

Wood For Burning

SPECIAL THIS WEEK ONE-FOURTH REDUCTION

Stamped in graceful designs ready for work. We give free instructions.

Pyrographic Outfits .....$1.50 up

PLAQUES, 8-in. size, stamped in Dutch Figures, Fancy Heads, Fruit, etc. Special .....12¢

PANELS in Scenery, Figure Pieces or Flowers. Special .....7¢ to 45¢

HAND MIRRORS for Burning, 6c. Special.....47¢

HAND MIRRORS, large size, $1.00. Special.....75¢

Tie Racks, Tobacco Jars, Letter Racks, Extension Book Racks, Nut Bowls, Boxes with Clasps for Collars and Cuffs, Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Vests, Neckties; your choice this week at.....QUARTER REGULAR PRICE

See Fourth Street Windows for Beautiful Banners, Burned Leather Pillows, Etc.

Fever Thermometers

Used by Physicians and Trained Nurses. Should be in every home. A perfectly reliable thermometer. Price.....$1.00 up

OPTICIAN'S REQUIREMENTS.

Microscopes, Bacteriological Stains, Supplies of every kind.

LABORATORY GLASSWARE.

Graduates, Beakers, Funnels, Test Tubes, Waste Bottles, Glass Tubing, Burettes, etc.

Purchases from this department packed carefully for delivery or shipment. Write for Prices.

Air and Sunshine ARE NATURE'S HEALTH RESTORERS

A comfortable Wheel Chair is as necessary for the invalid or Convalescent as good food or the physician's care. We have these chairs for sale. Price.....$20.00 up

A good lounging chair for the porch in summer, rattan seats, good springs, rubber tires. Price.....$20.00 up

Japanese Air Cushion

Take one to the Ball Game with you.

They're good to sit on. Made collapsible, convenient for the pocket. Also for canoeing, camping, etc. Red rubber, different shapes. Price.....25¢ to $2.50

Trusses That Fit

We adjust them to individual needs.

Skilled men in charge of this department to wait upon you. Private fitting-rooms. Every Truss guaranteed. The new "Fascia Pad" Truss. Price.....$1.50

Are You Fond of Music?

You can hear the best selections from the best musicians right in your own home. Entertain your friends. Educate your children. The refining influence of good music cannot be overestimated.

AN IMPROMPTU DANCE

In order to place a Phonograph of unexcelled merit in every home we are offering high grade Victor and Edison Machines at prices within the reach of all. If desirable, installment terms can be arranged. Full line of all records kept in stock. Visit the Gift Room, on the fourth floor, and hear these wonderful Talking Machines. All music lovers are invited to call.

Rozane Art Ware—Hand Decorated Pottery of Rare Beauty

A magnificent array of handsome Art Pieces, exquisitely molded and decorated, suitable for anniversary, wedding or birthday gifts.

Egypto Vases and Jars, in cream or dull green overlaid with symmetrical designs in brown or blue. Royal Stands.....$8.50 Tankards.....$2.00 to $10.00 Vases.....$2.00 to $10.00

Lamp Wares, in rich dark browns, floral designs and figures. Tankards.....$2.00 to $6.00 Vases.....$1.00 to $10.00

Steins.....$1.75 to $3.00 Cigar Jars.....$3.00

Fudji Vases, various sizes and graceful shapes.....$1.50 to $5.00

When in a Hurry Call Ex. 11, 10 Truck Lines
20 Extensions, or Home Phone A1139
Over 100 Salesmen Ready to Fill Your Order

MONTHLY CREDIT Extended to Responsible Persons—Canadian Money Taken at Full Value—Free Delivery in Any Part of the City

Sparkling Cut Glass AT SPECIAL PRICES FOR THIS WEEK

Dozens of beautiful pieces from our large stock have been marked down and will be placed on sale Monday morning at the unusual prices quoted. See the Fourth street window displays.

CUT GLASS.

Colonial Tumblers, 1/2 dozen, regular.....$8.50 Special $6.35

Water Pitchers, 8-inch size, regular.....$7.50 Special $5.65

Comports, 8-inch, Whirlwind design, regular.....$6.25 Special $4.65

Sugar and Creamers, chrysanthemum pattern.....$4.60 Special $3.42

Nappie, golf pattern.....$2.20 Special $1.61

Celery Tray, cut in chrysanthemum.....$6.50 Special $4.93

Bowl, 8-inch, Whirlwind decoration.....$4.95 Special $3.72

Vinegar Cruet, Fern cut.....$7.00 Special $5.19

Pickle Jar, round or square shape.....$6.25 Special $4.67

Handled Nappie, in star cut.....$2.75 Special $2.17

Vase, 10-inch size.....$7.00 Special $5.23

Water Bottle, Colonial cut.....$5.65 Special $4.21

DeCastro's Tea

Made of Sacred Bark, for the relief of kidney and liver troubles. Its use increases both energy and ambition, and induces healthful sleep. Price, 25¢ per package.

