Reservation Superintendent Finds Too Much Trouble in Eastern Oregon and Will Be Sent to Another Post of Duty by the Department.

(Washington Bureau of the Journal.) Washington, May 11.—Major O. C. Edwards, superintendent of the Umatilla Indian reservation, has resigned and his resignation has been accepted by the interior department. The office refuses to announce who his successor will be, though it is understood that the appointment has been made.

Major Edwards will be sent to a different station, it is understood, and will not lose by the change, as his next charge is reported to be even more important than the one from which he has just resigned.

At the annual meeting of the Visiting Nurse association held yesterday the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull; vice-president, Mrs. Adolph Wolfe; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Biles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Stearns; directors, Mrs. A. Morrison, Mrs. George W. McBride, Mrs. Robert J. Marsh, Miss Virginia Wilson, Mrs. F. J. Cronin, Mrs. H. L. Corbett, Mrs. John Crona, Mrs. H. E. Gila, Mrs. Blanche Blumauer, Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. Louis Goldsmith, Miss Clementine Hirsch.

Seventy-five wards of the juvenile court who are under probation in charge of the various officers, reported to Judge Fraser in the courtroom of department No. 1 this morning with their records for the past month, as certified to by the teachers of the various schools that the boys attend. These reports from the teachers were brought by each of the boys in sealed envelopes, which were opened and read by the judge in the presence of all the boys. They indicated a general improvement in the conduct and studiousness of the probationers.

Many a small chest swelled visibly with pride as its owner heard the judge read words of praise that his school teacher had written in the report. The picnic that was to have occurred this afternoon was postponed on account of the rain, to the second Saturday in June, when the probationers will report again.

After the reports were read, Dr. Paul Rader, editor of the Christian Advocate, talked to the boys, and Miss Gray gave each of them a card bearing the picture of the Golden Rule hotel, which had been told to them on the day of the last report.

One of the first cases that came to us was a poor woman, a year ago, suffering with tubercular joints. She lived with her husband, her 6-year-old child, and a sister who cared for the patient, in one room in the basement of a lodging-house in the most fearful condition, the air heavy with the poisonous odor. The patient occupied the only bed in the room, where she had been helplessly confined for weeks. The husband stepped on the floor by day and worked at night, when the same quilt was used for the sister and the child.

Our first care was to do the dressing and disinfect the room, our next care to find other quarters for the husband and child. Here we did dressings two and three times a day for more than two weeks, until almost a mother, released the poor little woman. So death takes the wife, and nearly the last cent gone for medicine. The nurse is expected to be not only general information, but counselor, friend, sister and often almost a mother.

"A short time since we called to see a small boy 2 1/2 years old. Either pneumonia or scarlet fever, we don't know which," the mother said. It proved to be the former. When the nurse arrived the little fellow was bolstered up in his crib, his little face scarlet with the fever, his eyes heavy, but in one little chubby hand he held a piece of bread, in the other a piece of sausage.

"The mother explained that he wouldn't drink milk, so she 'gave him this for lunch.' Can you imagine it?—and yet we find such things constantly.

Emergency Hospital Needed. "I wish to acknowledge the generous gift of Mrs. H. D. Green, which made it possible to plant a hospital in the city, giving her a new chance for health and usefulness. It is difficult to persuade our people to go to the county hospital, even were they not too ill already to reach the long, hard trip. Two patients placed there last year came home to die.

"St. Vincent's hospital is our other hope, and here many times one must wait for a bed. Our greatest need is for an emergency hospital here in the city, where our unfortunate poor can go and receive the care they so sorely need, but are so slow, many times fatally slow, to ask for. To do our ever-increasing work we need an emergency hospital and another nurse."

Five Children in Miller Family Taken Down With Dread Meningitis.

Theodore Miller, aged 5 years, and Florence Miller, aged 10 years, died of spinal meningitis at St. Vincent's sanitarium this morning. Yesterday there were 13 cases of spinal meningitis at the sanitarium, three of whom have since died. None of the others are expected to recover.

