CROSS STATE LINE INTO IDAHO THIS AFTERNOON

Portland Invaders Visit Sugar Beet Office of Kent Recorder and Building Farms, See Natural Gas Demonstration and Learn Resources of the Interior Country.

(Sectal Disesten to The Journal.)
Caldwell, Idaho, May 8.—The third day of the Portland business men's excursion into the interior has been one continual ovation. Every city visited has been thriving and in the height of prosperity and royal welcome has been extended by all.

The people of Caldwell have done everything within their power to make the invaders feel that the city is theirs and this is one of the most enjoyable stops on the trip.

Caldwell is a prosperous little city in the heart of a rich country which, like the whole inland empire, gives promise of a great future for the Pacific northwest. While the slogan "Greater Oregon" does not apply here the people of this section of the country appreciate the value of harmony with their seaport and Portland is their outlet to the ocean, and are ready to work hand in hand with the metropolis for mutual and Stock of Eastern Oregon Trading Company Involved in Ruin-List of Other Losses.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Shaniko, Or., May 8 .- Nearly the entire business district of Kent, Oregon, was destroyed by a fire yesterday that started at about 11 o'clock in G. Simmons' place of business, located in a two-story building which contained the postoffice and the office of the Kent Recorder, with a dance hall overhead. The origin of the fire is not known.

The town was practically helpless, there being only two wells in the place and no equipment save the most primitive. It was only by the hardest kind of fighting that the people saved what is now left of the town. Two large warehouses near the railroad caught fire but it was quickly extinguished. The postoffice is now only a pile of ashes, as also the office of Kent's weekly paper, the Kent Recorder. The large store of the Eastern Oregon Trad-ing company was burned to the ground and only a small part of the stock was saved. It was only partially insured. The fire quickly spread over the business district. The aggregate loss is estimated between $25,000 and $40,000, with insurance light. The losers were: T. Schadwitz, billiard hall and ball room; A. K. Hall, printing office and postoffice; W. A. Kentner, meat market; Eastern Oregon Trading company, entire plant; G. Simmons, barber shop; J: this city shortly before 5 o'clock last H. Bottemiller, drug store; K. F. night, the Portland business men were Thomson, residence.

The police were work-ing in behalf of Daggett and the deputy sheriffs were at the polls for the purpose of looking out for the interests of Moore, Finally the police won by sean injunction prohibiting the sheriffs from making an arrest without a warrant,

CHANGE IN PLAN

The union pickets pushed their way through the crowds exhorting the peo-ple not to indulge in violence. Inside the car barns and yards there was a great stir and bustle of the men preparing to move the cars as soon as they finished breakfast. Arms and ammunition were passed around to the crews selected to take the cars out, and who were to remain within prepared themselves as for a siege. Militia Is Expected. The expected sending of militia to this city, as indicated by orders given to the Seventh regiment to place itself under arms at once, has not dismayed the strikers. They are confident of troops be called. A small crowd remained in the vicinity of the Turk street barns throughout the amount for which the warrant of arrest night but were not permitted to approach nearer than one block from the barns.

In anticipation of the storming of the barns, a strong armed guard was on of foreman of the Carnegie Steel works watch from dark to dawn inside the and is now president of the strongest stockade. No overt act was attempted and the night passed quietly.

No attempt was made the missles. to patrol the streets on which the attempt was made to run the cars and a attacks of the crowd, one of the strikewoefully inadequate force of men was available at the car barns when the cars went out. Had there been a small police escort with the cars there would have been no shooting. It was because the crowd, and for 12 blocks a pitched they made the attack they did. This forced the use of pistols.

Crisis Is Beached. During the night many precautions were taken by Chief of Police Dinan under the instructions of Mayor Schmitz to prevent a renewal of the rioting. A detail of 50 policemen was kept on duty at the Turk street barns all night under the command of a captain and orders were issued to the officers not to permi the crowds to gather either at the barns or anywhere along the streets where the attempt was made to operate cars. Profiting by the lesson of blood yesterday a proclamation was issued during the night by the chief of police warning his men to keep the people moving. The situation has reached an alarming crists. Union labor men openly talk of answering bullets with bullets. There is grave unrest throughout the and no one believes the police could or would attempt to prevent fur-ther rioting. It is significant that although 500 persons foined in the attacks on the cars of the United Railroads less than half a dozen were arrested. Scores of union mechanics gaged in the construction of buildings along the line of the cars threw bricks and pleces of iron at the cars, but no attempt was made to molest any of them by the subservient police.

To Shoot Strike Breakers. The remarkable statement was made by Chief Dinan that he would have his men armed with riot guns and would instruct them to shoot any strike breaker using a pistol. He said he would see that there was no attack on the cars. President Calhoun in a published statement said he would tinue to run cars every day and would expect the police to protect the company's property and its employes. He said if this protection was not given the men would protect themselves and Yesterday the first car taken from the barns carried unarmed men and this plan will be pursued again. If there is any violence the company will once more arm its strike breakers.

Neither union nor company nor any of the strikebreakers showed a sign of weakening. The strikebreakers de clare they will run the cars with or without police assistance.

List of the Injured. In a pitched battle between the strikebreakers and a mob yesterday afternoon, in which the brickbats of the strikers were answered with revolver shots by the non-union men, one man was killed and 14 injured. The list of dead and injured follows:

DEAD. James Walsh. INJURED. Thomas White, lacerated scalp.
Police Officer Harry Sauer, shot hrough shoulder. F. Joy, lacerated on cheek

Late yesterday afternoon seven cars were sent out from the Turk street barns manned by 40 strikebreakers dressed as inspectors and wearing revolvers strapped outside their coats. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, May 8 .- Leaving a shortage probably near the $20,000 mark in the controller's office of this city, John Riplinger, former city controller and candidate a little more than a year ago, on the Republican ticket, for mayor, is missing. It is feared he has fled to Honduras, where he cannot be extradited, but every effort is being made to intercept him.

Checking up the accounts of the controller's office it is discovered already that the shortage amounts to $9,850 and conservative estimates place the total amount missing at $20,000. For several months there has been a suspicion among the associates of the former controller, who went but, of office March, 1905, that something was wrong, but it was not until last night that it was learned that he had fled.
