MOTHERS MEET AT LOS ANGELES

Prominent Women From Every Part of United States Will Assemble There.

(Journal Special Service.) Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—The advance guard of delegates has arrived for the annual conference of the National Congress of Mothers, which is to begin a five days' session in this city tomorrow. It will be the tenth anniversary of the congress, which held its first meeting in Washington in 1897.

The program for the Los Angeles meeting is one of the best ever arranged by the organization. The speakers will be leaders in the different phases of work for childhood. The education and discipline of children in the home will be considered. The co-operation of parents and teachers through parental associations in the schools, and the steadily increasing cooperation between educational associations and the congress, will form an important part of the program.

The care of the dependent, neglected and delinquent children in every community will be the subject of several sessions, and eminent specialists will discuss it. Legislation required in state and nation for the protection of home and childhood will receive consideration. The conference will be the guests of the California Congress of Mothers, which body has made elaborate provision for the reception and entertainment of the visitors.

PRESIDENT TO ATTEND MONUMENT UNVEILING

Executive Will Deliver Oration at Dedication of Lawton Memorial at Indianapolis.

(Journal Special Service.) Indianapolis, Ind., May 8.—So far as the local arrangements are concerned everything is now in readiness for the reception of President Roosevelt, who is to come to Indianapolis to deliver the oration at the unveiling of the Lawton monument on Memorial day. The president will arrive in Indianapolis during the forenoon of May 30 and will be escorted by the reception committee to the home of Vice-President Fairbanks, where luncheon is to be served.

The dedicatory exercises will take place in the afternoon and will be preceded by a military parade. One battalion of infantry from Fort Wayne, Michigan, one battalion from Fort Thomas, Kentucky, and one light battery from Fort Sheridan, Illinois, together with several regiments of the Indiana National Guard, will take part in the parade.

The dedicatory ceremonies will take place in the grounds of the court house, where the monument has been erected. It is expected that Mrs. Lawton, the widow of the soldier, will be present at the unveiling. Governor Hanly, the chairman of the Lawton committee, will preside over the exercises and will introduce the president. There will be one or two brief introductory addresses, but the speech of the occasion will be that of the president, who has indicated that it will be along the line of a Memorial Day address. Immediately after the dedicatory exercises the Roosevelt party will leave for Lansing, where the president is to speak the following day.

WILL FLOAT AMERICAN SECURITIES IN PARIS

J. P. Morgan & Co. Are Taking Steps Believed to Indicate Combination.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, May 9.—J. P. Morgan & Co., according to a Paris cable, have established close connection with the credit Lyonnaise. It is believed in Paris that this arrangement has some reference to the floating of American securities in Paris. In some quarters here it is believed to be another step in a gigantic combination between the great railroad and banking interests of the country.

Wall street hears there is to be formed an immense holding and banking company. The head of the bank is to be named by J. P. Morgan. Its organization will, according to good authority, centralize the great railroad interests and financial factions of the country, which have been drawn closer together by the government attacks upon the railroads and trusts.

Gasoline Hollow Wire Lighting System

The advent of the Gasoline Light solved the momentous problem of lighting brilliantly, economically and cheaply places of business, factories, foundries, churches, lodge-rooms, depots, open-air and indoor gardens, houses, etc.

Its very simplicity of construction and operation makes it possible for anyone of average means to install and own a gas plant, and a cross-roads store can now be as brilliantly lighted as a large department store in the city of Chicago. He who owns a gasoline lighting outfit can always figure in dollars and cents in advance what it is going to cost to run it, and always rely upon those figures as being correct. It is always ready for use, and the light in comparison with any other is much whiter and absolutely steady. Hundreds of them are in use, and he who does not investigate this method of lighting is behind the times.

"No man can get a better home than to buy a suburban lot and build a dwelling," says the Oregonian.

This is sound advice and here are the same people in Portland who can well afford to buy a lot. If the same people will give this matter their attention there will be more home building in Portland this year than ever before.

"Neighborhood" makes value again, says the Oregonian.

Why will the writer of that editorial build a City Park in mind when he penned those words. He must have. There will be no finer neighborhood in the state of Oregon than the City Park one year from now. Nice homes will be everywhere; the neighbors will abound on every side; the social side of life will be excelled by every section of the city. There will be churches, schools and every convenience that will make it an elegant place for homes.
