

CONVENTION OF STATE DENTISTS

Interesting Clinic Conducted by Chicago Specialist in Commercial Club Rooms.

PAPERS READ AND OPERATIONS ILLUSTRATED

Annual Dinner of Association Will Take Place Tonight—Harelip Operation to Be Performed by Dr. Meyer Before Dentists.

The Oregon State Dental association met in the room of the Commercial club this morning with a largely increased attendance over yesterday. J. S. Clark of Chicago conducted an interesting clinic demonstrating moldable porcelain, a new process for using porcelain in crowning teeth.

Dr. P. Watson demonstrated the use of the pyrometer furnace in baking porcelain.

Dr. E. M. Hurd of Salem put under the microscope several histological specimens showing the structural development of teeth. He also showed bacteria found in the mouth and general system.

The paper on "Cavity Technique" by Dr. E. L. Leomis that was to have been read this morning was read at the 2 o'clock session this afternoon.

The program for the afternoon session contains a paper on "Gold Inlays for Abraded Teeth" by Dr. W. R. Allen of Independence, table demonstration, "A Number of Dental Things" by Dr. Norris R. Cox and a paper by Dr. W. I. Wadsworth on "Original Appliances for Electric Laths."

At yesterday afternoon's session the association listened to the address given by the president, Dr. George H. Nottage of Portland.

Dr. A. L. Beattie of Oregon City read an interesting and instructive paper on "Deciduous Teeth, Care and Treatment."

A large number of the dentists present took part in the general discussion that followed.

The annual dinner of the association will take place at the Commercial club at 8:30 o'clock tonight. At 10 o'clock tomorrow Dr. H. Meyer will perform a harelip operation, place of operation to be announced later.

WOODMEN VIE IN WOODY CONTESTS

Mount Scott Organizations Participate in Sawing and Nailing Stunts and Pillow Fight.

The last of the series of meetings that have been held throughout the county by the Woodmen of the World to promote fraternal feeling and good will between the several camps was held at Lewis last night.

The movement was launched by State Organizer Day and a committee, from the different county camps last week, conscientiously to make it successful. As a result hundreds have joined the order and all feel better acquainted with each other as well as with the work and purposes of the organization.

There was a large attendance and a good program of music and contests. The Lentz band which has been doing good work throughout the winter furnished music. The contests principally were between the Lentz and Arleta camps. The Mount Scott organizations, M. O. Wilkins delivered an address on "Woodcraft." Arleta won the tug-of-war from Lentz.

A Portland team won a similar contest from a pick-up team. W. A. Thompson of Arleta won the pillow fight. W. R. Herrington of Arleta won the nailing contest and also the sawing contest. Other participants who were on the musical program were J. Ferro and Jack Cartwright. Refreshments were served after the entertainment.

MAYOR INDORSED

"I indorse the plan most heartily," said Charles Crogster. "I am advocating it and I find many others who are doing the same thing also. I think Lane will receive a surprising vote tomorrow."

"I think all the fair voters of the city will do that way tomorrow," said W. F. Slaughter, secretary of the soreheads who will vote for Thomas. I have intended to write Mayor Lane's name in on the ballot all along and I find that practically all with whom I have discussed the question intend to do the same thing. I think that Dr. Lane will be nominated."

Majority Favours Plan. C. A. Ambrose, a member of the county central committee, is also most heartily in favor of the plan as proposed. "I indorse every detail of the plan," he said this morning. "I find that a large majority of those to whom I have talked also favor it. The tenth ward has been canvassed in regard to the matter and it has been found that at least 90 per cent of the Democrats in that district are in favor of the move, and have signified their intention to vote that way. I think there is no doubt but that Mayor Lane will receive the nomination tomorrow."

John A. Jeffrey, former district attorney from Jackson county and a member of the legislature several years ago from that county is also much in favor of the plan. "I think the Democrats of Portland owe it to themselves and to the cause of good government to nominate Lane at the polls tomorrow afternoon," he said.

"I think that every Democrat in the city who has a regard for decent government in city affairs should write the name of Harry Lane on his ballot," said L. T. Peery this morning. "There are only a few Thomas supporters and you can quote me just as strongly as you wish in being in favor of the plan proposed for indorsing Dr. Lane at the polls."

On Record for Lane. "I am going on record myself tomorrow for Dr. Lane and I indorse the plan most heartily," was the expression of Henry Teal.

"I indorse the plan," said Mark O'Neill. Besides these men who have given public expression to their attitude are many others who in private conversation take an emphatic stand in favor of Lane. From all indications it seems certain that the mayor will receive the nomination tomorrow when the votes are counted.