A Certain Cure

For Constipation and Nervous Troubles. Rectal Dilators, made of hard rubber, a set of four sent to any address. Your money returned if not satisfactory. Price.....$3.00 Send for Booklet, "Aids to Health."

The Photographic Dept.

Camera Specials of Interest Offered This Week

Have you a Camera? Why not buy one and make your own pictures? Every Wednesday Night one of our experienced artists conducts a CLASS FOR BEGINNERS in developing, printing, lantern slides, transparencies and enlargements. This instruction FREE.

SPECIALS IN CAMERAS.

Bushnell Brown Film Camera No. 3, practical for general use, simple to operate; 2 1/2 x 3 1/4. Price.....$2.00

Pigeon Camera, 4x5. Regular $7.50. Special.....$5.00

Plate Camera, 3 1/4 x 4 1/4. Regular $7.50. Special.....$5.00

"Angelo" Septic Platinum Paper. A cold developer paper, at a discount of 15 per cent.

Royal Printing Out Paper, size 3 1/4 sq. Reg. $1.05. Reduced to 20¢ Gro.

Save Your Eye Sight

Foot Glasses cause endless troubles. Visit our Optical Department and have your eyes tested for our new Tonic Lenses. These clear, strong crystal lenses strengthen the eyes. Recommended by Physicians. Satisfaction guaranteed.

HELPS FOR THE DEAF.

Instruments of every kind for persons whose hearing is impaired. Prices from.....$2.00 up

Call or write your needs.

Sprains or Weak Joints

Should Have a Comfortable Support

Elastic Garments properly made and fitted relieve and cure lameness, weak ankles or wrists or enlarged joints and all similar ailments. Call or write us your needs. Attendants for both sexes. Send for Self-Measurement Blank.

FROM LAST.

Wristlets.....75¢, $1.00

Knee Caps.....$2.00

Anklets.....$2.00

Leggings.....$2.00

Garter Hose.....$3.00

Knee Hose.....$5.00

Thigh Hose.....$10.00

Elastic Hosiery guaranteed in fit and quality.

ARCH INSERT SUPPORTERS.

Do your feet ache? Do you have cramps in your ankles? Thousands of men and women suffering from that very trouble have found relief wearing the "Woodlark" Inset Supporter. Always sold on approval. Price, $1.50

Have You a Bunion?

Try One of Our New Protectors

Made to fit the side of the foot comfortably, yet shields the sensitive bunion from pressure. Of pliant leather, adjusted to any foot. Price.....50¢ FLAT FOOT WITH ARCH SUPPORT

For the Camping Trip

A strong Table, suitable for out of door use. Can be adjusted to any desirable height for writing, sewing, etc. These Tables are easily packed. Price, $5.00

Store Open Sunday From 10 A. M. Until 2 P. M.

WOODARD, CLARKE & CO.

Strawine Wonderful Mexican STRAW CLEANER

WILL CLEAN AND BLEACH ANY HAT AND MAKE IT APPEAR LIKE NEW.

Price, per package, 25c

MRS. SEMPLE IS EIGHTY-SEVEN

Charming Daughter of President Tyler Is Totally Blind in Her Old Age.

WAS MISTRESS OF WHITE HOUSE FOR HER MOTHER

In Her Youth She Was the Constant Companion of Her Father and the Life and Spirit of His Entire Household.

(Journal Special Service.)

Washington, D. C., May 11.—A happy Virginia bride at 19, mistress of the White House at 21 and totally blind and an inmate of the Louise home in this city at 87. Such is the life story of Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple, daughter of former President Tyler, who was 87 years old today.

When it is remembered that Mrs. Semple was a little girl when Lafayette made his last visit to America, and a young woman before the Seminole Indians were finally pacified in Florida. It would seem that she almost belongs to another age. She saw the first telegraph wire in the United States stretched from Washington to Baltimore, and later was given a piece of the original Atlantic cable by S. F. B. Morse himself. She was present at the launching of the Allegheny, the first iron ship in the United States navy to be propelled by steam. She was acquainted with such notable figures in public life as Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Henry Clay, Washington Irving, Andrew Jackson, John Quincy Adams and numerous others.

Mrs. Letitia Tyler Semple.

Mrs. Semple in her youth was her father's constant companion. She was a good musician and was the life and spirit of his household. At the age of 19 she became the wife of Mr. Semple. When the death of William Henry Harrison made Tyler president he brought a large and interesting family to the White House. Mrs. Tyler was an invalid and could never discharge the duties of mistress of the White House. During the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was buried from the White House, of which she had never been able to assume the duties of mistress. After the death of her mother, Mrs. Semple assumed the duties of mistress of the White House, while the first few months of Tyler's administration Mrs. Robert Tyler, wife of a son of the president, acted as his hostess, while the president's daughter, Letitia, remained at their Virginia home with her mother. Some months later Mrs. Tyler made the trip to Washington, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. Semple, but succumbed to her malady very shortly afterward and was