Fine Line Sample Suits at Half

All Eton Models, Just 129 in Lot, Half Regular Price

These artistic costumes are sample garments; the products of one of the best suit makers in the country. They are all higher class suits, frocks that exemplify the acme of good taste in applied fashion. They come to us at a price extraordinarily low, so low that though we were already well supplied with suits, we took every one in this lot. Our garment section buyer is in New York now and secured this lot for spot cash. That's how we come to offer you such unusual bargains as these. Women of taste will grow intensely enthusiastic over these fine costumes, they are all that perfect taste, perfect style and fine materials can make them. The sale begins at 8 o'clock Monday morning and we don't expect to have a single one on our hands by noon. You'll see them on display today in the Fifth street windows; come take a peep at them from the outside first. Then you'll realize better than we can tell you the importance of coming early for your suit.