OREGON SPUDS GLUT MARKET

Potato Dealers Warned Not to Ship Any More Produce to San Francisco.

San Francisco, May 3.—It would be well for Oregon potato dealers not to ship any more potatoes here for some time. There is no lack of potatoes in the local market, according to the report of T. E. Morgan, inspector of stations of the Southern Pacific. In his daily statement to Superintendent Palmer he said that Monday there were 45 cars, of which 14 were unloaded; Tuesday 71 cars and 8 unloaded; Wednesday 54 and 18 unloaded, while yesterday there were 80 cars.

In the Oakland yards there were 70 cars on Monday, 143 on Tuesday, 123 on Wednesday and 101 on Thursday. "The agent at Oakland," said Morgan, "tells me that there is not an average of 12 cars unloaded there a day and that last week only 85 cars were unloaded in six days. I must say that we have had difficulty in getting cars unloaded here."

"We have had many cases in which the trucks had to be taken to load because the potatoes were spoiled on account of being too long in the yards. One of the commission merchants instructed our company to hold 10 of the cars at Sacramento because the market here was crowded and another firm is diverting its cars to Stockton."

Oregon and the east have been pouring potatoes in here and have swamped the market.

COURT PROBES SANITY OF CHESTER THOMPSON

Members of Family of Youthful Murderer Now Claim He is Sane.

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Tacoma, Wash., May 3.—Chester Thompson, the slayer of Judge Emory, appeared before Judge Snell this morning for judgment on the verdict rendered by the trial jury. A commission of insanity appointed by Judge Snell, will make a report to the court of the opinion of its members as to Chester's sanity and whether he is a dangerous person to be at large.

Will H. Thompson, Chester's father, had Chester take the stand in his own behalf, in an attempt to prove that he is harmless and capable of normally conducting himself. An attempt will be made to prove that there has been a marked change in the mind of the boy recently, and while insanity was the plea by which the defense succeeded in saving the prisoner from hanging, an almost right-about-face policy has now been adopted in an effort by the Thompsons to save Chester from possible incarceration in the state penitentiary.

Judge Snell will adopt one of four expedients in disposing of the prisoner: He will send him to the penitentiary, to one of the state asylums, to a county jail or place him in the custody of his relatives under heavy bonds. In the strange eventuality of this noted case the defense now occupies the ground taken by the prosecution at the opening of the trial, claiming that Chester is sane and capable of going about his business without interfering with others.

plans, because the vessel was sailing so fast that to let the boat over the side would have meant certain destruction. Captain Swan had been warned of the planned mutiny and that night all except the four desperadoes gathered on the poop deck, where the night was spent without a wink of sleep.

The mutineers were as possible incited to save Chester from possible incarceration in the state penitentiary. Judge Snell will adopt one of four expedients in disposing of the prisoner: He will send him to the penitentiary, to one of the state asylums, to a county jail or place him in the custody of his relatives under heavy bonds. In the strange eventuality of this noted case the defense now occupies the ground taken by the prosecution at the opening of the trial, claiming that Chester is sane and capable of going about his business without interfering with others.

Mutineers Put Ashore. In the morning Captain Swan, who is an elderly man, advanced toward the mutineers with drawn revolver and followed by the crew. One by one the desperadoes were picked up and placed in heavy irons. The Indian was first to be arrested. He was caught in the forepeak. The Frenchman surrendered in the forecabin where he had sought sleep after the exciting night. The men were locked up in a room and kept there 10 days while the vessel made Bahia, Brazil. The men begged piteously to be let off, but Captain Swann could not afford to take the chance and so put them ashore. They will probably be heavily punished, although their trial had not come up when the Zinita resumed her voyage.

Two white men and two South American negroes were signed at Bahia to take the places of the mutineers. One of them, Gustaf Rydberg, was swept overboard off Cape Horn and drowned. He was fastening a sail on the jibboom when suddenly the vessel dipped fearfully and took an awful sea. Rydberg was lost and Carpenter Kundersen was thrown with great force against a stay and his leg broken. He luckily managed to grab a rope or he, too, would have gone overboard. The accident occurred during the stormy night as the vessel was beating against a terrific sea. Oscar Viken, who was also on the jibboom at the time, narrowly escaped being dragged down to death by the hungry wave that swallowed his companion.

Ship's Black Record. The sailors call the Zinita the floating graveyard because during the past four years she has been the cause of 38 deaths. On her voyage before the one completed today, the Zinita ran down the Norwegian bark, Crombator, off Australia with the result that all hands except one on the Norwegian craft were lost. Boatswain Olson saved his life by leaping from the sinking Crombator to the starboard davit of the Zinita. Arthur Gelsler, one of the crew, was on board of the Zinita at the time, and he says not a sign was seen of the Crombator after the collision, although it was seen about an hour later. The strangest part of the collision was the fact that the Zinita was in ballast while the Norwegian bark was heavily laden with coal.

