

KELSO SEEKING ROUNDAWAY GIRL

Bessie Kilgore Sulked Sunday,
Left Her Home and Now
Cannot Be Found.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kelso, Wash., May 14.—Searching parties are out looking for Bessie Kilgore, who ran away from home Sunday about noon and has not been seen since. She is about 13 years old. She became angry over some trivial matter and sulked over it all the morning. About noon she refused to answer the call of her mother and went toward town. The mother did not follow, thinking it better to let her get over her mood. When she did not return in the evening inquiries were made and the search began.
Dr. Bird traced the girl to a point near Castle Rock, but lost all trace of her about three quarters of a mile short of that place. He continued the search for 15 miles beyond Castle Rock, but found no further clue. Her parents are frantic with apprehension, as the girl is of a peculiar temperament and her perverse determination may lead her into grave dangers.

Probe Cotton Rates.
(General Special Service.)
Washington, D. C., May 14.—The interstate commerce commission today heard arguments of attorneys for the interested railroads in the case involving an alleged agreement between the roads and the Suez and Pacific steamship lines to maintain exorbitant rates on cotton fabrics from southern ports to the Orient. Attorneys for the roads declare that they were not represented at the meeting when such rates were agreed upon, but admit that certain men who represented steamship lines in the conference also represented the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Houston & Texas Central roads.

THE AMERICAN HABIT
One In Every Three Affected.
Of the 75,000,000 people in the United States, it is estimated that 25,000,000 or one in every three, is partially disabled from a broken down nervous system. America is the greatest consumer of coffee in the world. Can you draw the correct inference from these two facts?

Many a person will exclaim: "Nonsense!" It is easy for any thoughtless person to jump to a conclusion that a philosopher will study carefully over before reaching. Think of the members of your own family. How many of them are perfectly and completely well in every respect? How many of your friends are perfectly healthy? Inquire of them and you will be surprised to learn that the average of one in every three, who are sick, in the main, stands true. Health depends, primarily, upon a perfectly poised nervous organization, and the greatest known enemy to the nervous system is coffee. Its active principle is caffeine, which is a pronounced nerve destroyer. The action is, first, to attack the stomach, then the pneumogastric nerve which lies behind the stomach and which is directly connected with the brain.

The disordered condition passes thence from the brain to all parts of the body, and in some it will show in vertigo (well-known nervous condition); in others this is hidden, but the work goes on from day to day, until the accumulation of forces eliminates in some organic diseases. It may be the kidneys become affected and Bright's disease sets up, it may be weak eyes, may be catarrh, stomach trouble, palpitation and heart failure, (which is becoming more and more noticeable among Americans).

Sometimes, you may depend upon it, this work will show forth in the form of disease. It may become so fixed and chronic that it can not be thrown off. It is hard to induce a man, or a woman to give up coffee when they have been addicted to its use, but if such people can be given Postum Food Coffee they will quickly change for the better, for the food drink, which properly made, has the color and the delicious, toothsome flavor of old government Java of the milder and higher priced grades.

The work of reorganization begins at once, for the leaving down element of coffee has been eliminated, and in its place the strong rebuilding effects of the elements contained in Postum go directly to work to rebuild the broken-down and delicate gray matter in the nerve centers and brain. This is just plain, old-fashioned common-sense that any thoughtful person can make use of; in fact, hundreds of thousands of brain workers in America have already discovered the fact and are using Postum Food Coffee, to their very great benefit and relief. MASONIC STORY COMES ALL WAY FROM OLD NILE

