FEATURES FOR THE HUNT CLUB MEET

Two and One Half Mile Steeplechase Has Been Put on the Program.

SPECIAL EVENTS HAVE BEEN PUT ON THE LIST

Portland's Popular Riding Club Intends to Make This Year's Spring Meet the Greatest in Its History—Program of the Events.

Now that the society circus is a thing of history and the weather is fine enough to permit local horsemen to train in the open, interest eventually turns to the annual field day of the Portland Hunt club, which is scheduled for June 8. Events in the past have been most interesting affairs and are always looked forward to with keenest anticipation by all lovers of thoroughbred. The Portland Hunt club has become one of the strongest organizations of its kind in the country and, as a harmonious body, is doing commendable work in the breeding of fine stock. The club's program of events, including cross country runs and paper chases during the season.

President T. S. McGrath, one of the hardest workers in the club, has been at work since his election to office, planning features and events for the annual June meet. So far he and his board of directors have met with all kinds of encouragement and the intention is to make this year's affair the banner event in the history of the club. By way of a stirring feature this year it has been decided to hold a two and one-half mile steeplechase in the infield of Irvington race track. The gentlemen riders have been requesting a steeplechase for some time and their wishes will be gratified. In the first spring meet of the club some years ago, a steeplechase was held, but since then none has been run.

Another feature will be the one-fourth mile dash for riders weighing at least 200 pounds. This race, as usual, will undoubtedly attract the best heavyweights in the city. Here is the program that will be run on June 8:

Set of lancers, 24 riders. 2-8 mile dash, handicap. 1-4 mile dash, riders over 200 pounds. 1-4 mile run, handicap. Pony race for boys under 15 years, harness, 14 hands or under. 2 1/2-mile steeplechase. 2 mile run, 155 pounds.

Miss Ainsworth's Two Horses Prove Faster Than Jane and Uncle Paul.

A party of Hunt club riders went to Irvington race track yesterday afternoon for the purpose of witnessing two races between two well known riders. For some time there has been a dispute regarding the merits of Jane, owned by Ralph Jenkins, and Pat, owned by Miss Belle Ainsworth. A race was arranged and Miss Ainsworth put up a cup for the winner. John Chapman rode Pat, and Mr. Jenkins rode his own horse. The distance was a quarter of a mile. The start was perfect and both horses rounded into the stretch nose and nose. It appeared to be an even race to the wire, when Pat's face showed in front. The time was a quarter of a mile. Mr. Chapman got his cup. The other dispute was between Miss Ainsworth's Mowita and E. R. Eldredge's Uncle Paul. The distance was a quarter mile. Mr. Jenkins rode Mowita, and Mr. Chapman had the leg on Uncle Paul. After an exciting race Mr. Jenkins' mount showed to be the winner. Those present were Mrs. F. G. Huffman, Mrs. Harriet Sheldon, Miss G. Buffum, Miss Ainsworth, Miss Norris, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Downing, E. R. Eldredge, Harry Kenon, Robert Smith, Frank Robertson and Mr. Chilton.

BASEBALL CHATTER

Birmingham, Shreveport, Little Rock and Nashville were the winners in the opening games of the southern league. Three Donahue brothers are to play ball this season, "Ziggs" with the White Sox, Frank with Springfield, Ohio, George with Canton, Ohio, and Pat with Portland. Fitcher Lively of the Gulfport Cotton States league was pretty lively in the first game he pitched, but not lively enough. He lost it. Too bad the Western league can't find a more lively pitcher. A six-club organization is hardly worthy of the large cities that make up President O'Neill's circuit. Southern league fans felt awfully sorry when Manager McGraw and his giants left them. They declared they would like to have the giants stay forever in the north. Paul Grimes, the star of last year's Cornet team, champions of the Copper Country league, was signed to pitch for the same team this season. A large number of Boston fans went to Providence recently to see the Boston Nationals defeat the Grays. Score: Providence 2, Boston Nationals 1. A large number of Boston fans went to Providence recently to see the Boston Americans defeat the Grays. Score: Providence 2, Boston Americans 1. Heehaw.

ADMISSIONS TO ROW AT PoughKEEPSIE

Navy Department Has Given Permission for Future Admirals to Participate.

