PLAN RECEPTION FOR QUADRUERS

Committees Appointed to Entertain Masons Returning From Los Angeles.

IMPERIAL POTENTATE TO BE ONE OF VISITORS

Special Trains Will Continue to Arrive With Shriners From Los Angeles All Next Week—Autos Are Wanted by Committee.

At a meeting held in Masonic temple arrangements were made to receive and entertain the many large delegations of Mystic Shriners, who, returning via Portland from the annual meeting at Los Angeles, will stop over for a day in this city next week.

The following committees have been appointed by Potentate D. W. Taylor: A. M. Knapp, H. Beckwith, A. H. Willett, George C. Bartlett, F. A. Ballin, L. G. Carpenter, James P. Moffett, John Belding, George L. Baker, H. M. Bush, A. H. Bill, A. G. Bachardt, J. W. Brown, A. J. Farmer, E. G. Jones, G. W. Phelps, John Finley, H. J. Boyd, R. E. L. Simmons, H. P. Palmer, J. A. McQuinn, J. E. Kelly, Dr. O. C. Hlaney, E. D. Jorgensen, W. P. Johnson, W. Davis, O. S. Cutler, A. Y. Beach, T. W. Vree, and, as a reception committee at the union station: J. W. Pratt, J. J. Werlein, J. W. Cook, P. S. Malcolm, Captain Pease, Henry Roe, John Annananda, D. G. Cominski, Dr. Ernest Barton, J. F. Booth, Dr. J. F. Drake, Past Grand Master Thomas Gray, Sig. Stohel, George Hasen, H. A. Belding, James N. Davis, W. J. Fullam, C. F. Weiland, H. J. McInnis, J. E. Achenbach, H. L. Hamilton, W. H. Lang, H. H. Klair, and A. L. Carlson, to receive the visitors at Portland hotel headquarters.

Portland Elks lodge tendered the use of its elegant quarters for the entertainment of the visiting Shriners, but other arrangements had already been made, and the temple gave the Elks a unanimous vote of thanks accompanying its declination.

The first special train to arrive here will have on board the imperial potentate and other prominent officials and members of the Mystic Shrine. They are expected here some time next Tuesday morning. Special mail arrivals will then continue at least until next Friday.

Shriners of Al Kader Temple having automobiles are requested to place them with the transportation committee, if it can be done without inconvenience to themselves.

It is very desirable to have a fine display of cut flowers about the headquarters, and though it is somewhat early to do the subject full justice, it is nevertheless quite possible that many of the members may have some for the good of the cause. The potentate and officers therefore request all who may have a small supply of flowers to bring them to the headquarters and turn them over to the committee, who will look after the proper distribution.

All are requested to keep in close touch with the officers, chairman of the committee and the news columns of the daily press.

Coming to the Oaks. Of all the splendid bands which have entertained the vast crowds at the Chicago White City this season, says the Chicago Evening Post, the Imperial Hungarian above all others, takes precedence, having proven a revelation in every respect both to management and patrons who accord it universal and unstinted praise.

It is distinctly a military band, the cadres having been trained by imperial instructors, which stand alone and unrivalled, as there is not another bandlike it in existence. Their repertoire is said to reach over 500 compositions, ranging from the most classical to the simple and latest popular novelties of the day.

Nikola Miller, a young Hungarian about 30 years of age, who entered the school at Buda-Pest, Hungary, of which this band is a part, and of which he is now the leader, when he was but seven years of age. He is a commander, a veritable general, with a mustal knowledge and mastery far beyond most bandmasters and greatly in excess for his age, not only a great teacher, but a genius in the art of training; he is said to play every instrument in a full regimental band.

Mr. Shilzoni is a cultured, affable gentleman, modest in the extreme and free from all of the frills and idiosyncrasies peculiar to most band leaders. The band carries a complement of tutors who rehearse the youths in the manual of war, and also supervise their education according to the contract with the Austrian government and in accordance with the imperial law of their country. Their visit to Portland is distinctly an event.

BALLOON ASCENSION To Take Place at 6:30 P. M. If the Weather is Fair. D. E. Keasey & Co. are to give a novel exhibition and present a deed for a fine find. The plan announced is that a balloon ascension by Professor Frank Miller will start from a point near the old castle on the seventh street terrace at 4:30 this afternoon.

This unique way of advertising the Heights is sure to attract a vast crowd to the vicinity, and a scramble to secure one of the deeds and take a chance at getting the valuable one is sure to create considerable amusement.

DUTIFUL SON FOLLOWS OTHERS

Pearse Miller Was Main Support of Meningitis-Stricken Family.

FUNERAL OF FOUR CHILDREN TODAY

Another Daughter, a Telephone Operator, Dies Late Last Night—Subscriptions Have Been Started for Relief of Family.

Five deaths in four days is the sad lot of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Miller, 724 East Twentieth street, and today at 3 o'clock will occur simultaneously the funeral services of four of the children who were swept away by the dreadful spinal meningitis. The services will be held at the F. S. Dining and parlors, 414 East Alder street. They will be private and interment will be at Lone Fir cemetery.

Mattida Miller died at St. Vincent's hospital at 10 o'clock last night. Miss Miller was about 18 years of age and was in the employ of the telephone company as an operator up to the time she was taken ill.

Pearse R. Miller, the 22-year-old son who died Friday night, was a young man of most estimable character. He was a young man of sterling qualities and was the mainstay of the family who are left in destitute circumstances by the catastrophe that has overwhelmed them.

Subscriptions Started. Young Miller was employed as electrician in the postoffice building and when the news of his death reached there yesterday morning a subscription was immediately begun for the relief of the remaining members of the family. Every employee of the building responded at once, and by noon more than $100 had been subscribed. This sum will be held until Monday to give railway clerks and other employees who are out of the city an opportunity to contribute upon their return.

In addition to his work at the postoffice, Miller handled the lights at the Heilig theatre. He was also taking a course of electrical engineering in a correspondence school at which he studied during the day time. He was practically the mainstay of the family because of his father's poor health.

To those who knew him, Miller was always considered considerate and courteous and made friends with all. His solicitude for his mother's welfare was always uppermost in his mind and he aided her in many ways that would have been thought unmanly by other young men bent on having a good time. With the money he earned Miller was paying for the family home on the east side.

Was Faithful Employee. Besides the subscription raised at the postoffice, employees of the Southern Pacific railway yards are each donating a day's wages to relieve the stricken family. Girls working at the telephone office have also started a subscription list.

When the subscription was started at the postoffice many persons who had never met young Miller contributed to the fund when they learned of his strong character. Postmaster Minto stated that Miller's death meant the loss of one of the most faithful and industrious employees who ever worked in the building and that Miller was of such character that every one who knew the young man took a strong personal interest in him.
