From Santa Barbara has come the intimation that the fact that the switch at Honda was not in perfect condition might have been due to the work of wreckers, and that point will be investigated. It is not generally believed that there is any truth in the rumor that the mispiacing of that switch at Honda, and the switch was inispiaced, was the work of human hands designedly intended to wreck a train, but the Shriners want to know. The generally accepted theory for the cause of the wreck is that the sand in blowing over the track, and the

C. Parrish Seeks Reimbursement of Money Spent on Mrs. Davis.

The coat of the casket in which Mrs. Dora Davis was buried is involved in a law suit that is being tried before a jury in Judge Frazer's department of the circuit court this afternoon. The suit is that of L. C. Parrish against H. W. Davis of Albany.

Parrish alleges that he was author-ized by Davis to purchase a casket for Mrs. Davis' remains, and ship them to Harrisburg, Oregon, for burial in May, 1905. In doing this, Parrish says he incurred expense amounting to $77. Parrish says also that Davis engaged him to provide food, lodging, nursing, medicine and medical attendance to Mrs. Davis, and that he furnished them from January to May, 1905, at a cost of $246.