COURTNEY FIXING UP THE CORNELL CREW

Columbia's Stroke Is Suffering From Blood Poisoning—Baseball Championship Heading Toward Princeton—Athletic Gossip.

By Manhattan. (Journal Special Service.) New York, April 24.—There is a new Richmond in the college rowing field, and Courtney and his Cornellians, who think they have—and as a matter of fact generally do—have a mortgage on the Poughkeepsie varsity, would go well to take notice of their crew, also, who look for laurels on the Hudson, will have to shake out a reef or two if they would keep from trailing. The authorities at Annapolis have given their permission for the middies to row at Poughkeepsie, and the future admirals announce their intention of going after both the 'varsity and freshman eight, and it can be said now that the crew which will win the regatta is the Cornell crew which will come very near winning the race. It is now improbable that the Annapolis crew will row in the American regatta at Poughkeepsie, April 25. If they do, they are very likely to win the feature event.

One of the rules of the race is that all oarsmen are eligible who have not rowed in a "varsity" crew, and that all oarsmen are eligible who have not rowed in a "varsity" crew at Poughkeepsie or New London. This would make every member of the Annapolis crew eligible for this race and would give the middies a splendid chance to capture the race. Charles Courtney is having no little trouble in fixing up the Cornell eight to his liking. All of Courtney's troubles seem to be over the loss of three such good men as "Eddie" Fooks, '06, who stroked the "varsity" for the past two years; R. C. Barton, '06, who rowed No. 2, and W. F. Lee, '06, who filled the position of No. 7. These men were three of the best men in the boat, and those are the five old men who are still left are good material, there are three empty seats which are hard to fill.

The new material does not appear to be promising, and from present indications Courtney will have to break up his four-oared crew of last year in order to get a first-class "varsity" eight. This means that Courtney will have to sacrifice her championship four in the effort to make her "varsity" measure up to the standard. The two men who have been taken out of the "varsity" four to fill up the eight are C. J. Goodrich, '07, who stroked that combination for the past two years, and L. R. Gracy, '08, who rowed No. 2 last year. If these two men are kept in the "varsity" they may improve that combination a great deal, but it will all be at the expense of the other crew.

The only veteran who is left in the "varsity" four-oared crew is T. W. B. Walsh, '08, who rowed bow or last year and who is rowing the four. E. B. Goulson, '08, is No. 2, and Forbes is rowing No. 3. The stroke of the four is L. G. Halberg, '09. This crew has not been together long enough to show what it can do, and now that Forbes is back it is very hard to say whether the man to take his place has not yet been definitely decided upon.

The freshman crew is still an unknown quantity. Courtney is not giving much time to it at present, and Coach Coulson, who usually puts most of his time on this combination, has been too busy helping out with the "varsity."

Columbia is also telling a hard luck story. The other day Ceruss, the stroke of the "varsity" boat, struck his leg against the stretcher and bruised it. He has been unable to row since, and he has been out of the boat for several days. It is expected that he will be back in his seat next week. During Courtney's absence J. MacKenzie, stroke of the "varsity" boat, has been in charge. There is some difficulty in selecting the bow man. Coach Rice has tried out Spalding, Snelvy and Haight, but he has fallen back on Braun, who rowed last year. J. J. Ryan, the best ball and football player, has picked up the stroke very rapidly, and although he never handled an oar before this year it is very probable that he will make the "varsity" eight at Poughkeepsie. The crew of the heavy eight Columbia has ever put on the water, averaging over 175 pounds.

The latest entry for the Junior college eight-race which is to be the feature of the American regatta on the Schuylkill on May 25 is Yale, which sent in her application through Julian Curtis, who is a member of the board of stewards of the American Rowing association. Harvard has already entered this race.

The state of Maine has recently passed a law legalizing boxing contests between professionals which is considered by critics to be the best law that has been passed on this question in many years. Gans and Lewis are signed up for a match and may fight. As yet, however, no club has put forward the necessary financial inducement and the match is not a fixture.

The tug-of-war club was out again last evening and had a fine time. The results were as follows: Portland team defeated the Prospect, Prosperity won from George Washington; W. O. W. defeated the Webfoots. After these events there was a free-for-all pillow fight. The next meet will be held May 3.

The Kings will play any team in the city under 15 years. For games call up Main 5454 or A 4254 and ask for Ray Andrews.