Professor Homer of O. A. C. Receives Emblem From Woodstock Push Club.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Corvallis, Or., May 14.—The Push club of Woodstock has just sent Professor Homer of the Oregon Agricultural college a fine Masonic pin. This is the way it came about:
In a recent lecture before the club, the professor related the story of a meeting, a native Egyptian on the Nile last August, who was wearing the Masonic emblem on a watch chain. Making themselves known to each other, the native threw his arms about the professor's neck and kissed him up the right cheek and down the left. The professor, who claims he never before kissed a man, said he was very much embarrassed. However, the osculation continued for some moments till the train pulled up at a depot, when an interpreter who came aboard said:
"This man wants to tell you that, although he has always known he had many brothers in Egypt, he never till this day knew that he had a brother in America. In accordance with the customs of our country, he wants you to take a present from the value which he is now placing on the pin."
The professor, removing his Al Kader shrine pin, placed it on the lapel of the native's coat, while the native gave a present in exchange which is now on deposit with Albany temple. To replace the shrine pin left for inspection by the 48 Masonic lodges which claim to be older than Solomon's temple, the members of the Woodstock Push club procured for Professor Homer a very dainty jewel mounted in ivory and gold, of which he is extremely proud.

REFERENDUM WILL GO
DESPITE ALL LAPSES

Attorney General's Liberal Opinion Cures Immaterial Defects in Petitions.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., May 14.—Present indications show that the petitions asking for the referendum on the law passed by the last legislature giving the sheriff of Multnomah county the privilege of feeding the prisoners will be filed and that the bill will have a sufficient number of signatures to refer it to the people, notwithstanding the fact that more than 17 per cent so far as the count was made yesterday are defective in some particulars. Many of the signatures either do not carry the correct address of the signers at all, or the address itself is either insufficient or in the wrong column of the blank provided for it.

A strict interpretation of the law would work havoc with some of the petitions, but the attorney-general has given a liberal interpretation of the new act, and the secretary of state is being guided in his work thereby.

The petitions contain an aggregate of some 6,000 names, and since it requires but 4,666 names to refer a measure, in spite of the 17 per cent of signatures that will be found defective, there will be a sufficient number of names remaining to refer the measure back to the people. Moreover, it is said that more signatures are forthcoming.

Two of these are charged with murder, one with criminal assault, one with robbery, a pocket watch and most of the others with burglary.

Two Fishermen Drown
Upon Boat's Capsizing

Life Saving Crew Almost Perish in a Fruitless Attempt at Rescue.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Astoria, Or., May 14.—Carl Juntilla and William Jarvi, both Finns, are the first men to drown since the opening of the fishing season. This occurred yesterday in the cut-off channel below the Republic spit on Sand Island. Between 10 and 11 o'clock, while the Cape Disappointment life-saving crew was out practicing in their new motor life-saving boat, they saw a fishing-boat capsizing in the breakers. One of the men instantly disappeared, but the other clung to the overturned craft. The life-saving crew made all possible speed for the boat, and when about 200 yards away the other man, who was evidently tangled up in the net, threw up his hands and sank.

The life-saving crew had a narrow escape from drowning, as part of the net got wound in the propeller of their boat and it was with great difficulty that it was extricated from its perilous position. The crew managed, however, to secure the fishing-boat and a portion of the net. The boat was towed to Fort Osaby. It was marked "C. R. P. A. No. 3, Oregon 702."

LIVE WIRE FALLS UPON ROAD GRADING OUTFIT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Woodburn, Or., May 14.—While using the road grader yesterday afternoon on a piece of road between Townsend station and McKee, Supervisor Fred Hasting came near losing his life. The grader struck a rotten telephone pole, which fell to the ground and struck the supervisor and three horses attached to the grader. The animals were instantly killed by the live wires and Hasting was unconscious for some time from the shock, but finally revived. The horses belonged to John Lenta, Charles A. McKee and Mr. Bollweber.

Conductors Meet at Memphis.
(General Special Service.)
Memphis, Tenn., May 14.—Before noon today Memphis was almost running over with delegates to the convention of the Order of Railway Conductors, the number of visitors being greatly in excess of what was anticipated by the local arrangements committee. The accommodations are ample, however, and all the visitors are being well cared for. Among the visitors are included several hundred delegates to the convention of the ladies' auxiliary.

May Injure Exposition.
Norfolk, Va., May 14.—A demand for an increase in wages of 25 per cent, beginning tomorrow, has been made by the marine engineers operating the steamboats on the Potomac, with the alternative of a strike. Such action would stop up transportation by water between Washington and Norfolk, and would greatly injure the Jamestown exposition.

