

MAINTENON HAS BROKEN DOWN

Vanderbilt's Favorite Horse Will Not Be Able to Perform Any More.

DOHERTY WILL NOT TRY TO DEFEND HIS TITLE

Latest Information of All Kinds of Sport in Great Britain—Oxford and Cambridge Athletes May Meet Yale and Harvard.

By Richard Dahlgren.
London, May 2.—The reputed breaking down of Maintenon, W. K. Vanderbilt's great racehorse, undoubtedly the best horse on the French turf last season, if not the best in Europe, has caused sincere regret among English turfmen as well as those on the other side of the channel. Maintenon had been entered for the Ascot gold cup, and a race between Mr. Vanderbilt's great horse and Sparsmit, winner of last year's Derby, had been looked forward to as one of the features of the season.

Already Maintenon had been out and showed he had wintered well by winning one good race and running a good second in another, and there was every reason to believe that he would maintain his superiority. Then came his decisive defeat at Longchamps Sunday, which surprised all race followers, who regarded him as a certainty for the race.

Now comes the explanation that the great horse has strained a tendon, and it is feared will never again face the starters. There is a bare possibility that the horse may be brought around, but it is not at all probable. Experts value Maintenon at not less than $200,000 for stud purposes, as he is said to be the best bred horse in France since the days of Gladiateur.

An interesting piece of gossip comes in connection with the approaching wedding of Edna May and Oscar Lewisohn. It is to the effect that as soon as the young couple return from their wedding trip Mr. Lewisohn will go in extensively for racing. I understand he already has taken a place near New Market and has made plans for a big racing stable. Like his New York relative, Oscar Lewisohn always has been a keen racing man, but has never figured to any extent as a racing owner.

As I have remarked previously the fates seem to be working for the American tennis champions this year. The announcement that H. L. Doherty has decided that he will not defend the title is the latest piece of luck for the Americans. It is taken to mean that they have more than an even chance to take back the Dwight Davis trophy. It is becoming more and more evident, however, that the Australian team will have to be reckoned with before the championship is settled. Wilding is playing a wonderful game these days. His recent easy defeat of Cardia makes him champion, with H. L. Doherty but a second runner-up. It is showing exceptional strength in this year, it is impossible therefore that the real test will be between the American and the Australians. In speaking of his retirement, H. L. Doherty said recently:

"I don't like squabbling and, when some members of the association and all England have seen how I have headed off, I feel so disgusted about it that I decided to withdraw from the game. I was persuaded to play, but since then several things have happened, which caused me to lose most of my interest in lawn tennis.

"I have taken to golf and automobilism instead, and I will not defend my title or play in any championship tournament."

The British women's championship will be at Newcastle, Ireland, beginning May 4, and the American champion, Miss Harriet Curtis, will be a starter. Her sister, Miss Margaret, twice runner-up in this country for the national title, is also to enter.

Altogether, 110 entries have been received. For the first round Miss H. Curtis has been drawn against Mrs. Robinson of Hunstanton and Miss M. Curtis will oppose Miss Robertson of Troon.

Neither Miss Robertson nor Mrs. Robinson has been prominent in a championship competition, and it is considered not at all unlikely that one or both of the sisters Curtis will at least get into the concluding rounds.

While it has not yet been definitely decided that the star athletes of Oxford and Cambridge and those of Harvard and Yale are to meet in an international match this year, the chances are that arrangements for the meet will be made. If it is a rather interesting question.

A Hard Debt to Pay.
"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death, by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equalled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints, by Red Cross Pharmacy, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

The American boats which go to Kell to race for the Kaiser cup may have royal competitors to beat. The German crown prince is having a boat built for the Kaiser's brother also will have a boat in the trials. Prince Henry, if his boat is one of those chosen to meet the Americans, may race her in person.

An American polo team will compete for the international cup in France next month. While the personnel of the team has not been definitely decided, it will be selected from among these gentlemen, all of whom are experts at the game and are available. Craig Wadsworth, R. Livingston Beseman, Ray Gould, W. E. Carter, W. E. Carter, Isaac Bell, Mr. Tree and Lydig Hoyt.

London, Birmingham, Leeds, Manchester, Liverpool and other big cities are much interested in the athletic developments of the New York schoolboys. The leagues will be formed on similar lines to that of the public schools athletic league of America. It is intended to make inter-city contests a feature of the leagues and include all the leading branches of sport in the competition. At the last inter-city football game played between the schoolboy association teams of London and Glasgow over 20,000 spectators witnessed the game.

The negotiations for an agreement between the federated rowing societies of France and the Amateur Rowing association of England have been terminated and no arrangement upon eligibility will be established between the two countries. The proscription against artisans which forms a conspicuous part of the English creed found no favor in France and the French federation rejected it.

OREGON MAY NOT RETAIN HEAD COACH BEZDEK

Probabilities Are That Athletic Council Will Select a New Instructor for 'Varsity.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
University of Oregon, Eugene, May 2.—It has not been determined yet whether Physical Director Bezdek will coach next year's football team, or whether other arrangements will be made. A committee by the athletic council has been appointed to look after that, but so far no decision has been taken or made public. Hugo Bezdek put out last fall probably the best team that ever represented the university. Of course all was not due to him, for the material was extraordinary, but to say the least a great deal was due to his experience. Next year, wherever he coaches, whether here or any other place, he will be a much better man, for besides added skill in matters concerning football he will understand imparting his knowledge and handling his men far more successfully.

For this reason there may be some doubt about Bezdek consenting to remain here, unless the council should grant whatever he desires. Bezdek said he would like to stay with Oregon for he likes the men. The western man is different from the eastern man and he appears to have enjoyed his first year's work.

Besides coaching football Bezdek has shown himself to be a good basketball and baseball coach and has put out good teams, considering the material. The athletic council is being watched with interest to see what it shall do, for the choosing of the coach is of the greatest interest to the supporters of the university.

The baseball team of the Multnomah club will play here Saturday. Hathaway, the varsity third baseman, is ill at his home in Portland with poison oak, and will be out of the game. Just how the team will be shifted has not been announced.

TO THE STOCKTON CLUB

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Anaconda, Mont., May 2.—Jimmie McHale has signed with the Stockton outlaws. He jumped the Portland team, where he was held on the reserve list, because the Portland management would not give him the salary wanted. He has been negotiating with Cy Morland, manager of the Stockton team for some time, and they reached an agreement today, when Morland wired transportation to McHale. Judge McCredie, owner of the Portland club, made the Anaconda man an offer last Sunday, but it was rejected, as the salary was not what was asked for by McHale.

OPEN LETTER NO. 2 To Voting Workingmen:

Have you ever noticed how solicitous many of the candidates are just at this time for the welfare of the "man with the overalls"? Do you believe them all? No? Look up some of their records and see if they ever shook hands with the "workingman" before they were running for office, and consider whether they would do it afterward. I could point you a picture of the "square deal" that the man with the overalls without money or influence often receives in the council. (A "square" is a fourth part of a circle, one in four could not help you, it would take a majority.)

On Saturday cast one vote for the workingman's constant friend, tried and true.