With the death of the two Miller children reported this morning practically an entire family has been wiped out by the epidemic. Wednesday the first child died, Marguerite, aged 2 years; Thursday, Walter, aged 16 years, died; last night, Fearce, formerly electrician in the postoffice, aged 23, died at St. Vincent's, while this morning comes the report of the death of the two children, Theodore and Florence. Matilda, aged 28, is in a dying condition at St. Vincent's. The physicians expect her death any moment.

Mrs. Jesse Miller, the mother of the children, is prostrate with grief and has temporarily lost her reason. The father, who is crippled with rheumatism, this morning was only waiting for the death of his last child when he should arrange to hold the funeral of all six at once.

The condition of Edward Stemme who has been ill for days at 451 Fourth street, is unchanged. His physician, Dr. C. H. Dammasch, says that if he survives another day his chances will be very good.

Articles of incorporation of the Eugene and Eastern Railway company have been filed in the office of County Clerk Fields by A. Welch, E. W. Hall, F. W. Waters, James B. Thompson and Charles A. Hardy. The objects are to build lines of railroad from Eugene to Prineville, Crook county, and from Eugene to Corvallis. Capital stock, $1,000,000.

It is proposed to build an electric line from Eugene to Springfield, and up the McKenzie, crossing the Cascades to Prineville, and the Deschutes country. The company has acquired extensive water rights for the generating of power. Its road will pass through a region rich in timber and mineral resources, and would take the large irrigation belt east of the mountains. The officers are: President, A. Welch; vice-president, F. W. Waters; secretary and treasurer, E. W. Hall; engineer, James R. Thompson; attorney, Charles A. Hardy.

Their inspection of Oregon products and resources as shown by the Portland chamber of commerce exhibit was a revelation to the Dunkards, said C. A. W. Miller, custodian of the exhibit. "They were desirous to be impressed by the great variety of products and the high grade of everything shown. They expressed the intention of coming back to Oregon and making extended investigations as soon as their convention in California adjourns."

The Dunkard delegation arrived from Chicago yesterday afternoon and spent half a day looking about Portland. There were about 40 in the party. Local members of the denomination secured a special car and gave them a trip over the lines of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. They departed last night over the Southern Pacific for Los Angeles.

Johnson was a new man on the road. Up to three weeks ago he was in the regular army and his company was stationed at Fort Walla Walla. His term of enlistment expired three weeks ago. Before death his mind was clear and he talked freely regarding himself. He came from Wisconsin, where his family live. He was engaged to be married to Miss Kate McKeehan of Walla Walla, who has been notified.

Chicago, May 11.—A youth of 20, of military bearing, 6 feet 2 inches in height, claiming to be Harold Knissen, son of a general in the German army, was arrested today charged with forgery of a $25 check on the Marsh Bridge company of Peoria, Illinois.

Laura Cook Corey is a Forbidden Subject in Steel King's Household.

New York, May 11.—The name of Laura Cook Corey, the divorced wife of W. S. Corey, is not to be mentioned in the presence of the head of the steel trust or his $5,000,000 actress bride. The ten times millionaire who put away the drudge of his youth to marry a "daint creature of the stage," as his own uncle pictured her, today excluded the name of his first wife from all conversation.

In the course of an interview the first Mrs. Corey's name was suggested to Miss Gilman. Her attitude changed and the smile went out of her eyes. "That has all been thoroughly discussed long ago," she said. "I don't care to speak about the subject. No one seems to understand, so there would be no need for discussion."

The fire originated in the kitchen and shot rapidly up the flume to the roof of the building. For a time serious apprehension was felt for the safety of the guests and the structure, but owing to the splendid organization of the hotel employees acting under Manager H. C. Bowers, and the quick response of the fire department, the flames were soon under control and the danger averted.