Some years ago the Zinita ran ashore at the mouth of the Columbia river, but she called off again when a strong breeze sprang up from shore.

YOUNG WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB SINGS AT TEMPLE

The McMinnville College Glee club will give a popular concert at the White Temple tonight at 8 o'clock. The club is composed of 11 young ladies. They will be assisted by Mrs. H. SPECIAL LOCAL OPTION ELECTION AT SEASIDE

Astoria, Or., May 3.—The county court court at its meeting yesterday considered a petition asking for a special election at Seaside to determine whether or not the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be permitted. The court directed that the election be held Monday, June 11.

NEW JERSEY DEDICATES MONUMENT TO SOLDIERS

(Journal Special Service.) Fredericksburg, Va., May 3.—The monument erected near Salem church to commemorate the valor of the Twenty-third regiment, New Jersey volunteers, in the battle at that place, was dedicated today with imposing exercises in the presence of a large crowd. The state of New Jersey erected the monument at a cost of over $8,000, on a site purchased by General E. Rud Grubb, former commander of the regiment, and presented by him to the association of the survivors of the regiment. The monument is 50 feet high, and is topped with a statue of a soldier advancing and leading. The statue is of granite, seven feet high.

FAMOUS TENOR CUTS OUT TONGUE WITH SCISSORS

Milan, May 3.—Arcangelo Rossi, the famous tenor cut out his tongue with a pair of scissors yesterday while insane. Rossi was with the Conreid Opera company in San Francisco during the earthquake, and has been ill ever since from the fright he was given. Recently he lost his voice, and that drove him insane.

ASTORIANS CHARGED AS THIEVES

Astoria, Or., May 3.—S. Helliford and N. Smith who were arrested charged with larceny from a dwelling, had an examination yesterday and were held to await the action of the circuit court under bonds of $175. Helliford furnished the amount and was released.

OPENING TONIGHT

Bannon & Co. Will Distribute 5,000 Beautiful Souvenirs to Visitors.

Tonight Bannon & Co.'s fine new department store, a new store to the city as well as to the east side, will open at 325-330 East Morrison street near the corner of Grand avenue. The salesrooms occupy the major portion of the lower floor of the new Hesch brick building. The east side resident is to be congratulated over the acquisition of such mercantile resources as are at the command of Bannon & Co. For 21 years this firm has maintained large department stores in St. Paul and Minneapolis. The East Portland establishment is a branch house of the Minneapolis concern. In buying goods this will be of immense advantage to the local store.

"Tonight the opening of Bannon & Co. will take place in honor of the occasion extremely handsome souvenirs will be distributed to visitors.

"The hand of welcome has been extended to us by so many of the east side people that we already feel at home and know the future of the store is predicted," said Mr. Bannon, the manager. "We believe the east side is coming to the front with giant strides. This is our object in locating such a big store on this side of the river."

HERRICK REFRIGERATOR

GREATEST ON EARTH

"This refrigerator is the result of years of study and research, and is unanimously agreed among experts on the subject to be the most perfect refrigerator made. For years the demand for it has been so tremendous that the leading houses of New York, Philadelphia and Boston have eagerly bought up the majority of the output of the Herrick factory. Additional great extensions to the factory have given us the opportunity to secure an immense, complete line and we consider the securing of the exclusive sales agency for Portland a great stroke of good fortune.

"The Herrick refrigerator is constructed on scientific and sanitary lines and is a wonderful improvement on every other make on the market. It is scientifically constructed for dry air circulation, actually giving the greatest amount of refrigeration while consuming but half the usual amount of ice. In this respect it assures a grand economy of expense. It is at the same time perfectly sanitary, affording thorough cleanliness and purity, and a germ-proof atmosphere.

"The main construction is of kiln-dried material, absolutely air-tight in a handsome golden finish. The lining is of white enamel or special-processed zinc. All grades have double doors. Floors of provision room are flush and easy to clean; provision shelves and ice racks are of corrugated galvanized iron; solid brass or bronze lever locks."

Such was the conversation of J. J. Kaddery when seen in his salesroom at 120 First street alongside the depot of the Portland Railway. Light & Power company.

Take them off if they hurt. You cannot wear the "pinch" out of a shoe. But you can buy a shoe without the pinch, the Hanan Shoe, for instance. Feels as comfortable as your stocking, built along graceful lines and holds its shape until the last minute.

Isn't such a shoe worth paying a little more for? Hanan Shoes for women, too.
