"See Switzerland, but see America first," was the advice given to a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting yesterday afternoon by J. A. Dummett, a member of the Mazamas club, who delivered a lecture illustrated by stereopticon views of Switzerland mountain scenery. Mr. Dummett declared that Oregon, Washington and Alaska possess scenery as beautiful as any to be found anywhere in Europe. Secretary Stone announced that the plans of the men's meetings had been changed, and that groups of not more changed, and that groups of not more than 20 would go out into the open air for Bible study.

Government Engineers Will Extend Columbia River Jetty This Summer.

IMPROVEMENTS ALSO AT COQUILLE RIVER

Contractors Invited to Bid on Work and Bids Will Be Opened at 11 O'Clock on June 5-To Extend the Jetty Seaward.

Work under the new appropriation Work under the new appropriation was commenced on the Columbia river jetty this morning. Stone is being bought in the open market until a contract has been entered into and the Columbia Construction company will begin making deliveries at once. The storms of last winter and this spring did considerable damage to the jetty trestle, but nevertheless a great stretch of the jetty is expected to be built this summer.

Much other improvement work will

Much other improvement work will be begun by the government engineers soon for the benefit of navigation in this district. General specifications for the improvement of Coquilie river, for instance, were issued this morning and bids will be invited shortly for the prosecution of this work. According to the specifications, sealed proposals for lumber and pile trepties and rock work will be received at the U. S. engineer's office in the custom house building until 11 a. m., June 5, and then publicly opened. No proposal will be considered opened. No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by a guarantee, which should be in the manner and form as directed. The work to be done is at the mouth of the Coquille river, at Bandon, Coos county. It consists principally of the extension of the north jetty seaward an approximate distance of 285 feet.

WILL BRING COAL

American Iron Bark Is Loading a Newcastle, New South Wales.

The American bark Willscott will be-gin loading coal at Newcastle, N. S. W., in a few days for Astoria. Her charter for that business has just been an-nounced and it is also reported that she will probably go out with lumber for a California port. This makes five coal laden windjammers heading for Portland, all from the Australian port,

The Willscott was built in 1896 and hence is not one of the old school of American windjammers. She was launched from the ways in Port Glasgow and originally flew the British flag. Later she was transferred to the Hawaiian Islands and with the annexation obtained permission to float the stars and stripes. She always sailed under her present name, despite her changes of nationality. San Francisco is her

Another vessel, the American schooner expansion, was chartered this morning to load lumber here, or on the Columbia river. She has just started north from San Pedro.

DEATH OF A. M. JOHNSON Pioneer Sailmaker Victim of Pleurisy and Pneumonia.

A. M.
