

WISTERIA VINE NEARLY COVERS HOUSE WITH BLOOMS

A wisteria vine 30 years old, fairly covers the cottage of Mrs. E. L. Barber at 565 Yamhill street. It is now in full bloom and is one solid mass of blossoms without a leaf on the entire plant. This is the largest and most beautiful wisteria in the city. It is valuable because of its blooming propensities.

A peculiar characteristic of the plant lies in its varied blooming. Some of them leaf early and bloom late in the summer, but the more valuable ones bloom early and leaf afterward, as this one does. In the latter case the plant always is a mass of blossoms with very few leaves.

Mrs. Barber obtained this plant about 30 years ago when it was quite small. Since that time it has been moved, but this has not retarded its growth. Gardeners say that the plant with a trunk over 13 inches in diameter could be safely transplanted again. The flowering part of the plant covers the ver-

DEATH KNEEL OF GUARD YOUR HEALTH RED TAPE MASS

Forestry Service Will Be Under Direct Control of Six Competent Men.

DISTRICT INSPECTOR WILL HAVE AUTHORITY

Forester Pinchot Will Come West in the Near Future to Visit Every Reserve and Confer With the People on the Subject.

(Washington Bureau of the Journal.) Washington, May 7.—The reorganization of the forest inspector service into six districts with a district inspector in charge will do more to popularize the forestry service than any other movement made lately. The new plan contemplates the investiture of the district inspectors with authority sufficient to enable them to act promptly on nearly all matters touching the administration of the national forests, and this will obviate in a large measure the necessity of awaiting the winding and unwinding of the immense masses of red tape which have become inseparably connected with all Washington transactions.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS A BOON TO ALL WOMEN.

Used to Keep the Blood Rich and Pure They Will Prevent Much Suffering and Misery.

As a woman approaches the age of 40 or thereabouts, she should pay particular attention to her health. The hard work which she may have been accustomed to do and the worry and excitement of her daily life should be lessened or avoided as much as possible. As her health after she passes this time will depend in a large measure upon it, every woman owes it to herself to build up her strength during these years. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been recognized as the standard medicine, because of their great blood and tonic properties.

Mrs. Hannah A. Lester of 1151 Michigan Ave., Detroit, Mich., says: "I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills about four years ago, after I had been suffering for some years from dizzy spells and nervousness which were brought on by overwork. I tried several medicines without help, and all the time became more irritable, nervous and weak. At times I had no appetite and could eat nothing. At intervals of every two or three days, my heart seemed to rise up in my throat and I would have to lie down until the feeling passed away. I also had dull aching pains under my right shoulder and across my back. When I looked up I would see black spots. Occasionally I would become so dizzy that I had to steady myself to keep from falling.

"I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after I had taken them a short time the dizzy spells became less frequent and finally stopped. Much sooner than I had expected or hoped I was entirely well and I now feel like a new person altogether."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are adapted for diseases due to impure blood and shattered nerves. They are invaluable in rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever, and in sick headaches, dizziness, nervousness, neuralgia, and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

A valuable booklet entitled "Plain Talks to Women" will be sent free in a sealed envelope, upon request, to any woman interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, six boxes for $1.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

JUDGE SETON'S MEAL GOT COLD WHILE HE READ NOVEL ON CAR

Ex-Judge Waldemar Seton is a great reader and at times becomes deeply interested in books. Furthermore, he hates long, dreary streetcar rides and so to even matters up usually arms himself with an entertaining story before boarding the car that carries his suburban home on Milwaukee boulevard.

Last night the former East justice of the peace commenced his story at the Alder street depot and continued devouring the entertaining contents of the pages while grouping his way over chukholes to what he believed was his car. Finding a comfortable seat he was soon all wrapped in the delightful literature and never looked up from the book until he thought it time to be "about home."

LOVED SAME MAN AND WOULD DIE TOGETHER

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Butte, Mont., May 7.—The odd case of two women, denizens of the underworld, loving the same man and both determining to commit suicide because of unrequited love was enacted when Eva Gordon was found dead in bed this morning, having swallowed half the contents of a bottle of morphine. Ella Black, the other woman's would-be companion in death swallowed the other half of the bottle of morphine, but it failed to work quickly and a stomach pump placed her out of danger. The name of the man in the case is withheld by the officers, but he is understood to be a responsible saloon man, who would have nothing to do with either woman. The attempt at dual suicide followed a drunken quarrel in which the women complained of the icy behavior of the saloon man.

ANXIOUS LOVER WANTS SOMEONE TO SWEAR SWEETHEART LIVES HERE

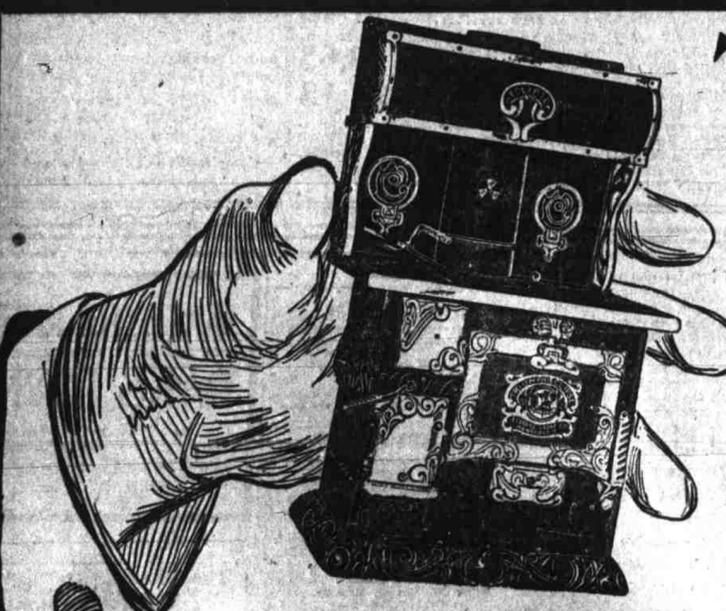

Gus Andersen, a blonde-haired young son of Sweden, appeared at the county clerk's office at the court house yesterday afternoon at a time when the marriage license market was dull, and was greeted with a warm smile by Deputy County Clerk "Cupid" Rose, who was getting lonesome. "Cupid" turned to the blank page in the big affidavit book and asked, glibly: "Does the young lady live in this country?"

Andersen that no marriage license can be issued in this county unless some one is found who will swear that the girl lives here. "But what can I do?" asked Andersen. "My girl, Mattie Swenson, lives in Sweden. We are engaged. I wrote to her to come to Portland and we would be married here. She wrote back she is afraid to come. She thinks maybe I won't marry her when she gets here. So I want to get a marriage license and send to her so she will know I will marry her when she gets here."

"No," said Gus, "she lives in Sweden." Rose shut the book and informed

"Well, maybe I find some one for a witness to swear, Mattie lives here. If I do I will come back." The Greeks had just entered Troy in the wooden horse. "It was easy," they explained. "It felt just like sitting in the subway in a blockade."