TRAGIC RUSSIAN ARMY ROMANCE

Young Couple Separated and Commit Suicide While Father Dies From Grief.

(Journal Special Service.)
St. Petersburg, May 14.—From far-away Kirin comes the tale of a tragic romance in the highest military circles. Colonel Belousoff was in command of the Kirin garrison. The handsomest young officer under him was Captain Tonkhine. The captain was a general favorite, but a poor man.
Colonel Belousoff lived in a great villa surrounded by beautiful gardens. He was a widower and had an only daughter, Vera, renowned in St. Petersburg and Moscow for her good looks. Life on the frontier is not an eternal rush of gaiety, but the young captain and the colonel's daughter met daily. They loved each other and for a time were secretly engaged.
News came a short time ago that there was no hope of any of the garrison troops returning to civilization for two or three years. So the lovers determined to get married as soon as possible. Captain Tonkhine, at an audience with the colonel, asked for the daughter's hand in marriage. He was angrily refused. He took his sad news to the expectant girl, and she in turn interviewed her father, but he was relentless. He had other views for her—a rich and noble husband, not a mere captain of cavalry with only his army pay. Captain Tonkhine was refused entrance to the house and grounds, and also forbidden to communicate with the colonel's daughter.

A week passed, and then at night a revolver shot was heard in Colonel Belousoff's garden. The colonel ran and found his daughter lying on the ground with a bullet in her bosom. The discovery affected him so much that he fell unconscious across the girl's body. That same night he died. Father and daughter were buried on the same day, several days afterward. On the day of the funeral Captain Tonkhine committed suicide.

CONGRESSMAN HAWLEY IS NO ROOSEVELT MAN

Though He Still Favors Roosevelt Policies, He Says—Makes Statement at Roseburg.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., May 14.—Congressman Willis Chapman Hawley has declared himself in opposition to a third term for President Roosevelt. He was in Roseburg for 20 minutes yesterday on his way to Lakeway to look into the irrigation project there. As he emerged from the Southern Pacific station he made the foregoing statement to a reporter. However, he qualified his assertion by saying he still favored the "Roosevelt policies," whatever that may mean.

As Senator Bourne, according to special frog Washington in Oregon partisan newspapers, has assumed control of the president's campaign for a third term, Mr. Hawley's rather startling declaration is interpreted here to mean that the inner workings of the Oregon delegation do not resemble The Hague peace conference.

THE NEXT BIG MOVEMENT FOR HIGHER WAGES ON THE PART OF THE RAILROAD BROTHERHOODS WILL BE DIRECTED AGAINST THE EASTERN RAIL SYSTEMS, AND THE LEADERS OF 150,000 EMPLOYEES ARE PREPARING TO TAKE JOINT ACTION. EVERY BRANCH OF LABOR WILL BE REPRESENTED WITH THE POSSIBLE EXCEPTION OF THE SWITCHMEN, WHO GOT AN INCREASE LAST FALL.

Society Wedding in Gotham.

(Journal Special Service.)
New York, May 14.—The fashionable St. Bartholomew's church was the scene of a small though notable society wedding this afternoon when Miss Mary Cosine Lefferts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Lefferts, became the bride of Henry Rawle. The bride, who made her debut about three years ago, is related to many old New York families. Mr. Rawle, the bridegroom, was formerly in the navy, but resigned some time ago to engage in business. He is the son of Francis Rawle Sr., president of the American Bar association, and is related to the Draytons, Willings, Cadwaladers and other old Philadelphia families.

To Abolish Courts Martial.

St. Petersburg, May 14.—A bill introduced in the duma, which has for its object the abolition of the drumhead courts-martial, will come up for consideration in the upper house of the Russian parliament tomorrow. Public sentiment demands the repeal of the despotic law, which during the last year has resulted in the execution of nearly 1,200 persons and the imprisonment of almost 1,000 more. The law nominally became a dead letter some time ago, by fiat of Premier Stolypin, but scores of executions imposed under the drumhead system have since taken place.
