CURABILITY OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

(By the Editor of the Town and Country Journal.)

Personally I have not believed that chronic Bright's Disease is curable, and this for two distinct reasons. First—Medical works class it as incurable and fatal. Second—Those I have known who had it have usually—look with distrust upon all claims of alleged cures.

During my recent visit to San Francisco I heard the president of the Pacific States Type Foundry claim that chronic Bright's Disease was now as curable as the grippe. I said I would like to believe it.

He took me in hand, the statements of hundreds were exhibiting in his own marvelous way that they had been cured and cured by his means.

I then manifested a desire to see some of the parties themselves. The recoveries have been so numerous in San Francisco that I did not have to go four blocks in any one direction.

In five minutes we were in the presence of one of the best-known merchants in the city. He has been in business on the same spot 31 years. He said he had had both Bright's Disease and Diabetes and had been given up but had completely recovered. Said he knew of many others who had recovered. Gave it as his belief that eight-tenths of all cases were curable under the new specific.

We next called on one of the big insurance men on California street. He said his son was afflicted with dropsy from Bright's Disease and his death was daily expected when he was put on the treatment. He is now an athlete.

We called on the editor of one of San Francisco's great dailies who had a hydraulic test it out in his own (the physician's) case, the latter being a supposed diabetic. In six months he was well. The head of another large insurance company on Montgomery street was next seen. He was in bed in November last in a critical condition due to chronic Bright's Disease. He was well and in his office and also told of a friend of his who was in convalescence when put on the treatment and was now out on the street. We went to the office of an expert surgeon and also another case, both of whom had recovered.

I detailed to go further. Although there were hundreds more to see, it was essential to human testimony from the very best people in worth regarding the books wrong, and in extreme cases are positively curable. Bright's Disease ought not to be permitted to obscure this discovery, and in the interest of those made ill by this paper whose names may have one of those bright spots, a request from the assessor of Chehalis county asking him to construe the revenue acts of 1907 regarding assessment of private banks. The letter was transmitted to the state tax commission, with the request that the body make a ruling which, under the law, shall guide all county assessors in making assessments in the future. In a lengthy opinion, the tax commission reaches the following conclusion: That a private bank must be assessed upon an amount or valuation equal to the general average of money used in the business, exclusive of deposits, during the preceding year as shown by its reports, or monthly balances. If the private bank or banker refuses to make return to the assessor it is then your duty to proceed to make an arbitrary assessment, using your best judgment in lieu of capital.

MILTON IS TO HAVE HOTEL WORTHY OF TOWN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Milton, Or., April 26.—It now looks as if Milton would have a new modern hotel, as some of the leading citizens are subscribing liberally for this purpose. The Society of the Cincinnati, Society of Colonial Wars, United Confederate Veterans and Grand Army of the Republic, the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, the mayors of which had declared the day a public holiday, sent thousands of visitors to the opening. Everything being in readiness, at 11:30 o'clock the president and his party landed from the yacht Mayflower at the government pier and were received with an artillery salute. Flanked on either side by a line of troops, the party were escorted to the speakers' stand amid the cheers of a large crowd. Promptly at noon President Elmer St. George Tucker of the exposition company arose, and announced the beginning of the ceremonies, and the Rt. Rev. Alfred Magill Randolph, bishop of the diocese of southern Virginia, invoked the divine blessing. Made a Feature of the Exercises. Bishop Randolph concluded his invocation with the Lord's prayer, in which the audience joined. The official exposition hymn was then sung by a grand chorus of 500 voices, assisted by the Washington Choral Society. The music of the hymn was written by Wilber Force Owt, of Boston, and the words were by W. A. Pegram of Baltimore. Governor Swanson spoke briefly, extending to the people of the United States and to the residents of counties abroad a cordial welcome to Virginia. President Tucker, as the chief executive of the exposition, then delivered an address, at the conclusion of which he introduced President Elmer St. George. There was tremendous cheering for the president when he rose to speak. The president's address, which was of an historical character and one of his most successful efforts along that line, was listened to with close attention by the vast multitude. The conclusion of the president's speech was the signal for the opening of the exposition. All eyes were fixed on the president as he touched the golden key that set in motion the machinery of the exposition. Simultaneously hundreds of flags broke to the breeze, and cannon roared their accompaniment to the strains of "America," played by the massed bands. So loud was the uproar that the benediction closing the exercises was unheard.

Chicago to New York in Ten Hours

The stock purchasing movement of the past week far exceeded all expectation, and made a record immensely gratifying to those responsible for the great enterprises which is of signal moment to EVERY AMERICAN CITIZEN—the building of the Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad. Last Saturday marked the ninth advance in the price of stock, and this latest increase aroused greater and more widespread interest than any that has preceded it. There is no surer way of gauging the merit of stock than by the demand for it, and it is a steady and constantly increasing demand alone which has forced the price of these shares from $25 to $47—AN INCREASE OF 88 PER CENT IN VALUE since last August. Tomorrow, the 27th, is the last day that stock can be purchased at $47. Price advances Saturday, April 27th. Now is the time to buy.

DON'T DO IT Any person going about crying hard times—panics—tight money—dull markets, etc.—is but depreciating the opportunities and resources of Oregon, a most wonderful state, of unlimited wealth and natural advantages. Remember, now, that element which follows these panic cranks and all around pessimists will in the next few years get badly left. The only kind of hard times coming are hard times to the evil-doer. Why should the grandstand plays between grafter and reformer, walking delegate and corporation, Wall street Bull and Bear, the big stick and the desirable or "undesirable" citizen, the Thaw case or the Silver Thaw Telephone Company disturb the even tenor of the real people who till the soil, furnish the manufacturers articles which clothe and feed the real people of the real world? Captains of honest industry work for motives beyond money consideration, and that—SUCCESS. You will never hear this class of busy people crying hard times, knocking the country and its future, or trying to disturb prosperous conditions because of the personal differences of a few. If you believe in your state and city and in yourself, do not be led astray by hard-times talk. Be conservative, but combine it with enterprise. Live within your income and dare to do right. Hard times or the devil himself cannot harm you if you are industrious and live in the state of Oregon. Make prudent investments, either in choice inside income real estate or well selected public utility bonds, which give you a steady income in good or bad times, and where your money is secured beyond any possibility of loss. I recommend to the conservative investor Home Telephone Stock or Bonds. It is a public utility based on the wants of the people, and is a hard-times proposition absolutely; in good times it flourishes—in hard times it thrives, because the harder the times the more the people are obliged to talk to make money. The more you talk, the more you contribute to the earnings of a modern telephone plant. Invest your money at home, where you can see it grow. A student of investments will never be led astray by anything some few may say. "Doubts make traitors of us all, and oft we lose the good we might attain by fearing to attempt." LOUIS J.