Following a lecture at the Mississippi Avenue Congregational church last night, on work among the Indians in Indian territory by Rev. J. E. Wolfe, a meeting was held to arrange for a special evangelistic campaign under the leadership of the Rev. Wolfe in the business committee was formed with A. Wilburg as chairman, E. N. Welch secretary and M. E. Thompson treasurer. Subcommittees were appointed and the work is to begin at once.

Many Guests of Portland Were Not Disturbed by Fire in the Building.

While flames were raging in one side of the Portland hotel this morning, driving guests from their rooms in haste and fear, guests in other parts of the large hostelry slept unconscious of the impending danger. Even the clearing of the fire alarms in all parts of the hotel failed to rouse many of the sleeping guests and not until they rose at their usual hour and entered the dining-room did they know that the hotel had been threatened with destruction by fire.

The fire originated in the kitchen and shot rapidly up the flume to the roof of the building. For a time serious apprehension was felt for the safety of the guests and the structure, but owing to the splendid organization of the hotel employees acting under Manager H. C. Bowers, and the quick response of the fire department, the flames were soon under control and the danger averted.

Mr. Bowers personally went to the doors of the rooms into which the smoke was pouring and roused the occupants and presented him with a gold watch and chain, hoping to influence him to look with favor upon Miss Liebliek, though there was no engagement.

Miller remained in New York for six months after the date of the loan and first started. He has since Miller came to Portland they have known he was here.

New York Couple Wanted Miller to Marry Daughter and Now Want Money Back.

Because a gold watch and chain that was presented to Dr. Solome Miller by J. Frits Liebliek and his wife to influence the doctor to marry Liebliek's daughter failed to have the desired effect, a warrant for Miller's arrest for theft of the watch and chain was sworn to in New York, according to the story of the affair related by Miller's attorney, Isaac Swett.

Miller was arrested here on telegraphic instructions from the new York police. He was lodged in the city jail, and his attorney instituted habeas corpus proceedings in the circuit court to secure his release. Yesterday afternoon, however, Miller was released on $500 bail, and the habeas corpus proceedings are being held in abeyance. Miller's story, as told by Attorney Swett, is:

The warrant for Miller's arrest was sworn to before the prosecuting attorney in New York by Mrs. Rosa Liebliek. Her husband had lent Miller $500 with which to go into business. The couple wanted Miller to marry their daughter, and presented him with a gold watch and chain, hoping to influence him to look with favor upon Miss Liebliek, though there was no engagement.

Umatilla Feud Ends in Death

George Horseman, Stockman and Pioneer, Shoots and Kills Clarence McBroom.

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.) Pendleton, Or., May 11.—George Horseman, a Umatilla county pioneer, shot and killed Clarence McBroom, aged 23, at Gardane this afternoon as a result of an old feud. McBroom is a native of Umatilla. Horseman is a prominent stockman. Gardane is in an isolated locality and particulars are hence meagre. They were Deschutes country, and E. L. McBroom, proprietor of the Golden Rule hotel, a brother of the dead man, left for the scene of the killing this afternoon.

Oaks Remains on Unfair List

Federated Trades Council at Its Meeting Refuses to Raise Boycott on Resort.

The Oaks is still under boycott by the Federated Trades Council, and it remains so until the striking carmen of the city demonstrate that they are unable to make progress toward winning their strike, maintained by them to be still in existence and alive. The decision at the meeting of the council the request of the Cooks and Waiters' Union and of the Musicians' Union asking that the boycott be lifted, was voted down by a close margin, and the resort is yet on the unfair list.

New York Republicans Turn Down Resolution Indorsing Governor for President.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, May 11.—Former Governor Odell introduced a resolution at the meeting of the Republican state central committee today indorsing Governor Hughes as the next Republican candidate for president. The resolution was tabled by a vote of 32 to 4. Those opposing Odell's resolution gave only one reason, that being "too soon."
