

THE JOURNAL

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER. C. B. JACKSON, Publisher. Published every evening (except Sunday) and every Sunday morning...

trouble, lest if their candidate be not assuredly a Bryan man he will be defeated. And the further trouble is that aside from Roosevelt and La Follette the masses of Republican voters may not be willing to trust to any Republican rather than to Bryan.

AN UNWISE SUGGESTION.

THE SUGGESTION in a Portland newspaper by a Eugene correspondent that the referendum be invoked on the Willamette locks appropriation because of efforts against the University bill, is ill-advised and untimely.

The welfare of every region is dependent on its transportation facilities. The ultimate in development cannot be attained without adequate transportation facilities.

PORTLAND NEGLECTED.

PORTLAND merchant who has spent ten weeks in southern California says he saw no Portland or Oregon literature there, while there was abundance of it everywhere about Seattle, Tacoma and Salt Lake.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT DECISION.

ANOTHER important decision relating to the relations of railroads to the public is that of the supreme court of the United States, rendered about two weeks ago, in the case of a North Carolina railroad that, though required to do so by the state railroad commission, refused to run a train to connect with another train so that persons could more conveniently reach the state capital.

THE PEOPLE WILL CONTROL.

THAT MEN experienced and prominent in public life should be so ignorant of the scope, volume and force of public sentiment as those who talk seriously of the Democrats nominating a Parkerish candidate for president is astonishing.

SPOKANE AND SEATTLE.

MAYOR DAGGETT of Spokane was beaten Tuesday for reelection by 1,874 majority, and not because Daggett is a Democrat and Moore, who was elected, a Republican, but because the voters believed, apparently with ample reason, that the administration had been in league with the lower class of saloons, gamblers and the vicious element generally.

THEIR DEEPEST PITY.

Women always feel the deepest pity for the woman who would be unhappy if she knew the truth about her husband.

The End of Sailor Letters From the Blackbeard People

By Rev. Thomas B. Gregory. All the world has heard of "Blackbeard," the English sailor, who, after having been a highly respected officer in his majesty's navy, turned pirate and raised the black flag against everything afloat.

SALOONS IN POLITICS.

THERE ARE saloons and saloons. Many of those in Portland conduct a strictly lawful business, and are as decent as saloons can be. Against such no warfare is being made by the city administration or the powers that be generally.

A Coming Town.

Hemlock, Or., May 6.—To the Editor of the Journal—I am a reader of your valuable paper and fully endorse its fair and independent manner of expression.

A Novel Proposition.

Portland, May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—As editor of the most progressive as well as aggressive publication of Oregon, if not of the Pacific coast, why not bring about the utilization of the millions and millions of dollars that are now lying idle in our numerous banks and treasuries by the corporate establishment of a panic insurance company?

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Beat Him One Way.

From the Success Magazine. As Mark Twain and a friend were chatting at the summer home of the humorist, Quarry Farm, near Elmira, New York, the conversation turned to the work of John D. Rockefeller.

The Noisy City.

W. Romaine Paterson in "The Nemesis of Nations." It was deeply significant that although Rome raised a statue to Quinctus she placed it outside the walls.

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.

Never Satisfied.

From the Chicago News. And still the pavy food we does not protect the consumer who covets the faith at a restaurant. All the ingredients may be printed on the can or the bottle, but if no one except the chef sees them where does the humble eater get off?

Small Change.

Peary needs an "angel." Nobody has lost the north pole. The Jamestown fair needs a real Peabody.

Place the Honor Where it Belongs.

Vancouver, Wash., May 7.—To the Editor of the Journal—It is surprising that the honorable mayor and council of Vancouver did not know of the existence of a tenderloin in the town until apprised of it at the point of the bayonet.